RALLY IN TENTH CONDON'S UNDOING

Heppner Leaguers Run in Seven Tallies to Break Ninth Tie.

TURNER HITS HOMER

Locals Stay in Lead After Hectic Game; Will Attempt to Take Fossil Down Next.

Team Standings
	Won	Lost
Heppner	2	0
CCC	2	0
Fossil	2	0
Ione	0	2
Condon	0	2
Blalock	0	2

Last Sunday's Results

Heppner 16 at Condon 9, Ione 8 at Heppner CCC 12, Blalock 6 at Fossil 18.

Where the Teams Play Next Sunday

Heppner at Fossil, Condon at Heppner CCC, Blalock at Ione.

With the score tied nine-all at the end of the ninth inning, Heppner's Wheatland leaguers pounced on Jimmy Ogilvy, Condon chucker, for seven hits and as many runs to put the game on ice in the tenth. Both teams attempted to give away the game several times. After taking an early 5-run lead, Heppner gave Condon a tally advantage in the seventh, and it was anybody's ball game until the last inning fiasco.

Manager Fred Hoskins' gang kept in the lead of the percentage column by virtue of the win, while CCC and Fossil were taking their second games against Ione and Blalock, respectively, to share top honors. Next Sunday Heppner will journey to Fossil to see which can hold the lead.

Lowell Turner took long-distance hitting honors for the locals at Condon, whamming out a circuit clout with the bases unoccupied in the third. It would have gone for a home run in any ball park, going high over the center fielder's head, and by the time that gentleman had got in calling distance of it, Turner had crossed the plate.

Two snappy double plays helped offset some of the looser moments. In the fourth, Gordon Bucknum took O'Rourke's hot line drive and doubled Parrish off first base. The inning before, Sammy Baker on short started a double on Akers' grounder, throwing to Hess at second to catch Bucknum, Hess relaying to Burns at first to stop Akers.

Blankenship, who had allowed five hits, turned over the mound to Ray Massey in the seventh, while Ogilvy went the route for Condon. He had little trouble of his own making until the tenth when most of the Heppner batsmen walked up and clouted the first pitched ball safely.

It was a bad day for third basemen on both sides, as errors at that position accounted for most of the unearned tallies.

Twenty-five or thirty Heppner rooters were on hand to back the home team.

NELS M. JOHNSON IS PNEUMONIA VICTIM

Pioneer Resident of Dry Fork Came to County 40 Years Ago; Was Community Leader.

Nels M. Johnson, pioneer farmer of Dry Fork, succumbed to a two days' illness from pneumonia at the farm home, Friday. Mr. Johnson had been in Heppner the Tuesday previous, apparently in good health and spirits, and his sudden demise came as an unexpected shock to the entire community.

Funeral services were held from the Church of Christ in this city at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Alvin Kleinfield, pastor, officiating, with interment in Masonic cemetery.

A large concourse of neighbors and friends attended the services and the floral tribute was profuse.

Nels Magnus Johnson was born at McPherson, Kansas, August 16, 1871, the son of John and Catherine (Olson) Johnson, natives of Sweden. He died at his home on Dry Fork, this county, April 30, 1936, aged 64 years, 8 months and 14 days.

Mr. Johnson came to Morrow county about forty years ago, settling in the Dry Fork district where he had since resided and followed farming and stockraising.

September 29, 1925, he married Mary K. Wiseman at Vancouver, Wash., who survives with two children, Charles Raymond and Neola Marie Johnson. He is also survived by a brother, O. E. Johnson of Hardman, and three sisters, Mrs. Katherine Anderson of McPherson, Kans., Mrs. Christine Anderson of Seattle, Wn., and Mrs. Hannah Lewis of Seattle.

SMITH-HUGHES WORK PLANNED

State Director Meets With Board; Five Teachers to Leave; Salary Increases Announced.

Edward F. Bloom was retained as superintendent, and all members of the faculty were announced as accepting new contracts for the coming school year at a meeting of the board last evening. Miss Leone Roekhold, home economics instructor, and Miss Lucy Case, first grade, are leaving the system to be married, while Bertrand Evans, English, and Claude Pevey, mathematics and science, will accept positions elsewhere. Mr. Evans will head the English department in La Grande high school next year. Miss Lillian Peterson, commerce, resigned.

Salary raises were granted all remaining teachers except Mr. Bloom who received a substantial increase last year. Harold Buhman, grade school principal, was raised from $1500 to $1600, and Aiden Blankenship, physical education instructor, was boosted from $1350 to $1500. Mrs. Elizabeth Dix and Miss Juanita Leathers in the grades will receive $105 a month next year, while the other teachers will get $100 a month.

