Heppner to Play Grass Valley

This coming Saturday night at the gymnasium the Heppner and Grass Valley high school basketball teams will oppose each other for the first time in several years, in what promises to be the most exciting game so far this season at Heppner.

Having taught at Grass Valley for several years, Mr. Tetz, coach of Heppner's team, knows most of the boys on their team and says that four of the five have played basketball together since they were in the fourth grade. This is an indication of the strength of their team, and as many of you will remember Grass Valley represented their district at the district tournament here last year, and will undoubtedly be the strongest team Heppner has played so far this season.

The Heppner team is also composed of veterans and has won four out of the five games it has played. Both the Heppner and Grass Valley teams play the same type of game, a fast-breaking offense and man-to-man defense, and consequently the game will be fast and full of thrills, with anything liable to happen. If Heppner can win this game, it will be an indication that our team is really going places. Mr. Tetz is particularly anxious to win this game from a personal standpoint, and the team members intend to do their part.

Everybody be sure to come! It is guaranteed that you will see a game well worth seeing and one you'll not soon forget.

Heppner Swamps Lexington

In a fast rough game on the local court last week, the Fighting Irish took the measure of the Lexington squad and ran over them by a 21 point margin.

Heppner took an early lead and held it throughout the remainder of the game, the score at half time being 23 to 5.

Munkers of Heppner paced both squads with 11 points, while his teammates, Turner and Gilman, garnered 10 each. High scorer for the Jackrabbits was Palmer, with 3 field goals.

Basketball Spirit

Basketball season is upon us again. Our chances for a winning team are bright, but a lot depends upon us, the students. A good team is not made from practice alone. It is made from the support it gets. ATTENDING THE GAMES will not help much if we go just to be going somewhere. We have to go to the games with the idea in mind of backing our team whether it is winning or losing. Cheering them on continually is really showing our loyalty to the team. Catcalls for the opposing team only show our poor sportsmanship. Let us throughout the basketball season show our team that we are loyal to them whether they win or lose.

Excuse?

Through the misty, swirling snow, two figures, muffled and wrapped to the "high" brows, struggled toward an ultimate goal. Ho! One falters and nearly falls. His comrade takes his arm, and on again they go, only to stumble and both go down in a drifted pile of snow. Can it be exhaustion from this supreme effort? Nay, these "kids" think they can play along on the way to school and then use the deep snow as an excuse to get out of staying in an hour for being late. We are rather dubious.

Semester Tests

Now that vacation is over, students can settle down to prepare for semester tests. Everyone will take all of his semester exams this year. This is somewhat of a blow to the pride of those students who have been proud of the fact they have never taken a semester test because of exemptions. However, we realize that tests are being required of all beginners in the important fields of life's work and we should get our preparation for and experience in taking this type of examination in high school.

Another valuable outcome of these examinations is the help in summing up what we have gained from each course during the year.

Some think of exams with dread and trembling because of the fear of failure. There should be no grounds for this feeling if their daily preparation has been satisfactory. If their work merited exemption under the old plan they should certainly be well prepared to pass these semester tests.

Pep Club Holds Meeting

The Pep club held a meeting on January 5th to draw the names of three people to be taken in as members of their club. The three names drawn were Harriet Hager, Robert Scrivner and Riley Munkers.

"Guess Who"

Very nice looking is she, this junior girl who has a pretty head of blond hair, blue eyes, and long lashes. She likes all types of activities and may be seen at dances, the theater, on the hill coasting, bicycling, or hiking.

During the recent vacation she could usually be found at the home of a girl friend whose brother from college was spending the holidays at home. No matter where she is she likes to joke and get into a little mischief. She always likes to have a good time and is seldom sad. She likes all types of people especially red-heads. She is a very outstanding girl and naturally has many friends.

Christmas Social Hour

As a last get-together before the holidays, the high school student body gave an informal dance in the school gymnasium Wednesday, December 23. All members of the student body and the alumni of Heppner were invited. About forty-five couples attended.

The gym was decorated with red and green streamers. There was a small tree in each of the four corners of the gym and a large tree in the center. The floor was lighted by spotlights at each end and two floor lamps at the entrance.

The music was furnished by Marjorie Parker and Miss Leathers at at piano and Buddy Blakely at the drums. Refreshments were served at eleven o'clock, after which time everyone wished everyone else a merry Christmas and a happy new year and departed.

Christmas Vacations

Miss Katherine Mitchell, our commercial teacher, reports that she had a very nice time during Christmas vacation. She flew by airplane from Pendleton to Nyssa, her home town, where she had an enjoyable visit with her folks. The last three days of vacation she spent in Pendleton.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Peavy spent the holidays in Corvallis at the home of Mr. Peavy's parents. Mr. Peavy reports they had a very enjoyable time visiting with his family and friends.

Miss Dorothy Peterson, our home economics teacher, enjoyed a splendid vacation in Los Angeles, visiting her mother and sister.

Mr. Grimes visited his parents at Harrisburg during the vacation. He also attended the O. S. T. A. meeting held at Portland and visited the Smith-Hughes department at Scappoose. Though he returned to Heppner early, he had a very pleasant vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Blankenship motored to Centralia, Wash., to spend Christmas eve with Mr. Blankenship's parents. On Christmas day they went to Everett, Wash., and visited Mrs. Blankenship's folks for several days. They also spent several days visiting friends in Seattle. After the O. S. T. A. meeting in Portland they returned to Heppner, bringing with them Mr. Blankenship's sister who will spend some time visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs. Tetz spent a portion of their vacation with Mrs. Tetz's parents at Grass Valley. Later Mr. Tetz attended the O. S. T. A. meeting in Portland. He reports the unusual privilege of being present at a free banquet there. They returned to Heppner to celebrate the coming of the new year.

Have you ever—

Seen Mr. Blankenship in hip boots?

Noticed who was on the debate team?

Wondered about the new names of some of the students—Van Marter, "Punch Drunk Tuffy Van Marter" and Fred Hoskins, "Turtle Foot Hoskins"?

Found out who went on a snow party Monday night?

Wondered why Miss Peterson ran from home to the theater Monday night? (Snowballs surely fly.)

—H.H.S.—

Ed.: "Mr Peavy, are there any good jokes in here."

Mr. Peavy: "Yes, plenty of them."

—H.H.S.—

Ruth Green: "Where do all of the Christmas handkerchiefs go to?"

Fred Hoskins: "I don't know."

Ruth: "No one nose."

—H.H.S.—

Mr. Grimes, in Ag. Class II: "Bill, what are you going to raise for a project?"

Bill Browning: "Do I get any grade for raising heck?"

—H.H.S.—

Have you ever wondered why—

Andy Shoun has dark circles under his eyes?

Mr. Peavy changed the seating arrangement in English V class?

So many people find the halls slippery?

So many history units are still due?

So many people worry about taking semester tests?

So many errors are made in typing?

So many students turned out for the debate team?

Why Lawrence Wehmeyer hates the girls?
