Music Festival Friday

On Friday, April 30, among the other festivities of the day, the annual Music Festival will take place. Every year the schools from districts surrounding Heppner come here to enter into the contests, games and other activities. The program in the evening is for the purpose of grouping these schools together in divisions and having them sing required pieces. The festival this year is under the direction of Miss Juanita Leathers, the local seventh grade teacher. Miss Leathers and Mr. Peavy, the high school chorus director, have been drilling both choruses for several weeks. The festival this year should prove to be one of the largest and best ever held.

F.F.A. Convention in Corvallis

The F. F. A. boys left early this morning (Thursday) for the state Future Farmers of America convention at Corvallis. This is the first time that Heppner has been represented at the convention. Those making the trip were: Livestock judging, Fred Hoskins, Marvin Casebeer, Bill Browning; dairy judging, Lester Taylor, Homer Hughes, Leland Edmundson; surveying demonstration, Fred Hoskins, Riley Munkers; plane sharpening demonstration, Howard Patton and Omer McCaleb; record keeping, Lawrence Wehmeyer. They were accompanied by Mrs. Frank Edmundson and Mr. Grimes.

Junior-Senior Banquet Soon

Now that it is nearing the end of the school year, the juniors are busy making arrangements for the annual junior-senior banquet. This banquet is given for the seniors by the juniors class and this year is to be held in the Elks' temple. After the banquet there will be a "prom" in the Elks' hall for the high school students and invited friends.

Brain Buster

Answer to last week's Brain Buster: Peacocks do not lay eggs. Peahens do!

This week's Brain Buster: Mr. Simpson met a friend whom he had not seen for many years. The friend said, "I married, shortly after I last saw you, someone you never knew. And this," presenting a young girl, "is my daughter. Her name is the same as her mother's." Mr. Simpson patted the child on the head and said, "I am glad to know you, Margaret," and resumed his conversation.

How did he know the child's name was Margaret?

Ten Years Ago This Week

At the declamatory contest held this year, Heppner took two first prizes and one second. Evelyn Swendig took first in the dramatic division for presenting "The Littlest Rebel." Dorothy Herren won first in the humorous division by giving "At the Movies." In the oratorical division, Cornett Green received second prize for presenting "The Man With the Hoe."

The Heppner baseball team was sadly beaten by the Ione squad. The final score was 18-8.

The Heppner grade school team also met defeat at Ione, with a score of 22-9.

A carnival will be held at the old Chevrolet garage Friday evening, May 6, by the H club boys and the Booster club girls.

Heppner Wins Over Arlington

Heppner finished its home-game schedule last Friday with a 5 to 3 victory over Arlington. The two Mustang pitchers, Gilman and Van Marter, held Arlington to 3 hits in the nine-inning game.

As in their last game, Heppner's big inning came in the second, Munkers, Gilman and Coxen crashing out three hits for the same number of runs, the locals having made one in the first inning. The Honkers were held scoreless until the fourth inning when an error, hit, a walk, and a sacrifice brought in their first score. They made one more run in the sixth and another in the eighth. Heppner's final tally came after a single by Munkers was converted into a run.

Gilman struck out twelve men in six innings to bring his total to fifty-one in 29 innings, with Van Marter fanning eight in three frames.

The outstanding play of the year was witnessed in this game. An Arlington batter knocked a line drive, that was doomed for a sure hit, just over Riley Munkers' head. Munkers made a spectacular stab for the ball, leaping several feet off the ground, and came back to earth with it held tightly in his glove.

Guess Who?

He's the boy in our high school whom no girl could hate, For he's driving a new Ford V-8. They couldn't hate him anyhow, But the Ford is the big attraction now.

This boy is a member of the F. F. A., A likeable kid in every way. If his initials you wish to know, To R. G. you will have to go.

