

Local Happenings

Dr. Walter E. Hempstead of Portland was in Heppner Tuesday with E. T. Irwin, Portland book-binding firm representative, enjoying his first trip through eastern Oregon. Though Heppner was being treated to a slight dust storm at the time, Dr. Hempstead said he didn't mind as he became used to such things when he lived in Oklahoma in the days before the Indian territory was opened to settlement.

Mrs. Rebecca Patterson went to Portland Saturday to receive specialized medical attention in her illness. She was taken as far as Arlington by the Phelps ambulance and went on by train accompanied by her niece, Mrs. A. A. Amort, and Mr. Amort. Her son, B. R. Patterson, also accompanied her as far as Arlington.

James D. Cash, former local J. C. Penney Co. store manager, from La Grande, and Ben H. Gibson of Pendleton were business visitors in Heppner the end of the week. They represent a life insurance company. Mr. Cash shook hands with many old friends while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blahm, Mrs. Katie Brinker, Mrs. Marie Akers and little daughter, all of Walla Walla, were visitors in the city Tuesday. The Blahms were pioneer residents on Willow creek below Heppner, and still retain business interests here.

Dell Allstott and son Bernard arrived yesterday from Portland to remain until the end of the week on business while greeting old-time friends. Mr. Allstott, Sr., was laid up during the winter with arthritis but is feeling better.

Frank Clark, veteran woolbuyer, representative of Hollowell, Jones & Donald, with his daughter, Mrs. Burlson, was in the city the first of the week, leaving Tuesday for Fossil. They were registered at the Lucas Place.

The Lee Scrivner and Lester Doolittle families, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Chaffee, Wilbur Worden and John and Hugh Crawford composed a party going to Walla Walla Sunday for a picnic.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. John Franzen May 8, at their home in Baker, a 6 3-4 pound girl, Dorothy Louise. Heppner friends received word that both babe and mother are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schwartz arrived from Portland the end of the week to see about rebuilding the farm house on their ranch on Skinner creek, which burned last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pinkerton of Weston were Sunday visitors in Heppner. Mr. Pinkerton, grandson of the founder of Hardman, is postmaster of the Umatilla county town.

Jack Hynd returned to the Cecil farm Sunday, being well restored to health following the recent operation which kept him confined at Heppner hospital for some time.

Raymond H. Turner, manager of the Lexington Oil Co-Operative, was a business visitor in the city Saturday, accompanied by his young son.

"Doc" Mosier, Dick Green and Bill O'Sullivan were John Day men visiting in the city Sunday with their friend, James Farley, Jr.

Rice McHaley came over from his home at Prairie City the first of the week to look after business matters here.

Emil and Leonard Carlson were among Gooseberry farmers transacting business in the city Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bowker were visitors in the city yesterday afternoon from the Alpine farm home.

Grant Olden was transacting business in town yesterday from the Rhea creek farm.

Frank Edmondson was trading in town Monday from the Flats farm.

Jack Folsom of Pendleton was a Sunday visitor in Heppner.

Mayor Jones Asks City to Observe Poppy Day Saturday

Saturday, May 22, was designated as Poppy Day in Heppner by a proclamation issued today by Mayor Jeff Jones. In the proclamation, Mayor Jones called upon all citizens to observe the day by wearing memorial poppies in honor of the World War dead. The proclamation stated:

"The city of Heppner responded with highest patriotism to our nation's call for defenders in 1917 and 1918, sending many of its young men into the fighting forces.

"It is fitting that the service and sacrifice of these gallant young men should be commemorated annually by appropriate public observance. As the poppy, which grew on the battlefields where so many men fell, has become their memorial flower, there could be no more appropriate observance than a general wearing of the poppy in their honor.

"Therefore, I do hereby proclaim Saturday, May 22, as Poppy Day in the City of Heppner, and urge all citizens to show remembrance of the honor for the men of the city and of the nation who gave their lives in World War service by wearing poppies on that day."

Volunteer workers from the American Legion Auxiliary will distribute poppies throughout the city Saturday and receive contributions for the welfare of the living victims of the war, the disabled veterans, the widows and fatherless children.

Bobby Wright Leads Young Crow Hunters

Bobby Wright with 924 points held a substantial lead today in the contest of youngsters under 16 years to see who could bring in the most eggs and legs of crows and magpies. Colleen Kilkenny was second with 425 and Kemp Dick third with 338. Combined points in the contest totalled 3511.

The 21 youngsters entered have kept the finance officers of Morrow County Hunters and Anglers club, contest sponsor, busy keeping the coffers replenished to pay for the trophies. At the close of the contest, June 7, the three high point makers will receive a .410 shot gun and two .22 rifles, in addition to the cash paid for the trophies.

Other scores to date are Dick Wilkinson 332, Donald Wehmeyer 273, Don Edwards 176, Doyle Key 159, Douglas Drake 156, Wade Bothwell 141, Donald Evans 112, Billy Padberg 80, Paul Doolittle 71, Jack Morton 62, Eugene Massey 60, Claud Way 59, Donald Frederickson 58, Rufus Hill 48, Glen Coxen 14, Howard Gilliam 12, John Skuzeski 6, and Herbert Schunk 5.

All White Minstrels To Benefit Plunge

Plunkett's All White Minstrels, a coast-to-coast attraction, are coming to Heppner Wednesday, May 26, for a one night stand in their own tent as a swimming pool benefit attraction sponsored by the Lions club.

Recommended as clean, snappy entertainment by service clubs, lodges and theaters throughout 14 states where they have shown, the Plunketts will bring a 15-people variety show to Heppner featuring Gloria and Corky Plunkett, aged four and six, hailed as the youngest and most clever team of adagio dancers on the stage today. Trios, quartets, singers, dancers, comedians—these make up the evening's entertainment, all guaranteed clean and wholesome. Admission prices are set at 40 and 15 cents.

Following the show the Plunkett Dance band, which has been playing since 1920, will play for a dance at the Fair pavilion, also under Lions auspices.

ESKELSON-HYND.

A wedding of interest to their many Morrow county friends was that of Miss Beaulah Eskelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eskelson of this city, to Mr. John Ewing Hynd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hynd of Ukiah. The ceremony was performed Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock at the Episcopal church, with Rev. Ralph V. Hinkle officiating. Miss Zelma Eskelson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Herman Green was best man. A breakfast for the wedding party was given at Hotel Heppner following the ceremony, and the newlyweds left on their wedding trip in their automobile, fittingly decorated for the occasion, to the accompaniment of honking horns of cars loaded with friends who gave them a good start. The young couple will be at home to their friends at Ukiah.
