

LEXINGTON

By BEULAH B. NICHOLS.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Leach and daughter, Miss Veva Leach, of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Nichols of Fuyalup, Wash., spent Thursday visiting with relatives in this city. They were on their way home from an extended trip through southern and eastern states. They visited the birthplace of Mrs. Leach and Mr. Nichols in Mississippi where they found that the old home had burned several years ago and a new house has been erected. They picked some cotton from the fields of this place and brought it home with them. After visiting in the south they went on up the Atlantic coast as far as Washington, D. C. They returned home by way of Michigan where Mr. Nichols purchased a new car.

Father's Day was observed at the Christian church Sunday with a short program following the Bible school hour. Dr. and Mrs. G. S. Hoffman and daughter Jeanne of Union were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Campbell. R. H. Lane was a business visitor in Portland this week. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pomeroy and two daughters, Joyce and Wanda, of Ostrander, Wash., visited relatives here last week. Mr. and Mrs. George McMillan who have been visiting Lexington relatives have returned to their home at Cherryville. They were accompanied by their niece, Mrs. Claude Hill. Alta Cutsforth and Beulah Nichols returned Tuesday evening from a week's vacation spent at Portland, Monmouth and Corvallis.

Vernon Warner and Vernon Scott are spending the week in Portland. Mrs. Viola Ward left this week for Corvallis where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Eldon Winkley, before going on to California to spend the winter. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Tucker of Grandview, Wash., who came over to attend the funeral of Mrs. Tucker's mother, Mrs. Nancy Robison, visited relatives in this city before returning home. Mrs. James Cowins of Heppner spent Tuesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Allyn.

Fercy Conner came up from Oregon City Sunday to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Nancy Robison. Lexington grange will give a dance at their hall on Saturday, November 15. Music will be furnished by Branstetter's orchestra of Echo. A large number of Lexington grange members attended the state grange officers' conference at Ione Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Miller spent last week in Corvallis where Mr. Miller went to attend a meeting of the state grain board which met to make plans for the new AAA contracts.

The elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gerard fell from a chair Monday and sprained his arm quite badly. He was taken to Heppner to a physician. Mrs. Jesse Smith and Mrs. Joe Cannon of Athena spent the week end with friends in Lexington. Miss Betty Skyies was a visitor in Portland over the week end. It was noticed that no Halloween pranks were played in this city last Thursday night and the citizens of this community are appreciative of the good judgment shown by the youngsters in not damaging property.

The Lexington Home Economics club will meet at the grange hall next Thursday, November 14, to work on articles for the bazaar which is to be held in the near future. A pot luck lunch will be served. Mrs. Ray Johnson is confined to her home with measles.

LETTER WRITTEN ON YELLOW RIVER, HERE

The first day was exciting. We passed into the gorge below Lanchow a few hours, and had a roaring time until we landed at 3:30 P. M., the raftsmen all tired out. There we dropped half our crew, requiring only one man at each oar from there on. We struck a rock wall on our way through, and evidently cracked an oar, for a few minutes later the waves beat the thing in two, and then it was a grand tussle in the rough water (it was like being on a snake's back) to get the extra oar in place, and it was done none too soon.

I thought we would have much spare time, so had a little square board cut out at Lanchow, and have painted squares on it in red from a little tube of cheap ($0.07) paint I got in a shop at Lanchow. It is serving now as a letter desk, but we may play some checkers yet. Yesterday morning we stopped where there were a lot of camels and Mongolians—a sort of tax office place. While the "rafters" paid tax we rambled about. I was down the bank of a canal and started in a bee line for the raft. Coming over the bank I saw a pile of straw in my path. Crash! The straw was a cover to a dug-out in the sand that formed a temporary shelter for the Mongol cameleers. Everyone laughed except the two who were cooking directly in front of the shelter. The next time I see a pile of straw on top of a bank, I'll send in my calling card.

Ruth got hold of a little black felt hat, the German helmet kind that were popular about 7 or 8 years ago. She converted it into this afternoon into a chic hat for Miss Birrel. She cut the long sides into strips and braided them to form an ornament ending in a small bow at the back. It is clever. I think I told you how she fixed a nice one for Mrs. Derk and one for herself. Hers was a hopeless red felt, but now it is an up-to-date turban with "fixins." The ladies expect to take Ploping by storm. The men (raftsmen) have been sleeping in their skins nearly all

The high school boys football squad suffered defeat by a score of 6-0 when they played Arlington high school at Arlington last Friday afternoon. It was the last game of the season, and the best game played by the team this year.

Basketball practice starts officially on November 12. So far about twenty games are scheduled for the boys team.

The senior play, "The Pajama Girl," will be presented Friday, Nov. 15, at 8 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bergevin with their daughter and son, Betty and Denward, accompanied by Helen Lundell, motored to Gibbon, Ore., on Sunday where they joined other members of the family at a surprise dinner given in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Louis Bergevin, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Linn returned from Condon on Sunday where they had spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howk. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ekleberry accompanied by their grandchildren,

Bobby and Mary Ellen, departed Wednesday for Salem to be with Mr. and Mrs. Rood Ekleberry from whom they had heard of a recurrence of the serious illness of their oldest child, Anna May. Little Anna May who has been ill for some time had responded so well to medical treatment received since the family has been in Salem that it was hoped her recovery was assured. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Blake of Kinzua visited here from Friday until Sunday.

