

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buschke and children were among members of the Ben Buschke family attending the golden wedding anniversary here Sunday. The Fred Buschkes reside six miles from Elgin on a farm they are purchasing, and like their location. Their grain crop was short this year, the wheat averaging but 28 bushels. Some spring grain in the vicinity ran as high as 40 and 50 bushels, however. Those yields sound pretty good to a Morrow county, but Mr. Buschke is farcising the deeper soils of Union county which are considerably higher priced than most Morrow county land.

Travelling the farthest of any members of the family to be present Sunday at the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Buschke were Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Twitchell and children. These former residents drove all the way from their home at Los Angeles. Mr. Twitchell was formerly engaged in the meat business in Heppner.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Graham were visiting Heppner friends Monday while Mr. Graham was transacting business in his position as Morrow county commissioner. They went on to Pendleton that afternoon. Mr. Graham served in the 1933 legislature with J. O. Turner.

Walter Moore, manager Pendleton Production Credit association, was visiting the local office in charge of Harlan McCurdy, Saturday. Mr. Moore was not satisfied with the dry weather that has been prevailing all too long and which does not bode well for new crops.

L. Van Marter and Carson "Skeet" Bigbee returned Monday from the tall timber, bringing out a big buck. Mr. Bigbee, former big league baseball player, came up from his home at Portland to join his old friend and expert hunter on the outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Blahm, daughter, Mrs. Carl Corkrum and two sons, were in the city Tuesday from their home at Walla Walla, Mr. Blahm looking after property interests while all enjoyed visiting old-time friends.

J. E. Craber was transacting business in the city Monday from the farm home near Hardman. He reported Mrs. Craber's father, Dan Rice, to be confined to the hospital, critically ill.

Burton H. Peck was transacting business in the city Saturday, coming up from the Clark's canyon farm. He was hoping for the early arrival of moisture.

Bill Buschke came over from Seneca to be present Sunday at the golden wedding anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Buschke.

Dr. J. P. Stewart, Eye-Sight Specialist of Pendleton, will be at the HEPPNER HOTEL on WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 4th.

The Rally
 On Thursday night at 7:30, many of the students met at the bank to start a rousing rally. They walked in the form of an H the length of Main street and then proceeded in no definite style to the golf-course hill, where lively cheers were led as the students stood around a rally fire. Speeches were made by Ruth Green, Harold Armstrong, Neva Bleakman, Len Gilman, Mr. Blahm.

kenship and Coach Tetz. Following the speeches the students were led in several school songs by Arlene Morton and Dora Bailey.

The spirit of comradeship served as a good send-off for the football boys for the last home game.

Girls' Sports
 The girls are planning to have inter-class teams in baseball, volleyball, and possibly basketball. Last Friday they practiced shooting baskets in preparation for the coming games.

It seems that pep has been a major question in Heppner high school for some time. At times the students seem to have an enormous amount of pep; then at other times they don't seem to have much. This is most noticeable at a football game. When the team is getting tough breaks on the field, the yelling in the rooting section seems to die out; but as soon as the team starts marching down the field for a touchdown, the rooting section seems to pep up and yell as it never yelled before. The players on the team shouldn't be the ones to put the pep into the rooting section. The rooting section should keep its pep up at all times and should be the one to pep up the team when it is losing as well as when it is winning. The students are gradually gaining more pep, but they shouldn't have to be coaxed. If they are loyal to their school, they should take it upon themselves to create their pep and back up their team at all times. Let us cooperate with our yell leaders and show that we can have pep.

Two things are necessary to win a ball game, a team and a peppy student body. If we give those yells as if we meant them, there is no reason why the team will not fight harder. On to Victory!

Class News
 The English V class is preparing to present the play, "A Question of Morality." The people chosen for parts were La Verne Van Marter, Maxine McCurdy and Riley Munkers.

