

A Greater Westward Ho!

One of the biggest features at this year's Pendleton Round-Up, to be held September 10, 11 and 13, will be the Westward Ho! parade. Last year Westward Ho!, a procession which depicts the story of the winning of the West, was an hour and a half passing a given point. It will be even larger this year. In the parade are 1000 gaudily attired Indians and every non-motor drawn vehicle made. Typical scenes are: top, a Mormon Cart; center—a wagon train drawn by a 14-mule team, and bottom—a stage coach.

Salem.—The State Capitol Reconstruction commission is going to use Oregon stone and wood in the new statehouse if at all possible.

Basic bid for the building will be for complete facing with Oregon granite, according to J. A. McLean, Eugene, chairman of the commission. Alternate bids will call for granite bases with marble or light-colored eastern stone for the superstructure.

Bids will be sought immediately and opened Sept. 2 for preliminary construction work on the capitol, McLean said. First work will comprise clearing the site, fencing the building zone, excavation of the basement and erection of field houses for the supervising architects and PWA engineers. Contracts for actual construction of the building will be drawn in November, and work should be started in December.

Oregon woods will be used to finish the interior of the capitol. Black walnut will be specified for doors, casings and woodwork, especially in the chambers of the house of representatives and the senate. Myrtle, maple, fir and other softwoods will also be used.

Only catch to their use will be that Oregon stones be quarried in time and at a cost which can be competitive with materials from other parts of the country.

Every county in the state got $478.48 for its fair when the state racing commission turned over $17,115.28 to Secretary of State Snell for distribution. The sum was 25 percent of the commission's receipts from dog and horse racing. The state fair and Pacific International Livestock exposition in Portland each received $21,875.75; the Pendleton Round-Up, and the Eastern Oregon Livestock show in Union each was sent a check for $3,445; and the Northwest Turkey show in Oakland, Douglas county, got $1633.50.

Governor Martin might turn Cupid for a man in West Los Angeles, Calif. The executive received this letter recently:

"No doubt you are called upon for many things so I am going to ask you to help me with my problem. I have been a resident of your state for some time in the past and that is why I am asking for your assistance. I do not seem to have much luck in finding the right sort of woman that would make a good mate. Either they like their liquor too well and carouse or they want a lot of swell clothes and chase to dances and leave their house in disorder. I am looking for a girl that is free, white and over 21, not over 130 pounds, with a sweet disposition, affectionate, a good cook and will stick with you at all times and does not care to be dancing and drinking all the time.

"I am 40 years old, not bad to look at, do not drink, do not dance, but I do love the great outdoors. I have been a steady worker ever since I was 14 years old, so I am not looking for a meal ticket. I treasury." Establishment of an intermediate penitentiary which has been considered a problem for the next legislature, would be unwise, Foreman believes, "considering present facilities and the organization of Oregon's institutions."

Foreman said the separate institution would mean unwarranted costs for buildings and maintenance. Employment of more convicts on the prison farm would help solve the problem of overcrowding in the penitentiary, it was suggested. Prisoners cannot always be segregated merely according to age, state officials were told, "because anyone who has had any experience with penal or reformatory institutions knows that a lad of 19 may be a more serious criminal than a man of 35."

The governor has already taken steps to prevent further trouble at the penitentiary. "Now that conditions at the penitentiary are thoroughly under control," Martin said last week, "measures will be taken at once to prevent a recurrence of such a riot. The leaders will be summarily dealt with." This was taken to mean habitual criminal charges might be filed against some of the ringleaders of the revolt.

The tourist business this year is the best in history. More than 1000 out-of-state automobiles come into Oregon every day, Secretary of State Snell's registration records show. July was the biggest tourist month Oregon has ever known, with 30,645 non-resident registrations of motor vehicles. The previous all-time high month was July 1929, when 23,003 was reached. More than 130,000 cars from other states and countries will have traveled Oregon's highways by the end of the year, Snell predicted. Previous records have been 103,008 in 1929 and 100,303 last year.

The state highway commission applied to the federal public works administration for approval of a $1,000,000 secondary highway construction program on which the government would grant $450,000. If the project is approved, construction contracts on secondary roads will be let for the first time since the depression.

For the first time in recent years, the state land board is in the market to make new loans. Clerk L. D. Griffith said the board had $105,000 surplus on hand. A plan to trade Eastern Oregon range land with the federal government under the provisions of the Taylor Grazing act is also under consideration. The state has 700,000 acres of original school land in Harney, Lake and Malheur counties to sell to stockmen, but figures it can get better prices by trading with the government to get the land in large blocks.

Bert C. Hoover of Salem witnessed two deeds in 1931. The documents were found by State Treasurer Holman in settling the estate of an Oregon pioneer. The witness is now Herbert C. Hoover, only living ex-president of the United States.

The critical forest fire season is here and the law against throwing of lighted material along the highways will be enforced rigidly, State Forester J. W. Ferguson warned. Oregon this year has had by far the smallest number of forest fires before an Aug. 1 in several years, but records show the most disastrous fires occur after the first of August, and foresters are taking no chances.

How would you like to own 1071 automobiles and trucks? The state does. Budget Director Wallace S. Wharton found 520 passenger cars, 465 trucks and 95 panel trucks are state-owned.

BOARDMAN

By LA VERN BAKER

Mr. and Mrs. Y. P. Rutherford returned from a short vacation visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bates and T. E. Hendricks made a business trip to Spokane and Seattle, coming back by way of Walla Walla where they visited Mrs. Bates' uncle.

TO GIVE CEDAR CHEST.

Degree of Honor will give a filled cedar chest at the show grounds the last day of Rodeo.

"I do not want to live under a philanthropy. I do not want to be taken care of by the government either directly or by any instrument through which the government is acting. I want only to have right and justice prevail so far as I am concerned. Give me right and justice and I will undertake to take care of myself. I will not live under trustees if I can help it. I do not care how wise, how patriotic, the trustees may be. I have never heard of any group of men in whose hands I am willing to lodge the liberties of America in trust."

HOT MEALS DON'T MEAN A HOT KITCHEN when you have an electric range!

The oven of an electric range raises your kitchen temperature only about one degree!

If you're tired of sweltering in the heat of some old-fashioned cook stove, change to electric cooking. Then you can prepare whole meals in your oven or cooker pot and still have a cool, comfortable kitchen.

Rock wool insulation keeps the oven heat inside. The temperature control eliminates the necessity of oven watching. No peeking... no flooding your kitchen with heat.

And what a convenience it is merely to snap a switch when you want heat for cooking. No fuel to cut or carry in—no ashes to carry out—no dirt to clean up.

Because electric cooking saves so much, thousands regard it as the most economical method you can use. Certainly it is the most convenient. So why cling to your present method any longer? Reasonable prices and terms to fit your budget make the purchase of an electric range very easy. See the displays at dealers and our nearest office today.

HOT WATER can be as automatic as cold water!

When you have an automatic electric water heater, you get hot water every time you turn a hot water faucet. You get it without any bother or waiting either. For an automatic electric water heater keeps a plentiful supply of hot water in storage all the time—never lets it overheat—never needs attention. 80% of your water requirements are for hot water. So why continue to put up with the inadequacy of coils or a teakettle? Electric hot water service isn't expensive. Let us give you details today.