F. E. Denton who has been relief depot agent here the past two weeks departed Tuesday for his home in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Zielke and son Fredrick of Huntington arrived on Friday to make their home here. Mr. Zielke is the depot agent sent here to fill the place left vacant by J. W. Howk. They will make their home in the residence property of Mr. and Mrs. Howk.

Mrs. Agnes Wilcox was called to Gresham on Saturday by the serious illness of her father, George Currin. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Denny took her as far as The Dalles. Twelve members of the Womens Topic club were present at the November study meeting for which Mrs. Lana Padberg was hostess at her home in town last Saturday afternoon. The magazine, "The National Geographic Monthly," was reviewed by Mrs. Louis Bergevin, Mrs. Roy Feeley and Mrs. Earl Elks. The reported trips of Amos Burg, Oregon explorer, were used for subject matter. Mrs. Feeley gave a short report of "Modern Ethiopia" from a copy of the Geographic. During the program Junior Mason gave a very interesting account of his summer trip east with other members of the Blue Mountain council Boy Scouts. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Ella Davidson was present as a guest. Mrs. Flora Dimmick and Mrs. Josie Jarn were guests at the D. M. Ward farm over the week end.

J. C. Walker, accompanied by his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edile Walker, moved his household effects to Lexington last Tuesday where they will make their future home. Best wishes of the community go with Mr. Walker to his new home. A masquerade party was an event of Halloween night at the Kistler building. The high school boys and girls were hosts. Many were cleverly masked. Rita Robinson, Vern McDaniel received first prize for the best sustained characters, representing a bride and groom. Richard Robison, Delvin McDaniel were given second prize as negro characters.

Melba Burnside, Mildred Clary won third prize masked as brownies. The Christian Endeavor society entertained with a taffy pull after meeting hour last Sunday evening. Most of the young people of the community were present. Leslie Brannon, Burt Burnside returned from Hood River last week where they have been picking apples and working for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Johnson, Mrs. Corda Saling were visiting friends and relatives here one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. Ethel McDaniel and Lea Robinson were shopping in Heppner last Monday. Elwood Hastings arrived home

Sunday from Lonerock where he has been working for several months at the Cal Robison ranch. Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bleakman and Miss Zetta, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Chapel were Heppner visitors one day last week. Winter weather, with some snow and zero weather, prevailed most of last week.

PINE CITY

The Pine City carnival Friday night was a great success. In spite of the cold weather, a large crowd attended. After the program in the auditorium, which included skits, songs, recitations and tap dancing, everyone gathered in the school house where they enjoyed the various chance booths and lunch counter, until about midnight. Approximately $56 was taken in. A group of the students and Miss Brennan and Miss Gibbons, two of the teachers, met at the school house Saturday morning to clean up the buildings after the carnival. Roy Neill was a business visitor in Heppner Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ayers and family visited at the Marion Finch home Sunday afternoon. A Rural Teachers club meeting was held at the local auditorium Saturday. A pot luck dinner was served at noon. Miss Alma Neill who has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. Charley Plourd, for the last week returned home Friday evening. Mrs. Lucy E. Rodgers was a dinner guest at the W. D. Neill home Friday evening, and attended the carnival. Mr. and Mrs. Marion Finch attended a grange meeting at Lena Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison and son Johnny Edward, Mr. and Mrs.

C. H. Bartholomew, Miss Cecelia Brennan and Miss Norma Gibbons attended the show in Hermiston Sunday. Those from Pine City transacting business in Hermiston Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Estle and son F. J., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Helms and daughters, Charlotte, Henrietta and Harriet, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ayers and family. Emery Cox is working at the Gaylord Madison place.

ALFALFA HAY.

Sheepmen, if you want to be safe when cold weather sets in, buy your alfalfa hay now. I have 600 tons of bright green, leafy hay; no weeds of any kind in it. One ton of choice hay is two tons of poor hay. I can furnish loose hay and feed yds. or baled hay, chopped hay or alfalfa meal. E. C. Burlingame, Walla Walla.

The Nakomis Camp Fire group met yesterday evening, with the president, Shirley Wilson, calling the meeting to order. Requirements for Wood Gatherers rank were discussed and honors in Nature Craft were picked out for the girls to work on. Names were discussed, and preparations made for making head bands.

IRRIGON

MRS. W. C. ISOM. Mrs. J. Swearingen who has been visiting her mother in Wallowa returned Thursday. Mrs. Harris of Portland is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell. Chester Wilson was in town with a load of potatoes from Yakima on Tuesday. Mr. Reeves, rural mail carrier, was off duty several days last week with a severe cold. H. C. Warner is busy these days taking the school census. Joe Byers left for his home in Washington Tuesday. Eugene Lamoreaux who has been working near Yakima for some time came home Thursday. George Hendrix who has been away for some time returned on Tuesday. The high school students of Irrigon were guests at a Halloween party at Boardman Friday night given in their honor by the Boardman students. A splendid time was reported. Business visitors in Hermiston from Irrigon Thursday were Mrs. Jess Oliver, Walter Grider, H. C. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Russell McCoy and Mrs. Earl Isom. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kendler, Sr., and Geo. Kendler, Jr., of Umatilla were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Isom Wednesday evening. Mrs. Nettie Flower of Heppner has been visiting her cousin, W. C. Isom, and family the past week. They motored to Pendleton Tuesday on business. John Volle motored to Heppner Saturday. Mrs. Flower accompanied him home. NOTICE TO CREDITORS. Notice is hereby given that Mrs. C. E.