Earl Cooley, state director of Smith-Hughes work from the department of vocational education, was present and completed plans for instituting Smith-Hughes work here next year. It will be conducted on a part-time basis with workshop in the school basement. The Smith-Hughes instructor will succeed Mr. Pevey, and the saving on federal aid will about pay the cost of instituting the work, estimated at between $600 and $700.

Edith Luelling Hastings Dies; To County in 1871

Edith Luelling Hastings, pioneer of the Hardman section, died at Morrow General hospital in this city yesterday morning following an 11-days illness from a paralytic stroke. Funeral services, with arrangements in charge of Phelps Funeral home, have been set for 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the Hardman community church, Alvin Kleinfield officiating. Interment will be in the Hardman I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Edith Luelling was born March 22, 1867, at Troutdale, Ore., the daughter of John and Sarah (Douglas) Luelling, pioneers who crossed the plains in 1852. Her parents were natives of Indiana and Pennsylvania respectively. The family moved to Rhea creek in 1871. She was married to C. M. Hastings at Heppner, May 12, 1894. Surviving are the husband, one daughter, Lorraine M., four sons, John M., William C., Guy E. and Charles E., all of Hardman; grandson, Claude G., and grand daughter, Yvonne of Hardman, and a brother, Abraham Luelling of Brogan, Ore.

Dr. J. P. Stewart, Eye-Sight Specialist of Pendleton, will be at the Heppner Hotel on Wednesday, May 13.

MUSIC FESTIVAL FINE MAY EVENT

Gym-Auditorium Packed to Hear Combined Tal- ent of Schools.

JOINT BANDS HEARD

Musicals Climaxes Day's Activities of County Schools Here; 500 Children Appear on Stage.

The gym floor covered with children and directors, and the auditorium in front packed to capacity with listeners, the crowd that gathered in the gym-auditorium Friday evening for the county school music festival was probably the largest ever packed into a single building in the county.

The big music event climaxed the school May Day activities, which included spelling and athletic contests. It went off smoothly, without a hitch, a feat which bespoke much work on the part of the directors, as in the final number presenting the combined choruses nearly 500 children were on the stage at one time.

Grade school choruses were presented in three divisions, lower, intermediate and upper, with each division singing a group of three songs. High school choruses included girls', boys', and mixed groups, each of which sang three songs. Mrs. E. F. Bloom directed all the chorus numbers accompanied by Miss Juanita Leathers.

The highlight of the program was probably the presentation of the Irrigon and Heppner school bands playing three numbers jointly. Stan Atkin, Irrigon director, directed two of the numbers, and Harold Buhman, local director, led the other. The initial number, "Washington Post March," was dedicated to Mrs. Lucy E. Rodgers, superintendent, in recognition of her effort in behalf of the event.

Special numbers included a folk dance by the Boardman school, tap dancing by the Lexington school, rhythm band and fairy dance by the Heppner school. Perfect order was kept throughout, with the audience showing appreciation of the fine program after each number. A large committee of teachers assisted in directing the children and in ushering.

Stan Atkin introduced the program, and he also awarded the cups, ribbons and banners won in the spelling and athletic contests.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS MEET.

Nakomis group, Camp Fire Girls, met in Miss Dale's room at the school Monday evening after school and discussed new business. An overnight hike was planned for May 15, and another doughnut sale was set for next Saturday. A week's summer camp was discussed.—Margaret Doolittle, scribe.

HIP BROKEN IN FALL.

Mrs. Mary Brown, mother of Mrs. R. A. Thompson, was brought to Heppner hospital from the Thompson farm Monday morning by the Phelps ambulance suffering from a broken hip which she sustained in a fall.

FINDS WOOL UNSOLD.

C. H. Castner, field representative for the commission of public docks at Portland, was a visitor in the city Tuesday. He was making a survey of the wool situation, and found the majority of the wool here unsold.

VACANT LOTS MUST SHINE; EDICT MADE BY COUNCIL

All property holders must clean up their vacant lots or the city will have the work done and charge it against the property. That is an edict of the council made Monday evening in connection with clean-up day May 12. It was also announced that two trucks will be on the job that day to haul away free of charge all rubbish placed at curbs in proper containers.

If all the rubbish cannot be removed in the one day, the trucks will be kept on the job until it is removed, said Mayor Jeff Jones, who renews his appeal for all organizations and individuals to get behind the clean-up movement and make the city shine.

Watermaster Orve Rasmus announced the installation this week of a siphon in the second well at the forks of Willow creek, and water from the well was sufficient to again fill the reservoir. He appealed for the development of more water, however, for as soon as irrigation is resumed on a large scale he was certain the present supply would be inadequate. The matter is in the hands of the water committee. It was discussed freely at the meeting, but no definite action was taken.

