

Theaters Show "Why" of Empire Days

Theaters in Oregon and Washington are showing a new movie, "Why?" during the period between April 1-10 as part of the promotional campaign being sponsored by Columbia Empire Industries, Inc., to stimulate consumer interest in products grown or manufactured in the northwest.

The film, which takes two minutes to run, points out the need for developing industrial payrolls in the northwest. The plot deals with a young boy who, discouraged after more than a year of fruitless job hunting, returns home to find the solution of his troubles in his mother's kitchen cabinet.

"Why?" was filmed by Screen Adettes, Portland motion picture producers.

MEXICAN HEGIRA

(Continued from Page Three) of what was to me a new kind of sauce (or catsup) named "Bufalo"—I thought I had poured on a new variety of red TNT! It took a strong guy to stand up to that sauce, as it did to the coffee which followed.

Coffee was planted in the shade of the jungle all over these hills about 400 years ago, and I'm sure the coffee we got was started to boil ever since the first harvest 399 years ago—it would take that long to arrive at its present potency. If an automobile engine would just burn it! What speed! What power!

Well, we finally arrived in our Mexican home, after I had dragged the "Botika Lady" out of three drug stores—the homing instinct, I suppose. She does learn a lot about comparative prices, etc., and my Spanish gets a good work-out as I try to act as interpreter—and some of these drug-clerks are so handsome!

All day I was haunted by reminiscences of the rural life of China—the mat huts, fields, hills, oxen for water-buffalo; burros for men with "dang-poles"—both aged, sleepy, poised, charming and a little enchanted!
