HE annual Red Cross roll call has started. The time has come to provide funds for another year to carry on America's greatest hu manitarian relief organization.

Directed and controlled by nonsalaried officers composed of men and women of unimpeachable moral character—the high executive, President Roosevelt himself being honorary chairman—this organization is first at the scene of disaster, dressing wounds, administering suc cor against cold and starvation.

Feed sacks will for two months, dispensing funds required, and would at the same be spoiled and the rats will start for two months, dispensing funds in work of rehabilitation, totalling more than $2500. That is more than this county contributes to the organiaztion in several years' time. The Red Cross has only the mon ey from the annual roll call with which to keep intact the large, necessary organization ready to func-tion at a moment's notice of disaster. The national organization re-ceives less than fifty per cent of the membership money, the remainder staying at home for use in local emergencies. The dollar asked for individuals and five dollars for the group memberships is a small pre-mium to pay for humanitarian in-

Again this year let's put Morrow county over the top. A heart and a dollar are the only qualifications for membership in the Red Cross.

1937 AAA Program Soon To Have Details Fixed

Early completion and announcement of details of the 1937 agricultural conservation program is promised by officials of the AAA in the western region and at Washington The latest move in speeding up the program is the calling to Washing-ton of representative farmers and extension men from all parts of the United States to assist in final consideration of the many suggestions made at community, county and re-gional meetings held throughout the United States last October.

Oregon delegates to this conference are N. E. Dodd of Baker, who is a member of the state commit-tee in charge of the program, and Wm. L. Teutsch, assistance county agent leader. Mr. Teutsch went to Washington directly from a region-al county planning conference in Salt Lake City. His work at the na-tional capital is expected to continue until about December 1.

A 1937 program which will more nearly fit the desires and needs of the farmers themselves than was possible to develop in the hurried atmosphere from which the 1936 program came is the desire of all those concerned, says George E. Farrell, director of the western region. He says that the suggestion made by Oregon representatives af-ter the local meetings in this state have in varying degrees been in-cluded in recommendations from other states. As many of these will be incorporated as practicable. The outstanding proposal made
