STATE CAPITAL NEWS

- Gosslin Rumor
- State Unions
- Howard Successor

By A. L. LINDBECK

Salem.—Rumors that W. L. Gosslin will soon be replaced as secretary to Governor Martin are again current around the state house. These latest rumors followed closely on the heels of Gosslin's protests to the Portland school board and the state board of higher education against the participation of a Portland teacher and a university professor in the recent Commonwealth Federation convention in Portland. While it is generally agreed the protests were lacking in tact and out of place friends of Gosslin insist that he is being made the "goat" in carrying out orders from his superior.

While similar rumors have been circulated before without any apparent foundation in fact those who profess to be in the "know" insist that the time is now ripe for a change and that soon a new secretary will be greeting visitors to the executive department. It is not expected that Gosslin will be dismissed as secretary to the governor but rather that he will resign his post to accept a better job probably as a member of the legal staff of the district attorney for Multnomah county.

Reports that the Oregon national guard would mobilize at Camp Clatsop again this summer are entirely without foundation according to Major General George A. White. The Oregon troops will join those of Washington, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming in a mobilization of the entire 41st division under command of Major General White. Fourteen thousand national guardsmen and regular army troops will take part in the two weeks maneuvers which are scheduled for August.

An audit of the records of the State Forestry department just completed reveals that $552,803 in forest patrol assessments levied during the past eight years remain unpaid. This situation is accounted for by the auditors as due either to errors in description of timber lands as submitted by the forestry board or to the arbitrary omission by county assessors in extending the tax rolls and in leaving off the rolls in some counties assessments against county owned lands. In this connection the auditors call attention to an opinion by Attorney General Van Winkle holding that timber lands acquired by the counties by tax sales are subject to fire patrol charges the same as are privately owned lands.

Holdings of fire insurance policies in non-admitted companies will be held responsible for the payment of premium taxes according to Hugh H. Earle, state insurance commissioner. Earle's statement followed action of the Marion county circuit court in fining the Rodgers-Hart-Banks company, Portland agents, $50 for writing insurance in a non-admitted company. Several holders of these policies have already voluntarily paid the premium tax but those who do not pay voluntarily will be subject to prosecution, Earle said.

Entirely apart from Governor Martin's declaration that the state could not and would not recognize a labor union in dealing with its employees, there does not appear to be any considerable enthusiasm among state employees over the proposal to unionize their ranks. Casual conversations with representative employees in various departments failed to disclose any real demand for organization. A few employees admitted that a union "might be a good thing" in negotiating grievances with department heads or in pressing demands for better pay before the legislature. For the most part, however, state employees recognize the fact that so far as wages, hours and working conditions go their lot is far better than that of the average person in private employment. Wages of clerks and stenographers in state employ, for instance, are much higher than those paid to similar employees in offices, stores and industries in Salem and Portland. State employees, as a rule, work less than eight hours a day with Saturday afternoons off, not to mention the numerous holidays.

State law limits the employment of workers—as distinguished from employees—on state jobs for more than eight hours a day or 48 hours a week except in emergencies. When these hours are exceeded the overtime is paid at double the regular hourly wage. In the highway department, largest employer of common labor, a minimum wage of 50 cents an hour is maintained with mechanics and skilled labor receiving a proportionately higher wage.

While some employees are inclined to favor an organization that will insure the permanence of their employment, together with sick benefits and retirement pay, these also expressed skepticism as to the ability of the ordinary labor union to provide these benefits. Most of the employees interviewed were inclined to agree with Governor Martin that about the only benefit to be expected through unionization would consist of the privilege of paying dues.

Governor Martin will not announce his choice of a successor to C. A. Howard as state superintendent of public instruction until after his return from San Francisco, about June 1. The governor said that he had received more than 18 applications for Howard's job and desired to personally interview several of the candidates. Speculation around the state house centers on three candidates, namely Rex Putnam of Albany; A. M. Cannon of Toledo and Paul Jackson of Chemawa.

The new milk, cream and butter grading law passed by the last legislature became operative last Sunday (April 16) according to Solon T. White, state director of agriculture. Under the new law all milk and cream sold to creameries, cheese factories, ice cream plants and condensaries in Oregon hereafter will be graded and paid for on a grade basis. That is first grade milk or "A" grade cream will command a better price than will second grade milk or "B" grade cream.

The state parole board has announced its intention of asking the legislative emergency board for an additional appropriation with which to finance the employment of a deputy parole officer to assist in the work of supervising paroled prisoners. Several measures sponsored by the parole board and designed to broaden the scope of the parole program in this state were defeated by the last legislature.

Oregon's 1938 automobile license plates will present an aluminum background with black letters and figures, according to Secretary of State Snell. Cost of the plates will be slightly under 10 cents a pair, the low bid being presented by the Irwin-Hodson company of Portland which has made the Oregon license plates for many years.

TRAFFIC GAMBLING "FIXED."

When you buy a sweepstakes ticket, notes Oregon State Motor association secretary Ray Conway, you hardly expect to win; but when you take an occasional chance in traffic, either walking or driving, you never expect to lose. But you are 11 times as likely to be killed or injured in an automobile accident this year as the holder of a sweepstakes ticket is to win even a small prize.