That work of relaying the mile and three-quarters of the main pipe line down Willow creek, authorized as a PWA project, will be held up until after the middle of June, was announced, due to irrigating in the alfalfa fields which must be crossed. Discussion was had of changing the approaches of the Willow creek and Cox hill roads into town, and

FANCY WORK— But Not for Beauty

Emergency furrowing for blow control. Two thousand acres were treated in this way. This keeps the soil at home, but for a long-time program, farmers in this area are going to Douglas county, Wash., the first of next week to see what is being done there.

COUNTY FARMERS TO MAKE JUNKET

Agricultural Agent Will Conduct Large Group on Tour of Doug- las County, Wash.

The domain of Heppner lodge 358, B. P. O. Elks will center its attention May 30 on Kinzua. On that date Kinzua Pine Mills will play host to the lodge for its annual spring migratory initiation.

A feature of the Kinzua junket will be the opportunity afforded to see the large ponderosa pine mill in operation. Mr. Coleman promises that all those who reach Kinzua by 10 o'clock in the morning will be conducted through all departments of the large mill operation, including the re-manufacturing plant where the newly milled timber is turned into completed articles of furniture. This plant is equipped to manufacture wooden articles of any and all kinds, being one of the most complete plants of its kind in the United States.

When Jasper Crawford, exalted ruler; Loyal Parker, secretary, and R. B. Ferguson called at Kinzua Saturday to make arrangements for accepting the mill's proffer of hospitality, Mr. Coleman had returned but a few hours before from the east where he went to attend a national pine millers' association convention. At the convention he was named the association's vice-president.

In addition to conducting the visitors through the plant, the mill company will lend its large recreation hall for the afternoon initiation. It will also sponsor a banquet and dance in the evening. Every want of the visitors will be taken care of except lodging. All lodging facilities are occupied by mill workers, and those planning to spend the night should make arrangements for lodging at either Fossil or Condon.

Plans are underway to initiate one of the largest classes to be inducted into the local lodge in years.

Mothers and Daughters Feted by B. P. W. Club

Places for 136 people were set at the Mothers-Daughters' banquet sponsored by Business and Professional Women's club at I. O. O. F. hall Tuesday evening, and the tables were beautifully set off by spring flowers.

Miss Lillian Peterson led the group singing, and other program numbers included piano duet by Mrs. J. O. Turner and Mary Lou Ferguson; toast, "How I Helped My Daughter"; Mrs. John Wightman; "How Grandmother Brought Me Mother"; Ruth Green; high school girls' act; "How Mother Helped Me"; Mrs. E. L. Morton; "Mother Means Well"; Kathryn Parker; solo, Anabel Turner, accompanied by Virginia Amorelli; "How I Expect to Help My Daughter"; Mrs. A. Blankenship; "What a Daughter Expects from Mother"; Irene Beamer; solo, Mrs. Ture Peterson; reading, Dora Bailey.

SARAH ELLEN ASHBAUGH

Sarah Ellen Smith was born in Iowa, November 3, 1859, and died in La Grande, Oregon, April 28, 1936, at the age of 76 years, 6 months and 25 days.

At Red Oak, Iowa, on October 30, 1876, she was united in marriage to Fredrick Ashbaugh. They came west in 1892 and settled in Morrow county, taking up land in the Eight Mile section where they farmed for many years. They later moved to the Rood place in Rood canyon, near Hardman, where they lived until the time of Mr. Ashbaugh's death. To this union were born nine children, four of them having preceded Mrs. Ashbaugh in death. The five surviving children are Mrs. Retta Knighten, Hardman; Mrs. Golda Leathers, Lexington; Mrs. Lucy Glascock, La Grande; Roy and Clair Ashbaugh, Heppner. There are twelve grandchildren and one great grandchild. One sister, Mrs. Grace Black, Bliss, Idaho, and two brothers, Charles Smith, Central City, Neb., and H. C. Smith, Elliott, Iowa, also survive.

Mrs. Ashbaugh went to visit her daughter, Mrs. Glascock, at La Grande last August. She had been there but a short time when she took sick, being bedfast six months before her death.

She was a faithful neighbor and good mother.

ATTENTION TOWNSENDERS.

It is important that all members attend meeting, Tuesday, May 12. Delegate will be elected to the state convention at Salem.

KINZUA PINE MILLS TO ENTERTAIN ELKS

Large Timber Operation to be Scene of Annual Spring Meeting.

MAY INSPECT PLANT

Special Dispensation Granted, and General Manager Extends Fa- cilities to Visitors.

