Officers of Lexington Grange are: Master, Orville Cutsforth; Secretary, Lena Kelly; Lecturer, Laura Rice; Overseer, Norman Nelson; Chaplain, Alda Troedson; Steward, E. A. Kelly; Assistant Steward, Merle Miller; Treasurer, R. B. Rice; Ceres, Frances Troedson; Pomona, Jessie McCabe; Flora, Ellen Nelson; Gate Keeper, Foster Odom; Lady Assistant Steward, Beulah B. Nichols. The building committee was composed of H. V. Smouse, A. H. Nelson, E. A. Kelly and C. J. D. Bauman.

pany of Salem had their carnival grounds well filled for the three days and the legitimate type of entertainment they provided received much favorable comment. Kaufman's orchestra of Pendleton also proved a popular attraction at the evening dances.

Rich Thompson, Adams; Lawrence Lieuallen, Athena, and Chas. Trowbridge, John Day, were arena judges. John Carter, Long Creek, was head timer; Harry Cofoid, Portland, head race judge, and Tom Williams, Long Creek, race starter. Harold Cohn took over the announcing Saturday and did a good job.

Federal Court Decision Upholds Processing Tax

Recent action of the ninth circuit federal court of appeals in San Francisco has paved the way for continued collection of the processing tax in the jurisdiction of the ninth circuit court not only of wheat but all other basic commodities, the Oregon State college extension service has been informed by AAA officials.

The San Francisco court denied the appeal of the Fisher Flouring Mills company and others from the Seattle federal district court asking for a temporary injunction against the wheat processing tax.

Major A. D. Hadley, adjustment administration attorney at San Francisco, says that the decision "establishes the law in the entire jurisdiction of the ninth circuit court including Oregon, California, Washington, Nevada, Idaho, Montana and Arizona and opens for releasing $834,000 impounded in the Los Angeles and San Francisco courts."

It was also pointed out that the decision will assist in "heating 16 injunctions against the tax already granted in Los Angeles and eight in San Francisco."
