

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klinger were in the city yesterday from the north Lexington farm. They had not been to town for several weeks, due to inclement weather. Their farm is all in wheat this year and growing prospects are good, though more moisture will be needed later. Usually among the county's largest producers of turkeys, they have not gone into the turkey business so far this year.

Floyd Gammell visited at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gammell, over the week end, coming over from Baker where he is working. His father and brother Eldon took him by car as far as Pendleton Sunday on the return trip. Floyd said it was a treat to be out of the snow for a little while.

Miss Evelyn Humphreys departed Sunday afternoon for Los Angeles where she goes to accept an accounting position with a dental clinic. For several months she has held a similar position in Albany. Her father, T. J. Humphreys, and sister, Miss Leta Humphreys, took her by car as far as The Dalles.

Barney McDevitt, pioneer rancher of Juniper canyon, was transacting business in the city Saturday, the first time he had been to town since the Christmas season. Roads were badly cut up down his way when the snow water ran off, but growing conditions were reported as excellent.

Mrs. Millen Huffman, formerly Miss Charlotte Wood who taught in the local high school a few years ago, is the house guest for a fortnight of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Thompson, Jr., having arrived the first of the week from her home at Neotoma on the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Alfred motored to Silverton for the week end, returning home Sunday evening. Mr. Alfred recently opened a law office in the Humphreys building, having formerly resided at Silverton where he was justice of the peace.

J. O. Turner made a business trip to Spokane and adjacent points the end of the week, returning home Saturday night. He reported an abundance of water in the Spokane country, with generally good growing conditions prevailing.

Russell Wright has announced his intentions of marrying Miss Jessie Barculo of Spokane, reports The Lampost, local CCC publication. Mr. Wright, a leader, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus Wright of Lexington.

Mrs. N. M. Johnson and baby daughter were trading in the city Tuesday from the farm home on Dry Fork. Conditions there were reported as favorable with spring sunshine bringing forth the grain and grass.

Glen Hadley was in the city Monday from his home at Boardman. Things are looking mighty good on the project, he said. One thing certain, there's no better place on earth to live, was his assertion.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Huston of Eight Mile were business visitors in the city Monday. Crop prospects in their section are improving rapidly with the arrival of spring weather.

Mrs. F. S. Parker returned home Monday from a tour of eastern Oregon towns with officers of the state Christian Women's Board of Missions of which Mrs. Parker is one.

Martin Stewart returned to Heppner last week from a CCC camp near McMinnville where he cooked during the winter, and has gone to work for R. A. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Allyn of Lexington visited Tuesday evening in Heppner at the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. G. Cowins.

Mrs. E. S. Duran of Lexington was a visitor in the city Saturday.

Bert Mason, Coach George Tucker and members of the high school basketball team were among those folk taking in the basketball tournament the end of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frim Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Stevenson and Guy Cason were among Arlington folk attending the basketball tournament Saturday night.

Millard D. Rodman, project manager with the local SCS camp, recently resigned his position as state representative to devote all his time to his work.

Fred Hoskins, sports enthusiast of Rhea creek, was among the crowd of interested spectators at the basketball tournament Saturday.

Mrs. James Monahan underwent an appendectomy at a local hospital Monday evening, and is reported to be making good recovery.

Alex Wilson is reported as improving from a severe attack of erysipelas for which he was taken to a local hospital this week.

Tom Ayers, pioneer resident of the Echo district, was enjoying a visit with old-time friends while in the city Tuesday.

W. F. Honey, Morrow county landholder from Gresham, and son John were business visitors in the city Saturday.

Dr. J. P. Stewart, Eye-Sight Specialist of Pendleton will be at the Heppner Hotel on Wednesday, March 18th.

Herb Olden and Walter Dobyns were business visitors in the city yesterday from the Eight Mile farm.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Miller Huston at their home in Eight Mile last Tuesday, a 9-pound daughter.

Mrs. Zoe Bauernfeind of Morgan was a business visitor in the city Saturday.

Mrs. George Krebs of Cecil was a visitor in the city last Thursday evening.

