

BOARDMAN

By LA VERN BAKER

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thorpe of Portland were visitors on the project last week end. Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe were former residents of Boardman and are now employed in the real estate business.

The annual alumni ball was given Saturday evening. The gym was decorated in St. Patrick designs. There was a large crowd attended and several prize dances held.

The Home Economics club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. A. Baker Wednesday afternoon. There was an extra large crowd of about thirty women.

The Misses Mary Harney, Clara Ruff and Jeanette Turner were guests in Boardman over the week end. They are former teachers in the Boardman schools. Miss Harney is employed in Portland, Miss Ruff in Newberg and Miss Turner at Colton.

A basketball banquet was given the high school boys Saturday evening. It was given by the home economics girls who were supervised by Miss Marie Ledbetter. Several of the boys gave short talks at the banquet and it was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wicklander, Jr., have rented the place vacated by L. Bush and will move in a few days.

L. Schnitzer has moved his broom factory to Portland, as not enough broom corn was being planted this year to warrant his staying here. Mr. Funkhouser did his hauling for him.

Word has been received of the marriage of Miss Edith Richardson and Earl Heffner. They are to make their home in Boise, Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Uthe spent a few days in Yakima last week. Mrs. Uthe, Lester's mother, who has been visiting there returned with them.

The Boardman high school entertained the Umatilla and Irrigon high schools with a lovely party Friday evening. There were about one hundred present. The evening was spent playing games and then each school presented a short skit after which refreshments and dancing were enjoyed.

A P. T. A. benefit program was given Thursday evening to help raise money. A program consisting of skits, songs, readings and a mock trial was presented. A large crowd attended.

Miss Joyce Pucket of Irrigon spent the week end visiting Miss Mildred Ayers. Miss Pucket then went to Pasco where she will spend a short time.

Miss Francis Bray of Umatilla spent the week end at the Jones home.

Miss Betty McKenzie of Umatilla was a week-end guest at the Compton home.

Miss Mae Wooster of Umatilla spent a few days visiting Elizabeth Slinger this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Colosso of Barnhart visited in Boardman this week end.

Dallas Wilson was a business visitor on the project Monday.

A grange kitchen shower was held Tuesday evening to help equip the new kitchen. The evening was spent playing games, cards, and dancing. A paper-sack lunch was enjoyed by all.

Sexed Chicks Best for Average Poultry Farm

The practice of purchasing sexed chicks, now common in Oregon, is more economical than buying mixed chicks for the ordinary purchaser unless he has ample brooding equipment and special advantageous broiler outlets, says Frank L. Knowlton, poultry husbandman at Oregon State college, in discussing this question in a new bulletin entitled, "Chick Brooding and Rearing." If the chicks are properly handled while being sorted, there is no injury to them as chicks, or later as laying pullets, he says.

"The mortality of sexed pullets during the brooding period is generally lower than for unsexed chicks of the same quality," Knowlton points out in the bulletin. "The slightly lower death rate is due to two principal factors; first, day-old pullets have twice as much room under the brooder because only half as many as straight-run chicks are put under one brooder; second, the sexed pullets cost twice as much as unsexed chicks and naturally receive more attention and care.

"As the purchaser of the day-old pullets pays for the undelivered cockerel, it is to be expected that the pullet raised to maturity will cost a few cents more than a pullet from an unsexed lot. The sexed pullets have more brooder space; they mature more evenly, have less severe disease outbreaks, and develop fewer cannibalistic habits. The slight increase in mature-pullet cost is more than justified, except for farms having ample brooding equipment and special advantageous broiler outlets not available to producers generally."

The new bulletin, No. 497, by the extension service, is the latest guide to chick rearing practices put out by the college. It discusses brooder houses, artificial yards, brooders, feeding equipment, feeding rations, sexed chicks and brooding management. It is well illustrated with pictures of portable brooder houses, various types of electric and other brooders, and home-made chick feeding equipment.

Chick feeding is emphasized as particularly important because errors made in feeding during the growth period cannot be corrected after the fowl is mature. Where chicks are brooded and reared in large numbers in relatively close confinement, free range cannot be depended upon to correct errors in feeding judgment, the author says.

Furniture Finish Needs Continual Care in Use

A piece of furniture, no matter how finished, is never "finished" to the extent that it will continue to stay in good condition, says Miss Joan Patterson, extension specialist in home furnishings.

The real gloss and luster on furniture is not obtained just with paint or varnish, but by proper care, Miss Patterson explains. Wood needs an occasional oiling to fill the pores and keep it from drying out. Another beauty aid for furniture is to keep a pan of water near the stove or radiator to keep the room air moist. The air in houses is usually too dry, so that furniture tends to dry out, the parts become loose, the wood warps and cracks and veneering may loosen.

A very satisfactory furniture polish to use at least once or twice a year on varnished or oiled furniture is made by mixing two parts of boiled linseed oil with one part of turpentine, according to Miss Patterson. The mixture is applied with a soft cloth. After all excess polish is wiped off with another clean cloth, the surface of the furniture is rubbed, with the grain of the wood, until it is thoroughly dry and finger marks do not show on the wood.

For cleaning badly soiled wood, Miss Patterson recommends a mixture consisting of one quart of hot water, three tablespoons of boiled linseed oil and one tablespoon of turpentine. This is best warmed in a double boiler and used while warm. It is applied with a soft cloth, and polished off with a dry one.

To restore a waxed wood surface which has been scratched or spotted, first wash with turpentine and then re wax, Miss Patterson says. If the wood is dark it is a good idea to add a little black oil paint to the wax.

Plans have been made for Miss Patterson to hold a series of furniture refinishing schools for homemakers in four counties this spring, beginning with one in Jackson county March 22. The others will be in Columbia, Multnomah and Umatilla counties.

Lewis Knighten, who is well recovered from a recent paralytic stroke, was among Hardman people in the city Saturday.

THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES

How to Display It—How to Respect It.

Following is the list of questions prepared by the American Legion Auxiliary Americanism committee on the flag of the United States, for the eighth grade boys' Americanism contest:

81. State the purposes of such legislation.
82. How are soiled or worn flags cared for?

HELP KIDNEYS

To Get Rid of Acid and Poisonous Waste

Your kidneys help to keep you well by constantly filtering waste matter from the blood. If your kidneys get functionally disordered and fail to remove excess impurities, there may be poisoning of the whole system and body-wide distress.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be a warning of some kidney or bladder disturbance.

You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous; all played out.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. Ask your neighbor!
