A Praiseworthy Ambition

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB, the oldest cultural club organized west of the Rocky mountains, is launching through its "committee for a distinctively Oregon capitol" a movement worthy of the endorsement of the entire state.

The idea desired to have incorporated in the architect's plans contemplates a rotunda with walls of Oregon wood panels carved by Oregon craftsmen.

Oregon's new capitol so far as possible should be constructed of Oregon materials, and in its every aspect it should breathe the essence of this wonderful state.

IRRIGON

A banquet was given Wednesday night for the senior class, Eighty-nine were seated at the table which was arranged to form the letter I and was beautifully decorated.

WEAR A POPPY.

HOW long is public memory and how enduring national gratitude? This question will be answered here Saturday, May 23rd.

BOARDMAN

By MILDRED ALLEN Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Berger and Robert Berger of The Dalles were in Boardman Wednesday on business.

The first and second grades had a picnic near the school house on Tuesday.

Mavis Sturm returned home Saturday from Pendleton where she was in the hospital for several days.

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION.

To the Editor: I am using your valuable paper as the most effective means to express my sincere appreciation and heartfelt thanks for the loyal support given to me in last Friday's election by my friends throughout the county.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the many kind friends and neighbors for their help and sympathy in our bereavement.

Thousands Seek Data On Oregon

A travel development program via radio, arranged by the Oregon State Motor association, has flooded the secretary of state with more than 4500 requests for literature covering Oregon's recreational areas.

Farm Act Kept Close to Best Scientific Methods

A farm program kept closely in line with local needs and in harmony with the best practices advocated by the state college experiment stations is the objective of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, declared Dr. D. C. Mumford of the western regional staff, on a recent visit to Corvallis to confer with staff members of the college who are active in inaugurating the new agricultural conservation program.

from 50c to 75c an acre for various erosion preventing fallow practices, such as frisky, strip and contour strip fallowing. Fallow so treated can be counted in establishing a farm's soil building allowance, but not in the soil conserving crop total unless it is seeded this fall to grass or legumes.

Use of Alfalfa in Dairy Rations Studied at OSC

With the rapid increase of alfalfa acreage in western Oregon and the emphasis on this crop throughout the state under the new agricultural conservation act, increasing interest in best use of alfalfa in the dairy ration has developed.

In some places alfalfa has been used by itself as a dairy feed during the non-pasture months, and in other places it has been used with corn silage or other succulents or with grain or both.

Another conclusion is that it is not economical to raise corn silage to feed with alfalfa if the cost of growing the corn silage is more than one-third the cost of growing the alfalfa hay.
