Mrs. Lillian Turner, grade school principal, reports that she was pleasantly surprised last Thursday afternoon by the pupils of her room with an afternoon party, this being the boys' and girls' way of extending birthday greetings to their teacher. The pupils of the room served cake, sandwiches and jello. Mrs. Turner was also surprised to find a delicious birthday cake at her home Wednesday evening, a gift of Mrs. Carl Leathers and Mrs. Blaine Chapel. The high school girls also enjoyed a social hour the same afternoon with Creth Craber, Delcie Bleakman, Charlotte Adams and Dolly Farrens as invited guests. Refreshments of cake, sandwiches and jello were served by the high school.

Folks from here attending the Reaney sale at Lexington were Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Johnson, who purchased a truck, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Steers and son Gus, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Chapel, Herman Neilson and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Burnside.

Editorial

We often hear the old adage, "Tomorrow never comes." Apparently the greater number of us think conversely, "Today never goes." How true it is that we seem content "Today will always be." Thus we formulate the attitude that any difficult enterprise can be threshed out "a little later." No, we don't schedule ahead and provide the time, but merely hope we shall be able to do the task some time before the day ends.

With almost monotonous regularity we find ourselves confronted at the end of the day with a multitude of unfinished duties. As we cannot complete them we let them hang over until the morning, and so it ends. They are never done.

Every moment brings increasing evidence of Time's unceasing march. Day on day rolls on and on until each may truly say: "And I a lonely shadow fleeing through a night."

To mark no pause in Time's departing flight. —E.P.

dents of the first grade have been writing their own stories and illustrating them. After handing them in, they are put into a booklet and placed on their library table where they may be seen in book form.

The second grade has started the study of safety-first rules which will continue for some six weeks. The last week has been devoted especially to the study of traffic rules. They are illustrating the rules, and they are also attaching short, precise slogans to them.

The third grade has started a bit of nature study. They are collecting leaves and pressing them, after which they will be put into a booklet.

The fifth grade citizenship club has appointed monitors. Eugene Massey has been appointed for desk inspection; Billy Snow, monitor for things on top of desks; Claude Snow, waste-paper basket monitor; Neta Rae Bleakman, blackboard monitor; Wilma Eysner, pencil sharpener monitor; and Wade Bothwell, leader of flag salute.

The sixth grade is planning to give the play, "The Mad Hatter," from "Alice in Wonderland." The characters are Lucille Barlow, Claudine Drake, Peggy Tamblin and Billy Scrivner.

The sixth grade is watching a black widow spider, which was captured by one of the students, spin its web.

Sports

Last Friday the Fighting Irish football team of Heppner high journeyed to Fossil where they battled the Fossil high team through four hectic quarters to a scoreless tie. It was a very exciting game with both teams playing hard football but unable to score. Once in the first half, Fossil seriously threatened the Heppner goal line by completing a pass and then running the six yard line but the Fighting Irish held them for no gain two downs and on the third down recovered a fumble after which they punted the ball out of danger.

Heppner's only chance to score came early in the first quarter when they had the ball deep in Fossil territory, but a fumble which Fossil recovered wrecked their chance. The game was featured with long runs made by both teams. Munkers, Fighting Irish quarterback, made some sparkling runbacks of punts and several times nearly got away for touchdowns. The playing of the team showed a decided improvement since the Ione game but there is still room for improvement in blocking and tackling. The game was marked by clean hard playing on both sides. A wholesome and friendly feeling prevailed throughout the contest.

The next game will be with Hermiston here this Friday and should be a real game.

Feature Story

Last Thursday between ten and eleven o'clock, the school was surprised by a fire drill. In spite of the fact that this is not an unusual occasion, the students crowded and pushed one another from the building. This was not because of the fear that there was a real fire. What was it, then? It was merely because they all wanted to see the other students come down the fire escape. All of the students in the assembly are expected to take advantage of the fire escape. The grand slide was concluded when Mr. Bloom made a perfect three-point landing.

Class News

Monday and Tuesday are "poster days" for the Art and Design class. The posters are being made for the football game between Hermiston and Heppner this Friday.

The biology class is starting laboratory work this week including elementary dissections and drawings.

It is rumored that Mr. Pevey found out that the Farm Problems class didn't know half as much as they thought they did.

The public speaking class is preparing to work on debate. They have been making persuasive (?) speeches this past week. The entertaining type will be next.

The class rush will be held Thursday at Rodeo field. This, as most of you already know, is a contest between the sophomores and freshmen. The freshmen hope to win so that they will not have to have a little green pennant hanging in the assembly hall the rest of the year.

Friday, October 11, is the day on which seven junior boys will entertain the student body with a one-act play. This play will be given for entertainment and as punishment for the failure of the characters to wear loud socks on junior loud sock day.

Joint Institute

On Friday, October 4, a joint institute for the teachers of Morrow and Umatilla counties was held at the Pendleton high school.

The Heppner teachers who participated in the program were Mr. Evans, Mr. Blankenship and Mr. Buhman. Mr. Evans gave a dramatic reading written by the Russian author, Anton Chekhov. Mr. Blankenship spoke on the "Correlation of Health Instruction and Physical Education." Mr. Buhman's subject was "A Good Health Program for the Grades."

Among the featured speakers were R. J. Maaske, State Department of Education, Dr. Kenneth Rew, Eastern Oregon State hospital, and Dr. Maxey of Whitman college.

Girls' Sports

The girls' gym class has started taking exercises which will count as credit toward earning a letter. Several of the girls have also hiked and biked; this will also be counted toward earning a letter.

Five girls are dismissed from gym class each day so they may go to the doctor for their physical examination.

Gym periods for the past week have been spent playing indoor baseball, and this will continue as long as the weather permits.

LESSONS NEARLY DONE, BOB? HOW ABOUT THE MOVIES?
SWELL, I CAN DO 'EM IN RECORD TIME NOW WITH THIS DANDY LAMP
HOMEWORK GETS DONE FASTER AND BETTER WITH AN I.E.S. BETTER SIGHT LAMP
Is your child reluctant to do his homework? If he is, the fault may be with the lighting under which he works. For poor lighting makes his homework unnecessarily difficult. It increases eyestrain and fatigue, which eventually may result in defective vision.
The only way to be certain about your lighting is to have it checked with a sight meter. Then you will know not only how much light you have now, but also how much you should have for every type of visual task. Ask our nearest office to have one of our home lighting experts call at your home and make this sight meter test. Let our expert advise you about your lamps, too, and tell you more about the new sight-saving I.E.S. lamps. This service is given without charge or obligation. Please phone or write for it today.
