

Local Happenings

E. F. Bloom, school superintendent, Alton Blankenship, coach, and Claude Brown, LaVerne Van Marter, James Farley and Don Turner, members of the high school football team, motored to Seattle the end of the week for the U. of W-U. of O. football game which Oregon won 7-6. They went via Yakima and Snoqualmie pass and returned via Portland, Sunday. In Portland, an inebriated man stepped in front of their car, and Mr. Bloom, driving, could not avoid hitting him. There was no serious damage and the local driver was exonerated of blame, but it was an exciting moment of the trip. The boys got a big thrill from the game, and young Turner brought home a piece of the Oregon duck exhibited at mid-period, as a souvenir of the game.

Burton H. Peck, veteran wheat-raiser of the Lexington section, was transacting business in the city Saturday evening. He was not greatly alarmed about damage done to fall sown wheat by the recent cold snap. Arco and Federation varieties appear to have been hurt some, while the Turkey Red is apparently unscathed in his district.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Barratt and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Belanger went to Canyon City the end of the week to attend the annual convention of Grant County Cattle Raisers' association. Mr. Barratt, president of Oregon Wool Growers association, and Mr. Belanger, county agent, report a good meeting.

Hugh Snyder, former manager of Union Oil company's local office, accompanied Jesse V. Andrews, district deputy grand exalted ruler, B. P. O. Elks, from La Grande Thursday evening and enjoyed visiting old friends. Mr. Snyder is now with the La Grande office of the company.

Matt Hughes entered Heppner hospital Tuesday suffering a severe illness. His son, Emmet Hughes, McMinnville druggist, made a hurried trip Monday in response to word of his illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Ashbaugh and children spent the week end in La Grande where they were called by the serious illness of Mr. Ashbaugh's mother, Mrs. Ellen Ashbaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Majeske of the north Lexington district were shopping in the city Tuesday. Wheat prospects have brightened in their section with the good rains this week.

Charles Randall, Pendleton attorney, and Homer I. Watts, attorney of Athena, were in the city Tuesday arguing a case in equity in the court of Judge W. T. Campbell.

Mrs. Helen Le Trace was taken to Portland the end of the week by Phelps ambulance, entering a hospital for treatment by specialists for a severe illness.

Judge James A. Fee of Pendleton was a business visitor in the city Saturday, accompanied by Mr. Williams, deputy U. S. marshal at Portland.

Harvey Miller of Lexington departed Saturday for Corvallis to attend a meeting of the state grain board of which he is a member.

Bert P. Stone, for many years harness maker in this city who now resides at Pendleton, was a business visitor in the city Tuesday.

H. L. Duvall, north Lexington wheatraiser, received word Tuesday of the death of his father at St. Joseph, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Bubb returned home Sunday evening from a short business trip to Portland.

please. And pass the cranberry sauce. Thank you!

Yes, today is the day of all great days that best speaks for the great soul of America: Do we hearken to it with the same spirit that caused the New England forefathers to celebrate the original? Does it mean more to us than a mere banquet occasion? Or, are its greatest values in our eyes a mere formality and an established precedent that have not definite connection with an America of today?

If the world about us is pleasing, fine, and grand, we should at least reflect in thankfulness that our forefathers sacrificed a lot to give us the world of today. Set aside by ourselves without their influence we would be extremely hopeless.

If the world to us is dull, colorless, and distasteful, we can at least be thankful that the fault lies, not as we presume in all that it, but in our minds and hearts that have been warped by wrong thought. We must not blame on "Fate" or Providence the ills of life that we deem unjust but rather—

"Know then ourselves" presume not.

The proper study of mankind is man. (Pope)

In original—"Know, then thyself."

Benzine Ring
A Benzine Ring meeting was held last Wednesday evening at 7:30 for the initiation of Ernest Clark. A talk on the objects of the Benzine Ring was given by Mr. Pevey. Miss Rockhold gave a talk on etiquette. The date for the banquet was set for December 6.

Girls' League
The Girls' League had a meeting Friday afternoon. The meeting was opened with the singing of the Heppner Loyalty song. They discussed ways of raising funds. They decided to sell candy at the games.

A council meeting was announced for Monday. It was decided that each class was to give a skit before the Assembly some time during the year.

The senior girls gave a skit showing the right and wrong way of showing hospitality. This was followed by an interesting talk, also on hospitality by Mrs. Blankenship.

Besides selling candy at the games, the girls decided to sell souvenirs.

under way, this being its second week. The first week was spent in learning the fundamentals, but now offensive and defensive work is being practiced in getting ready for the game with Pilot Rock over there the Wednesday of this week. As Pilot Rock has played several games already this season, it will be a very hard game.

