

PROCLAMATION

Saturday, May 23rd, was proclaimed Poppy Day in Heppner in a proclamation issued Tuesday by Mayor Jeff Jones. The proclamation urged all citizens to honor the World War dead by wearing the American Legion and Auxiliary memorial poppy on that day, and to aid the war's living victims by contributing to the Legion and Auxiliary welfare funds. The proclamation follows: "The City of Heppner during the great crisis of the World War sent forth its sons in response to the nation's call. They served gallantly in the nation's defense, and of their number some were called upon to lay down their lives in that service. The memory of their patriotic sacrifice should always be held dear by the citizens of Heppner. "Others of these brave young men were called upon to sacrifice, not life, but health and strength which makes life worth while. Their families and the families of the dead also were required to make heavy sacrifices. These disabled and dependents are still paying the human price of our nation's World War victory. "From the battle front in France our returning soldiers brought the poppy as the symbol of sacrifice and the memorial flower of the dead. Each year on the Saturday before Memorial Day the men of the American Legion and the women of the American Legion Auxiliary ask us to wear this flower in tribute to the nation's fallen defenders and to give in exchange for the flower a contribution to aid the war's living victims. "Therefore, I, Jeff Jones, Mayor of Heppner, urge all citizens to honor the dead and aid the living by wearing the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary memorial poppy on Saturday, May 23rd. "And to that end, I do hereby proclaim Saturday, May 23rd, Poppy Day in the City of Heppner. JEFF JONES."

Value of Free, Virile Press Told by Editor

"One newspaper editor in each county, telling the truth courageously, fearing neither man nor devil, wearing no man's collar, swerving neither to right nor left through fear of advertising loss, determined to do his duty to his readers, his God and his own conscience—I say one such editor and his fellows can save the state from selfishness, partisanship, the rule of demagogues and perhaps revolution. "This statement was made by Arthur Crookham, city editor of the Oregon Journal, in an address on newspaper practices and policies given before the annual Matrix Table banquet of Theta Sigma Phi, national society for women in journalism, at Oregon State college. Crookham, speaking from 23 years of active newspaper experience, freely admitted the faults of the press, or certain sections of it, and said that while considering the necessity of a free press, it is well to remember that newspapers have duties as well as rights. He urged the active participation of newspapers in promoting good government rather than mere partisan politics. "If the Oregon primary law is ever repealed, I believe it will be due to the incompetence of self-starters and the failure of the press to expose the charlatans and stand by the clean and competent candidates, regardless of party," he said. Mr. Crookham decried cynicism and cynicism among newspapermen, which, he said, is largely a pose when it exists at all. A cynic's contribution to and influence for good in the world is nil, said the speaker, adding that even a hypocrite is to be preferred to a cynic as he at least pays lip loyalty to better things than he may believe. The speaker quoted Dickens with approval as saying that in newspaper work as elsewhere "there is no substitute for thorough-going, ardent and sincere earnestness."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, it has pleased the Grand Architect of the Universe to call from his earthly labors our brother, William Patrick Mahoney, whose membership in the Craft covered many active years; and this vacancy in our ranks has caused the brethren to mourn; Therefore be it resolved, that the members of Heppner Lodge No. 69, A. F. & A. M., pause in their mundane duties and stand in submission to the will of Him who sitteth as a judge supreme that suitable expression of sympathy for the family of our deceased brother be conveyed to them; that our charter be draped in his memory; that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the sorrowing family, and a copy be submitted to the Heppner Gazette Times for publication.

Irrigation Projects Planned

McMinnville—The installation of some 20 proposed new irrigation projects in Yamhill county this year will approximately double the acreage under water in the county, reports County Agent Rex Warren. The total of 500 acres now irrigated will be increased to around 1000 acres, he believes. Probably the largest of the new projects will be one involving 200 acres on the farms of E. M. Alderman and son near Dayton.

Shall Radical Labor Leaders Rule Oregon?

For more than two years the economic, industrial and agricultural life of this state has been in a state of almost constant turmoil because of far-reaching labor disturbances.

Lives here have been sacrificed our farmers have suffered tremendous losses; the wheels of industry have been silenced.

WHY?

Irresponsible labor leadership has brought about this condition. For the good of organized labor, and for the good of all the people, the responsibility of labor organizations must be fixed by statute.
