

Local Happenings

Frank H. Lindsey was a business visitor in the city yesterday from the Morgan district. Mr. Lindsey has long been a breeder of good horses and mules, and expressed disappointment over the poor market conditions prevailing in this part of the livestock industry in view of the rapid depopulation of the animals.

Mrs. Alden Blankenship and Jean departed Monday with Mrs. Blankenship's mother, Mrs. Charles Gable, for the latter's home in Everett, Wash., where they will visit until joined later by Mr. Blankenship. Mrs. Blankenship remained here to look after matters in connection with the school.

The Harold Hill family visited last week end at the home of Harold's brother, Claude, near Redmond. On Sunday they went to East lake and report that favorite central Oregon fishing ground was crowded with people. About a hundred boats were on the lake at one time.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tetz and children expect to leave Monday for Grass Valley where they will visit for a time. Mr. Tetz expected to go to Eugene later for work at U. of O. summer school before entering upon his work as superintendent of schools at Adams in the fall.

Mrs. Eddie Thorp and children visited Pendleton last Saturday. They were accompanied by Miss McFerrin and little Miss Straight who left on the train to visit her father, Shirley Straight. Mrs. Hazel Williams took them over.

Miss Winifred Case returned home Friday from Prineville where she taught during the last school year. She accompanied her father who motored to Prineville for her. She was reelected to her position for the coming school year.

While in Portland recently, Mrs. Bonnie Cochran called on Mr. and Mrs. Al Ayers, former residents. They sent word to old-time friends to call on them when in the city. Mrs. Ayers is up and around. Al was putting in garden.

Among local teachers leaving this week after close of school were Miss Juanita Leathers and Miss Kathryn Mitchell who went to Portland, and Miss Dorothy Peterson who departed for her home in Los Angeles.

Charles Marquardt was transacting business in the city Monday from the farm near Lexington. Grain in his section would welcome rain.

Blaine E. Isom and his father-in-law, Henry Struve of Pendleton, are leaving today for a week-end fishing excursion on Crooked river.

Jeff Jones motored to Portland Tuesday on business. He was accompanied to the city by Mrs. Glen Jones and Mrs. Alex Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Beymer were in Heppner Saturday attending to business matters, coming over from their home at Redmond.

Dr. J. P. Stewart, Eye-Sight Specialist of Pendleton, will be at the HEPPNER HOTEL on WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2.

Mrs. Bonnie Cochran returned home Saturday evening from Portland where she had visited for a fortnight.

Mrs. Catherine Doherty and son Bernard were business visitors in the city yesterday from the Blackhorse farm.

Jack Hynd was in town Monday from Cecil, having well recovered from his recent appendicitis operation.

Ralph Harris, manager of Park hotel at Ione, was transacting business in the city for a few hours Tuesday.

Clyde Wells, former resident, was transacting business in the city Saturday from his home at Pendleton.

Carlton Swanson of Ione was a business visitor in the city Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Turner and Mrs. Cora Crawford motored to Pendleton Sunday and attended the morning memorial services at the Presbyterian church, also visiting at the home of Mrs. Crawford's sister, Mrs. J. B. Cooley. On the way home Sunday evening they also visited at the home of Mrs. Crawford's brother, John Spencer, near Stanfield.

Miss Elta Dale, teacher in the local schools, departed for her home at Helix following close of the school year, expecting to go later to University of Washington summer school at Seattle.

Martin Lovgren was a visitor in the city Saturday from the Eight Mile farm, reporting the growing crop as doing nicely but in a condition where rain would be welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Peavy departed for Corvallis following the close of school Friday. Mr. Peavy taught in the high school during the school year.

L. D. Neill of Pine City and Geo. N. Peck of Lexington, county commissioners, were both in the city Monday, looking after county and other business.

Friends Attend Rites For Miss Hawthorne

Many Heppner people were in Pendleton yesterday morning to join in paying last respects to Miss Minnie Hawthorne, sister of Mrs. C. L. Sweek and for several years a resident of this city, who died in Pendleton Monday afternoon. Miss Hawthorne resided with Mr. and Mrs. Sweek here before the family home was removed to Pendleton in 1931, when she accompanied them to that city.

Funeral services were conducted from the Episcopal church at 10:30 o'clock, Rev. F. C. Wissenback officiating. Interment was expected to be at Eugene tomorrow. Honorary pallbearers from here included J. O. Rasmus, Harold Buhman, B. R. Patterson, George Burroughs, Dr. A. McMurdo, W. E. Pruy, Wendell Cleveland and Ralph Thompson, with E. B. Aldrich of Pendleton and Will Doherty of Milton also acting in this capacity. Active pallbearers included Charles B. Cox and Glenn Jones of this city, Walter Moore, Ernest Young, Roger Kay and Harold Brock of Pendleton.

Miss Hawthorne was born in Corvallis in 1881, being the daughter of B. J. and Emma (Brown) Hawthorne, who came to Oregon from Richmond, Va., and New Orleans, respectively.

The family moved to Eugene in 1885 when Miss Hawthorne's father took the chair of professor of psychology with University of Oregon. Miss Hawthorne attended the university for two years and resided in Eugene until her father's death in 1926 when she came to Heppner and made her home with the Sweek family. Her mother died in 1914.

Besides her sister, Mrs. Sweek, she is survived by a brother, Thomas Hawthorne, a government engineer in Washington, D. C. Seven brothers and sisters preceded her in death. All her relatives are buried in Masonic cemetery, Eugene, where commitment will be made.

Miss Hawthorne was a member of the Episcopal church and Pendleton Woman's club. She held the respect and esteem of all who knew her.

Drivers' Licenses In Heavy Demand

A greater number of applications for renewal of drivers' licenses are being received by the state department than any time during a like period in the history of the department, according to an announcement by the secretary of state. It is estimated by the department that 450,000 drivers will be licensed during this period.

"This," states William Hammond, head of the operators' division, "is undoubtedly due to the large number of people who have taken up residence in Oregon since the last registration and to our emphasis upon the convenience to the motoring public of applying for their licenses early in order to eliminate the necessity of waiting in lines during the last minute rush."

"A greater distribution of renewal forms, upon which application for renewal license must be made, was

S. E. Notson Making Satisfactory Recovery

A letter from his son, Robert Notson, written Tuesday, conveys word that S. E. Notson is making satisfactory recovery from his recent operation at the Emanuel hospital in Portland. The operation was for an intestinal adhesion and while the incision was open, the appendix was also removed.

Expression of appreciation was extended to the many Heppner friends for their remembrances and well wishes, which Mr. Notson so far has not been able to answer personally. It was expected by his physician, Dr. W. H. Bueerman, that Mr. Notson would be able to sit up a little in three or four days.

Bauman, Hayes Pass Special Police Course

C. J. D. Bauman, sheriff, and Homer Hayes, city chief of police, were among graduates of a special nine-weeks' course in police work who were awarded diplomas at a luncheon at Hotel Pendleton Wednesday noon. L. V. Jenkins, Portland police commissioner, addressed the class and awarded the diplomas.

The course was sponsored by the League of Oregon Cities, and classes were held in Pendleton each Wednesday evening for the past nine weeks. The local men believe the work to have been entirely worth while, adding much to the fund of knowledge required for their work.