The American History class had a panel discussion over the question of the Reciprocity act. Some of the students took the side of London and some of Roosevelt. These discussions are held every Friday.

Club News
 The Home Economics club has been selecting pins to signify their membership. They also conducted a candy sale Monday noon, the proceeds of which were to be used to buy a set of dishes. It seems that quite a few forgot to bring their pennies Monday morning; consequently, they did not get any of the candy, for it had all been sold when they came back in the afternoon.

—H.H.S.—
 The students of Heppner high school take this opportunity to extend their sincere sympathy to Jack Van Winkle, a student of Lexington high school, the victim of a recent automobile accident, and hope for his rapid recovery.

—H.H.S.—

Boys' Sports
 The boys who do not go out for football go to the Rodeo field for a game of touch football every Tuesday and Thursday. This game is enjoyed by all. With a few arguments and laughs, the boys return to the gym, dirty and dusty, to enjoy a nice shower.

—H.H.S.—

Operetta
 This year the boys' and girls' glee clubs are giving a musical comedy called "Jewels of the Desert." It is the story of the desert romance between Nana, the daughter of an Arab chief, and Benarulah, a strange young Arab. Into this romance is brought a desert mystery which involves several characters from America.

The cast consists of Abdullah, an owner of many caravans, Andy Shoun; Professor Lyth, a scientist, Billy McCaleb; Nana, a beautiful child of the desert, Dora Bailey; Caesar, a colored boy, Gerald Cason; Miss Lyth, the professor's sister, Arlene Morton; Betty, the professor's daughter, Harriet Hager; Carrieall, Nana's nurse, Ruth Cowins; Lieut. Andrew's Arab boy, Jackson Gilliam; Lady Grady, just over from London, Kathryn Parker; First Arab, Don Turner; Benarulah, in love with Nana, Ellis Williams.

Although much shorter than previous operettas, this one will be as interesting as any in past years. The production will be under the direction of N. E. Peavy, English teacher and dramatic coach.

—H.H.S.—
School Band to Appear
 The Heppner school band will play several numbers at the Library benefit Friday night, Oct. 30. "The Stars and Stripes Forever" and "Liberty Bell," by Sousa, have been added to the band's music library, and will be ready for the public in a short time.

Compost Heap Is Found Fine Aid to Good Gardens

Every good gardener, whether interested in flowers or vegetables or both, will usually have a compost heap somewhere about the premises, says R. E. Stephenson, associate professor of soils at Oregon State college.

The heap may be hidden by the garage, behind some shrubbery or in some other inconspicuous spot, but wherever it is, every kind of waste material about the premises should go into it. Grass clippings, leaves, weeds, the dead stalks of flowers and vegetables, and similar material all make fine compost. But Professor Stephenson issues one warning—put no diseased plant growth in the compost heap, on penalty of spreading the disease throughout the garden.

It is best to keep the compost heap moist, but not water-logged. A few handfuls of sulfate of ammonia, superphosphate and lime added to the compost occasionally will cause the material to rot more quickly and will help to make a better fertilizer. Also a few shovels of rich soil on the heap will save moisture and inoculate the compost, Stephenson says. There are no objectionable features to composting—no odor and no flies, Stephenson points out. The heat produced by compost properly handled kills larvae and insects which might otherwise appear.

If not enough other material is available, and one wishes to do so, one may purchase straw or even clover or alfalfa hay for making compost, he says. If straw is used, it is best to place a layer of straw six or eight inches thick. Then wet it down, add some fertilizer and soil, and another layer of straw, until a heap about six feet high is made. For each ton of straw about 75 pounds of sulfate of ammonia, 30 pounds of superphosphate and 50 pounds of ground limestone are needed. A ton of straw will make about three tons of wet compost in about three months' time. If one does not care to compost, he may purchase rotted manure and use the lawn clippings and leaves for mulching without composting, Stephenson says. Leaf mold is also good. But pretty flowers and good gardens are difficult to produce on soils that get dry and hard easily, unless some form of humus material is used regularly.

