Editorial
The opening weeks of each school year provide an interesting period to watch. Each fall every enrolled student seems in pursuit of one noble goal—a sincere education. For a few days burning enthusiasm carries them along the top of the crest. Then a gradual process of graduation sets in. After the first week a few are noticed to slacken up and to be content with lesser effort. Then more and more are seen to follow the same trend. The power of habitual laxity seems to outweigh "steamed up" determination. After three or four weeks the same old students who worked in the past, shouldering the burdens of class recitations and the "gloryless" work attached to all activities, while the rest "slide by" on any or no excuse, being content with a mere formality.

Burden shifter!
How disgusting it sounds! But, who is the loser? In a few years each will be answering for himself when he finds he has only his past efforts to rely upon.
—H.H.S.—

Support the Team
The high school was dismissed last Friday afternoon at three o'clock for the purpose of attending the first conference game of the season. However, Heppner high school's rooting section was not as well represented as it should have been. This high school needs peping up. Many are excused to go down town or home. Unless they have a good excuse they should attend the game. The team cannot do its best if the rest of the school does not take any interest.

The community also should take an interest in the games. The boys on the team are a part of the community as well as a part of the school. The parents especially should be interested in their children's activities.
Let's all go to the next game and encourage others to go. Don't let the team down! Let's ALL go!

Ski Hat With Scarf

NEW YORK... Creators of hat fashions have solved the lost scarf problem in the clever new ski hat which will be worn this coming winter. The scarf is attached to the top of the hat and falls in folds to be taken around the neck. Hope Hampton (above), brought the style to the U. S.

team accompanied by Mr. Blankenship motored to Hermiston to see a game between the McLaughlin and Hermiston high school teams. It was an interesting game in which the strong Mac HI team emerged victor by a score of 12 to 0. Heppner suffered defeat at the hands of both teams last year, but this year gives much promise of a different story. The boys will be out there to avenge last year's defeats and present a stubborn, slam-bang battle every moment of the way.

Freshman Initiation
Last Friday evening all the freshmen of the high school were congregated at the south end of Main street and forced to march in silence to the school gym where they were initiated into the laws and customs of the high school. Upon entering the gym they were blindfolded and various methods of torture were inflicted upon them, which furnished good entertainment for the audience. The sophomores supervised throughout the entire performance. After the frosh were full-pledged members of the high school, the seniors served some refreshments and the final task of cleaning up fell upon the juniors.

Feature Story
The football players were glad to have Elmer back at practice last Sunday. It was the first workout he has had for several years. He was treated rather roughly, but he never complained. That's Elmer for you—"He can take it." It looked as if he were going to be "out" for a while, but the managers fixed him up and back he came for more. The success of the team depends a lot upon Elmer, and he is of great value to them. Of course you are wondering who Elmer is—well, Elmer is the tackling dummy.

looked as though they were on backward, but it must be just the new fashion. They paraded on the stage in the high school assembly in the morning to display them to the other students.

One of the boys failed to take notice of the latest fashions; he was informed about it and sent into a little room off the stage to change his clothes. He obeyed. Other freshmen sang and made speeches for their laxness in fall attire.

Announcement Extraordinary!
Heppnerites! At last it is your great luck to be able to see, to hear, and to enjoy one of the greatest plays of today. Mark Twain's immortal story, "Huckleberry Finn," adapted to the stage by Roy F. Lewis, will be presented as the annual junior class play, November 22, in the school auditorium. Rehearsals for the play have started, and with the ability and willingness of the class it is a certainty that you will enjoy HUCKLEBERRY FINN.

Teachers' Institute
A heavy atmosphere of gloom hung over the faces of every student when it was learned there would be only four days of school this week due to the teachers' institute. It will be held this Friday at Pendleton, a joint meeting of the teachers from Morrow and Umatilla counties. Joint meetings have been held in the past, and it affords an excellent opportunity to the teachers to hear better speakers, also a wider range of speakers.

Mr. Blankenship, principal of the high school, is scheduled to give a talk on physical education. Mr. Buhman, principal of the grade school, is to be a member of the panel discussion on "A Good Health Program for the Children," and is to talk on the responsibility of the school in the health program.

One of the highlights on the program will be a play reading by Mr.

Humor
There's a bright side to everything. But it gives me no joy or glee, To see the shine upon the suit 'Norton King' since '33.

Miss Peterson: "Why did you spell pneumatic 'newmatic'?"
Howard B.: "Oh, the 'K' on my machine is not working."

Harriet Hager: "Did you get tanned much on your vacation?"
Arlene Morton: "No, mamma lost her slipper."

Jimmy H.: Do you like chorus girls, Emmett?
Emmett K.: And how! The choruser, the better!

"Say, Dad, do you remember that story you told me about when you were expelled from school?"
"Yes."
"Well, I was just thinking, Dad, how true it is that history repeats itself."

Don M.: Are you a golfer, Omer?
Omer Mc: No, why?
Don: Then why are you wearing knickers?
Omer: Well, just because a girl wears a chiffon dress you don't call her a chiffonier, do you?

Riley: Boy, of boy! My shotgun let out a roar and there lay a dead deer in front of me.
Van: How long had it been dead?

Irish Victor
Bang! Off goes the lid from the grid season and Heppner's Jack-in-the-box—"Fighting Irish" football team popped out and snatched a surprise victory from the highly lauded Ione "Red Devils." Fighting stubbornly the Irish displayed a strong offensive that several times carried them deep into scoring territory but there it seemed to bog down. For three and a half quarters the teams maulled each other around in midfield. Then an intercepted pass followed by a long run down the field placed the ball on the four-yard line from where it was punched over for the score. The conversion was successful and the score as it stood at the close was 7-0 in favor of the Irish.

A hand rail on the gymnasium steps is being made for the grade school children to slide down. Richard Hayes is looking forward to the day when it will be completed. Wonder why?
The primary room has a new center of interest this week. The high school Farm Problem class built a new library table for the children in the primary class to display their books on. Additional work of the class has included two book-cases, a music stand of plywood, a conductor's platform and several tie racks.

The first grade people are making their own book about "Little Black Sonbo." The various pictures to be put in the book are displayed on the walls of their room.

Rally
On Thursday evening at 7:30 a rousing group of students from the high school met at the postoffice for the initial rally of the year. Winding up the street in a snaky procession that culminated at the theater, a rip-roaring but orderly throng heralded the opening of the 1935 football season.