Open House Held Last Friday

On Friday, April 23, the annual Open House for parents was held at the Heppner school and gymnasium. The various class rooms, containing exhibits, were open for inspection from 7:00 to 8:00. At 8:00 an entertainment was held in the gym, consisting of grade school numbers, a style show, number by the uarter, a demonstration by the F. F. A., and several band selections. After the program the school house was again opened for those who did not have the opportunity to go through it before 8:00. A large crowd turned out which filled all the seats in the gymnasium-auditorium and found many with only standing room.

Happy Days Are Here Again

Three more weeks and one more day, and we'll be out of school—la, la, la! Yes, sir, our vacation is slowly creeping up on us, and most of the students are yawning over their books leisurely waiting for it to arrive. However, those yawns will freeze on their faces when semester tests come sliding up and catch them off guard. It might be a good idea if we stretched a little and really began to study, or our semester grades will be "gone with the wind" we blew out in those yawns.

The person who invented swing music ought to—

One swallow may not make a summer, but a frog makes a spring. It won't be long until hay fever sneason.

PINTO-POINTS

The local track team should be highly commended for their showing in the six-way meet held at Pendleton last Saturday. Only two men, King and Gilman, placed in any of the events, with Heppner taking three second places and the same number of third positions, for a total of 18½ points. This meet was in competition with four class "A" schools, Arlington being the only team besides Heppner in the "B" bracket.

Most of the track team is composed of members who also are on the baseball roster, and the result is that they do not get the training that the track regulars receive. Were these baseball-track boys placed under a stiff track routine, they would provide tough competition for any high school tracksters.

Norton King, Heppner sprint man, after getting off to a slow start in the century dash, put on a burst of speed, and showed his competitors something about the art of cinder-pathing, finishing in second position. In the pole-vault, Gilman tied with Fist of Mac-Hi, always a Heppner basketball favorite, at 10 feet 3 inches. King placed second in the broad jump, with Gilman finishing second in the javelin, and third in the high hurdles, and the relay team winding up in third position.

Those of you who read the results of high school track meets held in western Oregon and southern Washington, you will find that the track men of eastern Oregon compare very favorably with the cinder-pathers of the other sections of the state. In fact, a select group of eastern Oregon tracksters competing against the same of the opposite section of the state would really make a track meet, with the outcome a toss-up.

Here and there . . . The American League, during the 1936 baseball season, used 19,697 horehides in 627 nine-inning games, an average of 31 per game and more than 3 per inning. This year's spectacular play . . . Munkers' successful catch of a fly for which he leaped high in the air, almost falling over in his attempt. And Gilman's strike-out record still soars . . . 51 in 29 innings. The plays in the benefit program, May 7th, to raise funds for the swimming pool are for a very worthy cause . . . let's have no empty seats in the gymnasium.

Officer: "How did you knock this pedestrian down?"

Charles Cox: "I didn't knock him down. I just pulled up to him, stopped the car, and waited to let him pass. He fainted."

First Fly: "What are you so happy about?"

Second Fly: "I just passed the screen test."

Van Jr.: "But, Dad, don't you believe that two can live as cheaply as one?"

Van Sr.: "Sure. Your mother and I are living as cheaply as you."

Mr. Tetz: "Now at what speed does light travel?"

G. Roberts: "Pretty fast, sir. Anyway, it gets here far too soon in the morning." (I wonder if he is having any trouble getting excuses for tardiness?)

Have You Ever—

Wondered what made Van cry in the show Monday night?

Seen Maxine talking to "Gabby" on the corner?

Wondered who Arlene has been razzing Van about?

Wondered why they call Irwin "Bird Legs?"

Wondered why Kay Parker doesn't need a fishing license? (It couldn't be the kind of fish she catches.)

Wondered if Clayton Wright's getting his time beaten or not?

Wondered why Charles Cox didn't win the money last bank night? (Leave it to a woman!)

Wondered why no one besides Len can drive McCurdy's car?

CURVES DEADLY.

You are not so likely to be injured on Oregon's highway curves—only four per cent of automobile injuries take place there—you are more likely to be killed there. There are three times more deaths per accident on highway curves than at other locations.
