

Local Happenings

W. E. Regan of La Grande and T. J. Carson of The Dalles, both conductors and members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, were business visitors in the city Saturday evening working in the interests of national legislation which would permit the railroads to set rates competitive with steamship rates and thus help avert dire consequences from tie-ups of the maritime industry through strikes such as now prevail on the coast. Mr. Carson is exalted ruler of The Dalles lodge of Elks.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Babb and Norton King arrived from Ontario yesterday and the Babbs will remain over the holidays. Norton drove to Ontario Sunday for them, being accompanied by Gerald Roberts who is spending the holidays with relatives at Ontario. Mrs. Babb received word by telephone last night that her son, Martin V. King, would arrive the first of the week from Hollywood for a four-day visit.

Frank Fraters was in town yesterday from Eight Mile. Grain in his section has not been hurt to date, in his belief, and he held the hope that a good soaking was on the way to help bring it along.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Dick motored to Portland the first of the week. On the return they were accompanied by their son, Ed, and Elwayne Lieuallen, students at Pacific university, Forest Grove.

Joe Green arrived home this week from University of Oregon at Eugene to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Green. Joe is a member of the university band.

Miss Ilene Kilkenny, who has been in nurse's training at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland, arrived home the end of the week to spend the holidays.

Mrs. Louis Cason and daughter Betty have arrived from Ashland to spend the holidays with Mr. Cason at the ranch in the mountains.

Miss Irene Beamer has arrived home from Pacific university, Forest Grove, to spend the holidays with her mother, Mrs. Clara Beamer.

Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Sackett of Salem are expected at the home of Mrs. Sackett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Notson, for the holidays.

Miss Mildred McDaniel of Hardman has been visiting friends and relatives in Seattle, Salem and Portland for the last three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lieuallen made a business trip to Pendleton yesterday. Mr. Lieuallen has taken an agency for aluminumware.

Dr. J. P. Stewart, Eye-Sight Specialist of Pendleton, will be at the HEPPNER HOTEL on WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 30th.

C. Melville was among folks of the Alpine district shopping in Heppner yesterday.

C. N. McLaughlin was in the city yesterday from the Lena district.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Marquardt, in the city yesterday from the north Lexington farm, expected to spend Christmas at Pendleton.

Most of the neighbors on Butter creek were in the city yesterday to attend last rites for the late Thomas J. O'Brien.

Clair Phelan is home for the holidays from Oregon State college, Corvallis, where he is a major in engineering.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Padberg were among folks of the Lexington district transacting business in the city yesterday.

Francis Nickerson, U. of O. student, is home for the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Nickerson.

Glenn Farrens was among residents of the Hardman vicinity transacting business in the city Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Tucker and small daughter were visitors in the city Tuesday from Ione.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young of the Ione section were transacting business in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Aiken have arrived from Portland for a visit with relatives and friends.

Omar Rietmann was among folks of the Ione section transacting business here Tuesday.

Editorial

Christmas has again made its appearance in the "March of Time," and many hearts are gladdened by the thoughts of the reunion with loved ones. King Frost will set his icy fingers on the scene, thus helping to paint more clearly the picture of holiday fun.

Let's enjoy ourselves and make others happy while doing so. It is merry making. Everyone feels the tingling joy of a holiday season.

This is not only a season of receiving, but also of giving. We can do a lot for people by giving more than receiving, and after all, it isn't the gift we give, but the spirit in which we give it.

Christmas

There was a Christmas party at the gymnasium Wednesday, in the form of a big social hour. It lasted from eight o'clock to eleven, and a good time was had by all. Refreshments were served by the Home Economics club. Other committees were appointed for decoration and entertainment. Students from the high school who have graduated in the last four years were invited also.

Heppner Bows to Goldendale

The Fighting Irish tasted defeat for the first time this season at the hands of the fast breaking Goldendale squad at Goldendale last Saturday. The Washington speedy five ran up a total of 34 points to the Oregonians' 28.

The Washington team held the lead throughout most of the game, Heppner taking the lead only once when Gilman sank a basket at the opening of the second quarter.

Pacer for the Heppner quintet was Hoskins, with 10 points; Van Marter was next with 8.

Class News

The junior class members have ordered their class rings. They had their pick between gold and silver; also gold and silver rings with sets. They expect the rings to be thoroughly satisfactory.

Feature Flash

The alarming number of colds and absences in the last few days make us wonder whether Winifred Rhoades isn't right to a large degree in "It's the Soul That Needs Treatment." She says "Sick bodies are after all the result of sick souls, and thus we must develop inner strength to face life squarely."

Boys' Sports

The boys' gym class has taken up the subject of basketball. The boys are divided up into four groups. Twelve minute games are staged between the groups. Later on, the class will be divided up into regular teams.

Ag. II class is building a foot-bath in the boys' shower room. This was a much needed accessory, as there was much danger of "athlete's foot" getting started among the boys.

It seems that many gym suits have disappeared. Many have no way in identifying them—all are urged to sew their initials in their suits, so if they are misplaced, they can be identified.

Humor

Did you know that—

Eileen Kelly looked for the mistletoe all afternoon, and nothing happened?

Gerald Cason asked everyone to bring him razor blades for Christmas, to go with his three razors.

'Tis easy enough to be pleasant When life flows along without a frown;

But the one worth while is the one who can smile

When his garters are coming down? * * *

Miss Peterson: (after Fred had nearly tripped one of the girls in the aisle.) "Don't you know you shouldn't do that—you had better count to ten after this."

Fred: "Yeah, but she'd be gone by then."

BOARDMAN

By LA VERN BAKER

The F. F. A. boys' play came off with a big bang last Wednesday evening. A large crowd attended and enjoyed the show.