DIRECTORS TO BE ELECTED.
 National farm loan associations in the 12th Farm Credit administration district comprising Idaho, Oregon, Montana and Washington, have nominated E. T. Bascom, Monroe, Wash., Thomas Connolly, Havre, Mont., Ernest I. Orr, Dillon, Mont., H. R. Shouites, Chehalis, Wash., and B. D. Thompson, Granger, Wash., as candidates for director of the Land bank of Spokane. Mr. Connolly declined, however.

The associations are now conducting a run-off election, the result of which will be announced in December by Land Bank Commissioner A. S. Goss of Washington, D. C., who is supervising the balloting. The nominee receiving the highest number of votes will take his place on the district Land bank board on January 1 for a three-year term. The governor of the Farm Credit administration will also appoint a member of the board for a three-year term beginning January 1.

Directors of the Land bank serve as ex-officio directors of the district Intermediate Credit bank, again.

Bert Johnson

Republican Nominee for County Judge

SAYS:

I have lived in Morrow County 23 years, raising wheat and Stock.

The only promise I have made in this campaign is: "If elected to the office of County Judge I will fill the office to the best of my ability.

I am not under obligation to any person or group of persons, and have no understanding or agreement with anyone regarding any question or policy which may come before the County Court. I will make my own decisions after considering all the facts in any case. Will represent the county as a whole and not one particular locality.

County business should be run as economically as efficiency will permit.

I am interested with the following:

President Morrow County Grain Growers, Ione.
 Chairman Morrow County Farm Debt Adjustment Com.
 Chairman Transportation Committee, Eastern Oregon Wheat League.
 Member Lexington Grange.
 Member Ione Townsend Club.
 Justice of the Peace, Ione District.
 Been School Director. Attorney at Law.

Lack of time and finances forbid the calling on all voters, and I take this means of making this statement. I will certainly appreciate your vote.

If winter laundering turns your home into a TURKISH BATH...

...YOU NEED AN ALL-ELECTRIC HOME LAUNDRY!

Free! Plans for all-electric laundries. Get yours today!

● To do your winter laundering most efficiently—and at the same time keep your home livable—you need a separate laundry room. It may be in your basement; it may adjoin your kitchen; it may be a porch. It need not be large, but it should be well-planned with space for an electric washer and an electric ironer.

If your laundry is centrally located, you may wish it to contain your electric water heater, which serves all your hot water needs. Your laundry should have adequate space for drying clothes in winter and should be arranged to keep steam and excess moisture from the rest of your home.

You may not be able to acquire a complete electric home laundry at once. That's all right. Hundreds of women are working toward the completion of their all-electric laundries as they buy equipment. To assist you in your planning, Jeannette Cramer, prominent home service advisor, has designed all-electric laundries for typical locations. Her plans are free at your nearest Pacific Power & Light Company office. Ask for your copy today.

Buy equipment now at low 1936 prices!

ELECTRIC WASHER

The first appliance you need in your all-electric home laundry is a modern electric washer. The new washers are kind to even the most delicate fabrics, yet so efficient that every trace of dirt is quickly flushed away. Sturdy construction insures years of service. Low prices make 1936 models real bargains.

ELECTRIC IRONER

The next appliance you should acquire for your laundry is an electric ironer, which takes the backache out of ironing. All you do is sit and feed your pieces through. The ironer exerts all the pressure—does all the lifting and pushing—no ironing time is cut in half. Prices on electric ironers are very reasonable—terms convenient.

ELECTRIC WATER HEATER

When you have an automatic electric water heater, you not only have abundant hot water for laundering, but also for every household use... day, night, winter, summer. It's as if you have an ever-flowing hot spring in your home. Plan to install your automatic electric water heater soon. Low heater costs and our low water rates make automatic electric hot water service a convenience you can easily afford.