Editorial
Last week end the tournament for District 13-B was held here. The turn-outs were not very large but the best was made of it. Much credit should be given students for their support for they turned out commendably for all the games.
A player, unknown to the author, in his estimation deserves a medal. The player stopped in the heat of the contest to help a fallen opponent to his feet. The player stopped at the expense of his team, but his thought was of good sportsmanship and not of taking undue advantage of the other team. To see a game would indeed be a pleasure if more players were like this.
We should all display good sportsmanship in all walks of life. We all need to take inventory of ourselves and then to polish up our sportsmanship in the places we find it lacking.

Champion for Today
Two by two the teams appeared one by one they fell, until at last there remained but a single unbeaten aggregation—now champion. Impressive, grandiose, and a little awe inspiring, each team, dressed in their best.

DOCTORS KNOW

Mothers read this:
THREE STEPS TO RELIEVING CONSTIPATION
I. A cleansing dose today, a smaller quantity tomorrow, less each time, until bowels need no help at all.
Why do people come home from a hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?
The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowel worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use a liquid laxative.
If you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the secret of any real relief from constipation.
Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that can form no habit, even in children. So, try Syrup Pepsin. You just take regulated doses till Nature restores regularity.

ed in flashing colors, so impressed one's mind amid the excitement that each victor of the first day seemed a certain champion. So perfect, so ideal, so unbeatable, they seemed in their first glory, that the excited minds of the rooters lauded first one and then another as the gem of all those competing. Yet, ere long, most of these were to taste the stinging lash of defeat, and for them no longer were there words of praise, but rather words of sympathy. The graceful and brilliant coordination that had earned them, at first, plaudits from the admiring throng, was now shattered by the rise of another that was still greater.
So it goes—the champion of today will tomorrow be replaced.

Operetta
"Laugh and jest the hours away, For there's no time for gloom." No two lines quite so fittingly describe the operetta, "The Gypsy Rover," as do these two. This year's operetta is packed with comedy for those who like comedy, music for those who like music, and acting for those who like acting. Imagine getting all these things in one evening's performance. It will certainly be worth your money to see it the 27th of March in the high school gymnasium.

Boys' Sports
Coach Blankenship reports that the basketball contest of the gym teams will be completed this week. The baseball tournament will begin this week for the pitchers and catchers. The seventh grade was defeated by the eighth grade last Thursday evening, with a score of six to four.

Club News
A student body assembly will be held Friday afternoon with the Girls' League in charge of the program.
At the last meeting of the Benzine Ring a unanimous vote was taken that the new constitution, which was read by Mr. Pevey, would be accepted. An invitation to membership was also extended to Lola Osborn.

Grade News
The third grade pupils are collecting pictures of different kinds of foods to illustrate their study of foods.
The fourth grade is planning a little Dutch farm. This project will consist of buildings, furniture, farm animals and two little Dutch dolls. All of the material will be made of wood or soap.

Billy Bucknum, who is in the fifth grade, has moved to Pendleton.
The seventh and eighth grade boys will have a basketball game with the Lexington boys Friday after school.

Class News
The debaters from the high school to meet at Pendleton next Saturday have been chosen as follows: Scott McMurdo and William McCaleb, negative; Irene Beamer and Ernest Clark, affirmative.

Last Thursday the General Science class took a hike during their class period. They were studying the soil composition found on the hillside and that found along the creek bed and comparing the two.

They also studied the rock formation and looked for the early spring flowers.
The American History class has been studying the comparison of the campaign of 1896 and the campaign of 1936.
The arithmetic class will take occupations the remaining part of the year.
The Biology and Chemistry classes are both making plans for open house exhibits.

The Farm Problems class has concluded theoretical work with the study of physical concept of work and horse power. They are now working on a Ford motor, which will be set up in the shop on a wooden horse. Part of the class has designed and is constructing a two-wheeled trailer. On Tuesday afternoon the Farm Problems class will set out some Irish tubers and tulip bulbs supplied by Mr. Pevey. Further work on the school yard will be done as soon as further contributions are made by the townspeople.

The Algebra class is concluding the study of factoring this week and will next consider graphs.

Girls' Sports
The girls' gym class welcomed the warm weather last week when they were allowed to play outdoor baseball. All the girls were divided into four teams each gym class evening with no definite captains being chosen.
Ethyl Hughes refereed a basketball game Thursday evening between the high school second team and the eighth grade girls. The high school girls won by a score of 31-13.
