Official Paper for Morrow County

County Needs Him.

Recognized leader by being twice elected to the presidency of Oregon Wool Growers association, as well as being selected to many positions of local trust and prominence, J. G. Barratt should have the wholehearted support of Morrow county for election to the post of state senator.

Far from being provincial, Barratt showed his broadmindedness and capability for coping with affairs of state in his service during the last special legislative assembly when he served as appointee of the Union-Umatilla-Morrow county courts to take the place of Jack Allen, resigned.

Barratt is a young man, full of grit and determination, innately honest, and with courage to support his convictions. He has a background of practical training through several years' operation of one of the district's largest sheep outfits.

It was with reluctance and only because he felt it a matter of civic duty that Barratt consented to become a candidate, feeling that he could ill afford the time taken from his business.

He is deserving not only of one hundred percent support by Morrow counties, but of the support of the entire district. This paper takes pleasure in recommending him to voters in Union and Umatilla counties whom he may not be able to contact because of the time his other duties demands.

The Soul Responds.

For years Bill Murphy and Tom Haslett, half brothers, resided alone and considerably apart in their small farm cabin down in the "Sands," quite content to live a plain, peaceful existence.

for the kitchen, the first thing to notice is the amount of light and sunlight. If the room has light coming in from the south or west, it is advisable to select cool colors, such as green, blue, cream, white or gray, for the dominating color.

If, however, the room faces north or has north or east light, warmer colors are best, such as cream, putty, ivory, light rust, yellow. A room with north exposure might have cream ceiling, light yellow walls, buff or putty colored woodwork; tile colors of red, red orange, yellow, brown and cream in linoleum, bright red orange and blue green containers and knobs; curtains of cream with red orange and blue green figures or stripes of one or both colors.

If figured wall paper is used, it is best not to have figured curtains and too vivid linoleum. The kitchen should be restful, and too much figure on the walls and floor cause unrest and disturbance.

Flowers add life and color in the kitchen, and even utensils and tools can be chosen today for color as well as for other qualities.

Farmers Find New Farm Plan Less Complicated

With community meetings under way in nearly all parts of the state, farmers are finding that the new soil conservation farm act is not as complicated as it appeared at first, according to reports from men of the Oregon State college extension service, who are helping the temporary committees hold the educational meetings.

Those who had experience with the crop control programs under the old AAA set-up, say there is less preliminary work by the individual grower needed than was the case in applying for a contract under the wheat or corn-hog plans.
