Outstanding Season Completed The game last Saturday when the CCC boys defeated the Fighting Irish by a score of 7-6, brought to an end an otherwise successful football season.

Coach Blankenship and his Fighting Irish began the football season by winning their first game. The order in which the games were played this year was:

Sept. 27, Ione at Heppner, 7-0 in favor of Heppner. Oct. 2, Fossil at Fossil, 0-0. Oct. 11, Hermiston at Heppner, 13-0, in favor of Heppner. Oct. 19, Condon at Heppner, 13-0, in favor of Heppner. Oct. 25, Ione at Ione, 6-20, in favor of Heppner.

The games with Mac-Hi and Condon, scheduled for Nov. 2 and Nov. 9, were called off because of diphtheria in Heppner.

The boys that made up this year's outstanding football team were: Backfield, Len Gilman, Riley Munkers, La Verne Van Marter and William McRoberts; ends, Howard Furlong and Jimmy Driscoll; guards, Boyd Redding and James Farley; centers, Ray Coblantz and Larry Forgy; tackles, William McCaleb and Howard Bryant.

Coach Blankenship worked hard in order to get his boys in shape for the games. Every evening after school, the football squad donned suits and went out to the field for practice, where they worked hard in order to improve their respective positions in the team. If the student body had given the support that they should have to the coach, who turned out a team to be proud of, and to the boys that made up that team, we might be able to say, "We did our part." But, we did not do our part. Let us give more support to the basketball team, and we may sincerely hope to be as proud of that team as we are of the Fighting Irish football team.

Grade School News The first graders are starting their ABC books. They are making and illustrating them by themselves. They are also working on the Mother Goose project; that is, they are studying their favorite nursery rhymes. Bill Earles from Joseph, Oregon, is a newly enrolled member of the first grade.

The second grade reports having lost one of their class members. He is Merle Coxen, who has moved to Toledo, Oregon.

The third grade is making shadow plays from shoe boxes for Thanksgiving entertainment.

The fourth grade is making a Pilgrim sandtable.

Armistice Day Program The annual Armistice Day program was presented at the Heppner school gymnasium last Friday afternoon. The entire school was dismissed at 2:30 in order to attend the program. The opening numbers were "America" and "Keep the Home Fires Burning," sung by the whole assembly and led by Miss Leathers, accompanied by Marjorie Parker. Jesse Turner was the main speaker this year. Numbers by the grade school included: "Flag of My Land," by Katherine Nys, Margaret Tamblyn, Kay Ferguson and Merle Burkenbine. This was from the sixth grade. The fifth grade recited, and the first grade dramatized "Flag Etiquette." The fourth grade gave a military flag drill. The third grade sang "There are Many Flags of Many Lands." There were other songs sung by the upper grades and led by Miss Leathers. The closing numbers were "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag." The program was announced by Buddy Blakeley. Everyone reported the program to be very interesting. We also appreciate the attendance of the mothers that were able to be there and hope they will continue to come to the programs which the school presents.

Class News The annual frosh return party was held last Friday evening at the gymnasium. It was given by the frosh in honor of the sophomore class. The games played were Three Deep, Flying Dutchman, and the Nuts, the Squirrel and the Tree. The most unique game of the evening was a race between two chosen sides to transfer a dozen pieces of macaroni to a given line in a spoon held in the mouth. After the games cocoa and cake were served.

The typing I classes are taking time tests for accuracy. Both classes of the Home Economics department are going to begin the cooking unit this week.

Boys' Sports Last Friday the Heppner high school lost a hard fought game to the Heppner CCC camp football team. The Irish were outweighed but not out fought. Heppner, led by Len Gilman, scored first, but came out on the short end of a 7-6 score.

Interclass basketball is being played this week. The powerful junior squad is favored to finish with the championship of Heppner Hi in their grasp.

Basketball practice begins next Monday with a likely looking group of basketball artists on hand. The team must be rounded into shape in a short time. There is a tentative basketball game set for November 27.

Humor Have You Ever— Seen Dora and Ellis star gazing? Heard Mr. Bloom tell the American History class how many bushels of corn it takes to make twenty gallons of whiskey?

Seen Bethal Blake's new boy friend? Seen the looks of dismay on the girls' faces?—Larry F. is leaving. Seen Jean Adkins make a three point landing? Seen Lola Coxen in the assembly? Heard Mr. Evans ask if the humor is funny?

Norton: There must be some mistake in my examination grade; I didn't deserve a zero. Mr. Evans: I didn't think so, either, but it is the lowest grade I can give.

Club News Last Wednesday Neva Bleakman and Ray Coblantz were initiated into the Benzine Ring.

It was decided to have a banquet at the school and the temporary date was set as Friday, Nov. 29. The members on the food committee are LaVerne Van Marter, Steve Wehmeyer, Bernard McMurdo and Betty Doherty.

It was voted that an outside speaker would be invited once every month to come in and give a talk. There hasn't been any special speaker decided upon as yet.

The new members are to prepare a program to be given at the next meeting. Arlene Morton gave an interesting report on "Neon Signs." Jackson Gilliam talked on the new city in Lapland and Steve Wehmeyer gave a demonstration for chlorides.

Don't Be Impatient We know you can hardly wait to see the junior class plan, "Huckleberry Finn." Don't be impatient; it will be presented Nov. 22, at the Heppner school gym. The cast has been doing a great deal of practicing for the past six weeks, so we will guarantee that you will get your money's worth when you come to see it. You have all read the story of "Huckleberry Finn" by Mark Twain. You remember it was one laugh after another. Just imagine, then, how it will be to see those favorite characters act. You will enjoy the play twice as much as the book and everyone has read the book at least twice. Come and see how Huck gets out of the scrapes he somehow manages to get into.

There Is No Substitute for Quality--- IF people who buy cheap things would some day stop and put their experience through a cross-examination, they would undoubtedly be startled by the extravagance they have unconsciously imposed upon themselves. They would see that though they paid less to buy, the saving was wiped out several times over through poor results. Genuine savings come only through quality; for quality is the thing of which service was born. Quality gives to an article the ability to perform in the finest degree all of the good things expected of it. Quality makes the user happy every time he thinks of the day of his purchase. It keeps him in a sunny spirit while using it. It is the unquestioned preference of everyone who refuses to sell the value of his satisfaction for a mere difference in price to buy. Price simply gives possession. But quality makes that possession a thing of marvelous worth. WILSON'S THE STORE OF PERSONAL SERVICE
