

BOARDMAN

By LA VERN BAKER

Miss Marie Ledbetter spent the week end in Portland. A masquerade dance was held at the grange hall Friday evening. Many masked and everyone enjoyed it. Naomi Black and Edwin Ingles won the prizes.

P. T. A. meeting was held Monday evening with a small crowd. Election of officers was the main purpose of meeting. Those elected were Mrs. Lilly, president; Miss Glenn, vice-president; Mrs. Nate Thorp, secretary, and Mrs. Arnon Hug, treasurer. There were several other members on the program, including talks, singing and musical numbers.

The high school published its first paper Monday. Everyone reported an exceptionally good issue. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Campbell and daughter visited at the Ingles home over the week end.

An all-day Ladies Aid sewing meeting was held at Mrs. Ingles home last Friday. About twenty women attended. They exchanged recipes and sewed.

Conference dinner was held at the church Sunday noon. Many important things were brought up and a nomination committee was appointed to select new officers.

Thursday evening the high school went to Umatilla dam and ate their lunch after which they went on to Hermiston where they enjoyed themselves skating the remainder of the evening.

Mrs. A. A. Lapsley, who was Dorothy Compton, arrived at Boardman a week ago Tuesday to visit at the Compton home. Her visit here was cut very short, and she left for Klamath Falls last Monday morning.

A new skating rink will be opened at the Boardman grange hall this coming Thursday, Nov. 5. Thirty-six pairs of skates have been ordered and the floor is being waxed and fixed for the coming event. Benches or seats have been made for the skaters and these are built against the wall. The floor is somewhat larger than that of Hermiston and as a result there will be more room to fall upon.

PINE CITY

By BERNICE WATTENBURGER

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Van Orsdeal of Pendleton spent Sunday at the E. B. Wattenburger home.

Charles Bartholomew returned home Sunday night from Spokane. The Pine City carnival was well attended and everyone had a good time.

Miss Dora E. Moore spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Joyce Smith in Irrigon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wattenburger attended the show in Hermiston Sunday.

The weather turned colder over the week end. Everyone was hunting a warm fire and heavy coats for some reason.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray J. Pinson spent the week end in Walla Walla.

August and Lilly Rauch visited at the Julian Rauch home Saturday and Sunday. They attended the dance in Lexington Saturday evening.

Mrs. Ollie Neill visited at the E. B. Wattenburger home Tuesday.

Miss Isabella O'Brien was down Friday evening for the Pine City carnival. She returned to Pendleton Sunday.

Mrs. T. J. O'Brien and son Malcolm were business visitors in Pendleton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Plourd spent the week end at the W. D. Neill home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Healy and daughter Rosetta were business visitors in Heppner Saturday.

The state liquor control commission reports profits of more than $1,028,000 during the first nine months of the current year.

NOTICE OF COUNTY LAND SALE BY SHERIFF.

W. M. Minimum price $200.00. 20 per cent down the remainder on time payments at 6 per cent interest. SE 1/4 NW 1/4, E 1/2 SW 1/4, SW 1/4 SE 1/4 of Section 2, Twp. 6 South, Range 26 E. W. M. Minimum price $20.00. 20 per cent down, the remainder on time payments at 6 per cent interest. Therefore, I will, on the 14th day of November, 1936, at the hour of 2:00 P. M. at the front door of the Court House in Heppner, Oregon, sell said property to the highest and best bidder for cash in hand as stated above.

C. J. D. BAUMAN, Sheriff of Morrow County, Oregon.

OSC Launches Extension Work in Erosion Control

A practical extension program in soil erosion throughout Oregon will be launched immediately under the joint auspices of the federal soil conservation service and the Oregon State college extension service, announces F. L. Ballard, vice-director of extension. Through an adjustment just approved by both agencies, Art King, for many years extension specialist in soils, will now be employed jointly by the two services and will devote half time to the soil erosion control work.

