Heppner Band to Enter Contest

Twenty-five members of the Heppner school band will leave by automobile early Friday morning for Corvallis, where they will participate in the state band contest. This will be the second year of competition for the local band. A very creditable showing was made last year, and it is felt that this year the band will better their last year's performance.

All schools participating are grouped, according to their size, in one of four classes, A. B. C. or D. Wednesday.

Because of its size, the Heppner —H.H.S. grouped, according to their size, in Because of its size, the Hepnner band will enter class D. Last year Burns was the winner in this division. If a band of B, C, or D class wins first place for three successive years, it is automatically graduated to the next class. If a school is champion in A class competition for three successive years, its privilege of taking part in the state con-test is revoked for one year.