The Fighting Irish will be somewhat handicapped due to the small basketball squad and also because Len Gilman, captain of the team, will be unable to play until the broken leg he received while playing in the football game against the CCC boys is healed, which will be quite some time. The starting lineup is not yet known because several combinations have been tried in practice and as yet none of the positions are definite.

The letterman from last year's squad who are back this year are as follows: Jim Driscoll, William McRoberts, Howard Furlong, Len Gilman and La Verne Van Marter. There is much raggedness displayed in practice, but this is always prevalent at the start of the season. As soon as this is polished off and the faults are ironed out, which is accomplished by hard practice, the Fighting Irish should have a very successful season.

Class News

Mr. Pevey showed the General Science class how to use the fire extinguisher last week. They built a small fire in the field and he gave them a demonstration on how to put it out with the fire extinguisher from the gym.

The Home Economics class is fixing up the dining room and kitchen so it will be more home-like in preparation for finishing the semester with cooking.

The shorthand class will start taking short periods of timed dictation next week preparatory to working up speed in taking shorthand notes.

The senior class members are proudly showing off their class rings which they received last week. The bookkeeping class is taking up the study of special journals.

Heppner Student in U. of O. Band

The student body of Heppner high is very proud of Joe Green, a member of last year's senior class. Joe is a freshman at the University of Oregon and has been accepted for a place in the university band. This is an honor for a freshman, and shows the result of his school training and practice. He has traveled to Portland and Seattle with the band so far this fall.

Grade News

The first grade have been illustrating a story of the Pilgrims to put in their newspaper. Their room is decorated with illustrations of "Hye Diddle Diddle." They have accomplished this with some coloring but mostly with pieces of cloth pasted on the pictures.

Next Wednesday the third grade plans to put on two plays, "The Pilgrims" and "What We Have to be Thankful for Today." The fourth grade gave a Book program Friday afternoon. The mothers and friends were invited to attend. The entertainment was as follows: A number by the rhythm band, a puppet show, geography motion picture show, a play in which each character was taken from some book the children had read, and everyone joined in a song at the close. The entire program was carried on by the children without the help of the teacher. The fifth grade room is decorated with pictures and drawings for Thanksgiving.

Humor

Mr. Evans: Norton, I think that joke is silly.
Norton: Well, that's some consolation at least.

Have you ever seen:
The new class rings on the fingers of the proud seniors?
The new girl in school?
The connection between the Editor and Assistant Editor?
The CCC boys strut up and down the highway with 22 rifles?
Dora Bailey and Louise Anderson in cute short dresses?
Bill McCaleb take it on the chin?
A better play than "Huckleberry Finn"?

Look of importance that has begun to show on the face of the graduating seniors?
The look of anticipation upon the faces of the townspeople as they think of the damage they're going to inflict upon a certain turkey this Thursday?

Your eyes will thank you for lamps like these!

Any lamp that bears the I.E.S. tag is considerate of your eyes. It gives adequate, glareless light which enables you to see without effort. It eliminates the harmful contrast of bright lamp and dark room by sending part of its light to the ceiling. Its proportions are very graceful. It is always made of high-grade materials. For a real lamp bargain, look for the approval tag.

New 3-Lite I. E. S. lamps ideal for young and old Science has proved that children and older people need more light than average adults. That's why the new Semi-Indirect Floor Lamps are so beneficial to their eyes. They can turn the switch and get 100,000 or 300 watts of light, whichever is the most comfortable. Besides being light-saving, these lamps are very attractive. Standards are richly finished in either bronze or ivory and gold. Shades are beautifully designed.

$13.95 up

STUDY-LITE BEARS I. E. S. APPROVAL TAG

This Pin-Up has all the better light features that make the floor and table model I.E.S. lamps such wonderful reading lights. But this lamp hangs on the wall like other Pin-Ups and takes up no floor or table space. The cast aluminum bracket is made in charming classic design. The shade is wide and very light reflecting.

Price—$6.45

STUDY AND READING LAMPS GIVE SOFT GLARELESS LIGHT

I.E.S. Study and Reading Lamps are available in both floor and table models. Either type gives plentiful, diffused light that permits all using them to see without eyestrain. These lamps are very handsome. Shades and standards come in a number of attractive colors and designs.

The table model illustrated above has a parchment shade and bronze finish standard. The price is $6.95

The floor model at right has a gold and ivory standard, and the shade is silk-over-parchment. The inside of the shade is specially treated so that it reflects twice as much light as an ordinary shade. The opal glass diffusing bowl between shade and bulb softens the light so that there is minimum glare from shiny paper surfaces. It also reflects some of the light to the ceiling for general illumination. Prices on floor model Study and Reading lamps being at $9.95