King has given major attention in recent years to the development of supplementary irrigation in the Willamette valley, which has grown from a meager beginning to one of the most important "reclamation projects" in Oregon. In his new work, King will give attention to erosion problems in all parts of the state, but will particularly emphasize the work which has been demonstrated in the Columbia Basin wheat belt.

The soil conservation demonstration projects at Athena and other parts of eastern Oregon have given striking proof in recent years that control of the most serious erosion problems in the wheat belt is a practical proposition within the reach of the average farmer, says King. It will be his purpose to carry information on the methods and processes developed to growers in all parts of the area.

The methods developed by the soil conservation service start with the farming practices themselves, even though a visitor to the demonstration area might note first the work that has been done in the control of run-off after it develops. Use of trashy fallow through the incorporation of stubble and straw in the surface area is the first step toward keeping the water in the soil, instead of having it run off. Under the best of practices, however, there is some run-off, and practical methods have now been developed to keep this from being the menace it has been in the past.

To the Voters of Morrow County.

I wish to thank the voters of Morrow county for the fine support given me in the recent general election.

Also, I wish to express my sincere appreciation to my many friends throughout the county, who, by their faithful efforts on my behalf, made possible my election to the office of District Attorney.

I realize the responsibility with which I have been entrusted, and will strive to the best of my ability to justify the confidence expressed by your vote.

county has taken up his new duties as assistant professor of farm crops at Oregon State college. Replacing him in Malheur county is Carl Dehlinger of Klamath Falls, a June graduate of the O. S. C. school of agriculture, who has been serving as assistant secretary of the county agricultural conservation association in Umatilla county.

Following his graduation from Utah State Agricultural college in 1930, Harris was granted a fellowship in the farm crops department at Oregon State, and received his masters degree in 1932. He then became part-time instructor in farm crops and in 1934 accepted the position of emergency agricultural assistant in Malheur county.

Another change in county extension workers is the resignation of J. M. Stein, assistant county agent in the Gilliam-Wheeler district, to conduct a private farming enterprise in Wheeler county. He will be succeeded by Arnold Ebert, also a 1936 graduate of the O.S.C. school of agriculture, who has served as assistant secretary of the Walla Walla county agricultural conservation association since graduation.

State police presented arrest tickets to 685 erring motorists during September, resulting in fines totaling $7655 and jail sentences aggregating nearly seven years. Drunk drivers, of whom 38 were apprehended during the month, were the hardest hit by the courts, drawing fines amounting to $2943 and jail sentences totalling 1736 days. Warning slips were presented to 7258 motorists during the month.

Are the Dark Ages Still With Us? Startling Revelations About Light and Sight SEEING TAKES ENERGY! Science has proved that a person trying to do exacting visual work in inadequate light uses up as much or more energy than if he were playing football or digging a ditch. When you come home from the office "dog-tired" for no apparent reason... when you fall asleep over your book or paper at home... when you become nervous and irritable while sewing or doing other close work... poor light has sapped your energy! If you continue to use your eyes in inadequate light, eyestrain is inevitable. Let a free Sight Meter test show you the truth about your lighting.

Human eye poor judge of light! Because the human eye attempts to adapt itself to almost all light conditions, it is not a good judge of light. Only the precise photo-electric eye of the Sight Meter tells exactly how much light is in any given spot and prescribes the amounts needed for effortless seeing at various types of work. Scientifically designed lamps give glare-free, sight-saving light! The new I.E.S. Better Sight Lamps have a bowl of diffusing glass between bulb and shade which prevents glare and harsh contrasts and sends part of the light to the ceiling for general illumination. By using these lamps you see without eyestrain. The lamp illustrated is the new low End Table Model, ideal for use at each end of your davenport. This and other new models are on display in dealers' and our nearest office. Right now all dealers in I.E.S. lamps are participating in the nation-wide I.E.S. 2nd Birthday Sale. Had your lighting checked recently? Then call or write your nearest Pacific Power & Light Company office and ask for your free Sight Meter test.