The domain of Heppner lodge 358, B. P. O. Elks will center its attention May 30 on Kinzua. On that date Kinzua Pine Mills will play host to the lodge for its annual spring migratory initiation. Special dispensation for holding the meeting was received this week from Jesse Andrews of La Grande, district deputy grand exalted ruler, and with the promise of Joe Coleman, general manager of the mill, that everything will be in shape to entertain all comers, the set-up is complete for one of the largest meetings of the lodge ever staged outside of Heppner.

A feature of the Kinzua junket will be the opportunity afforded to see the large ponderosa pine mill in operation. Mr. Coleman promises that all those who reach Kinzua by 10 o'clock in the morning will be conducted through all departments of the large mill operation, including the re-manufacturing plant where the newly milled timber is turned into completed articles of furniture. TO HAVE FOOD SALE.

The American Legion auxiliary met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Spencer Crawford. At this meeting plans were completed and committees appointed for the annual memorial poppy sale to be held May 23. Also, it was decided to have a cooked food sale the afternoon of May 15. All members are urged to help with this project.

SPEAKER COMING.

G. A. Childers will be the outside speaker before the Townsend club meeting at the courthouse Monday evening, May 11. His subject will be "The Townsend Plan Scientifically Sound."

Yates Finds Friends On Visit to Heppner

Phil Yates, former state senator from Sherman, Gilliam and Wheeler counties and republican candidate for congress, was meeting prospective supporters in this city yesterday. Among local folk he found quite a number of former Sherman county people, old-time friends met in line with his business as clothing merchant at Wasco. Saying that he had never been defeated for office, the state senator viewed his prospects as good for receiving the republican nomination. He had just completed a 1500-mile tour of the second district, and from his observation believed Clint Haight would give Walter Pierce a close race in the democratic primary.

MISS MOYER INITIATED.

Eastern Oregon Normal School, La Grande, May 5.—Miriam Moyer of Heppner was initiated last week into Phi Beta Sigma, honorary professional organization. This group includes students who have earned distinction in the field of educational study and who give promise of outstanding professional success.

BAND CONCERT SET NEXT WEDNESDAY

School Musicians Will Offer Varie- ty Program, Free; Overture Story Described.

The fifth annual Heppner school band concert will be given in the school gym-auditorium on Wednesday evening, May 13, at 8:00 o'clock. This concert will be free and the public is cordially invited to attend. The program to be presented by the forty-piece band will consist of several well known and favorite selections. The numbers to be used are selected marches and the following overtures and selections:

Overture: The Oracle, by Otis Taylor.
Overture: The Trojan Prince, G. E. Holmes.
Overture: Euterpean, F. H. Looney.
Overture: Urbana, Chas. Roberts.
Medley: Selection: Memories of Stephen Foster, arranged by G. E. Holmes.

Waltz: Blue Danube, Strauss, arranged by De Lamater.
Selection: Japanese Sunset, Deppen, arranged by St. Clair.
The Oracle Overture is a descriptive overture and has the following story: The first movement (Lento) is the Oracle theme: It is vespertime of a late summer day. From the log chapel on the hill top, the strains of the vesper service reach the weary members of an approaching caravan of settlers. To these tired travelers, who are at the end of their long westward journey, the prayer seems like the voice of an oracle—a promise of hopes fulfilled, and better days to come.

The second movement, andante: Inspired by the quiet beauty of the valley, and touched by the sincere welcome of their friends, the new comers sing a hymn of Thanksgiving, voicing their gratitude for their safe arrival in this lovely haven of peace.

The third movement, allegro moderato: The young folks, leaving their elders the task of preparing for the night, soon forget their

S., a no-host dinner at the Lucas Place, and other entertainment in the evening.

HENRY CRUMP DIES BY HANGING SELF

Local Carpenter, Native of City, Said Dependent Over Illness; Widow, 6 Children Survive.

Illness was blamed for the death of Henry Crump, who the coroner's jury determined took his own life at the family home last Thursday night. He was found hanging in the shed at the rear of the house by a half inch rope, tied about his neck. The other end was tied to a board across a hole in the roof. Near by was an oil barrel, off which the man apparently stepped after preparing himself. The body was lifeless when found.

Mr. Crump was said to have suffered from severe stomach trouble for two weeks, and apparently became despondent over his condition. Henry Crumstick Crump was a native of Morrow county, the son of Frederick and Annie (Barratt) Crump, natives of England. He was born May 27, 1881, at Heppner, and attended public school here. After attaining young manhood he took up the trade of carpentering which he had followed since. He was considered a good workman, and his services were much in demand.

Mr. Crump married Della Flossie Northrup February 5, 1
