

Survey Looking to North End Help Now Under Way

Planning Program to Conserve Range is Contemplated.

A complete range survey of the land included in Oregon Grazing district No. 7 will be started the first week in June. W. R. Frandsen, range technician of the soil conservation service, and Joe Belanger, county agent, spent Monday and Tuesday of this week going over the land in the district to determine the most feasible way to get this survey work under way.

Mr. Frandsen will have six or eight range examiners in his crew, and when the work is done will have complete data on the grazing capacity of every section of land within the district. In addition to mapping types of forage, the completed survey will show the location of water holes, roads, and sand blows, and will place the soil conservation service in a position to work out a complete long-time range improvement program for that area.

W. T. White, regional agronomist of the soil conservation service at Spokane, has been intensely interested in the area in the north end of Morrow county since the first talk of forming a grazing association there. Across the river, in Washington, in the section known as the "Horse Heaven" country, there are thousands of acres of range land similar in character and use to the land included in the Morrow Grazing association land. In cooperation with the grazing association, the soil conservation service plans to work out a long-time program designed to bring this range land back as close as possible to its original condition. Probably several areas within the district will have to be left completely idle until sand dunes and badly wind-blown areas can be stabilized. Additional water must be developed and management practices worked out which will eliminate some of the disastrous trailing which has prevented natural reseeding in localized areas.

The survey, being started by Mr. Frandsen, is the first step in planning this long-time range program. Details of land allotments and range improvement will have to be worked out by the soil conservation service and the advisors of this grazing district. With the present control of this area by the Morrow Grazing association and the cooperation of the soil conservation service and division of grazing, Morrow county has an opportunity to put on a real program of range conservation and improvement.

LEX CALF CLUB NEWS.

Joyce Biddle, Reporter.
Due to the press of school work the news for April is late going to press.

Mrs. Henry Rauch entertained the club April 2. Everyone enjoyed the evening and the delicious lunch served by the hostess.

May 7, the club met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Scott in Lexington. Leland Edmondson said a few words about the Baby Livestock show he had attended recently at Corvallis. Two committees were appointed: social committee to help the hostess serve lunch and to welcome visitors, and an entertainment committee.

Sunday, May 23, a special meeting was held at the C. N. Biddle ranch to practice judging dairy cattle and complete plans for taking members to the livestock show to be held at Union June 10-11-12. Previously this has been an eastern Oregon show, but this year and in the future will be statewide.

Club sponsors believe that the judging experience will be a fine thing for our entrants, even if they don't take livestock.

Since so few members have calves in shape it is doubtful that there will be any calves exhibited from this district.

Sunday Mr. Belanger helped the boys with their work, giving them excellent advice on judging and

At 5 o'clock a picnic dinner was enjoyed by all, on the lawn.

June 5 the Lexington grange is sponsoring a dance for the 4-H clubs. The Lexington Calf club will serve lunch. Excellent music is engaged. Everyone is invited to attend this dance, and every cent you spend will go for the expenses of the 4-H boys and girls attending the livestock shows this summer.

Old-Timers Visit Here; Flood Paper Brought

Sam Hall tended camp for Bill Penland when he first came to the county in 1892. He was here until 1899, when he started railroad, two years with Northern Pacific and 35 years with Union Pacific. Now retired on a pension, he came back a couple of weeks ago and has been visiting with his sister, Mrs. Rebecca Baldwin, and brother, Jess Hall. He finds many of his old-time friends missing and many changes from the old days. Having buried his wife, a sister of the late Mrs. L. A. Florence, last November, he is returning to Portland this week end for Memorial day. Mr. Hall left with the Gazette Times a copy of the Heppner Gazette of June 25, 1903, containing a full list of casualties and property damage of the flood of June 14 that year.

T. G. Arbuckle came to the county in 1877 when only two store buildings were in Heppner. He hauled lumber from the old Parkers mill for many of the early buildings. A brother-in-law of Mr. Hall, he is also visiting relatives from his home in Lewiston, Idaho, and was in town this morning with Mr. Hall.

McMAHON TRANSFERRED.

Corporal F. A. McMahon, state policeman in charge of Morrow county for the last seven years, announced while in town Monday that he has received notice of transfer to John Day, taking his new post the first of June. He expressed appreciation for the fine cooperation received from everyone in Morrow county while located at Arlington, and invited his old friends to look him up whenever they get over to John Day. Corporal M. E. Peterson, formerly located at John Day, will succeed Corporal McMahon in this district.

CALL FOR WARRANTS.

Outstanding warrants of School District No. 34, Morrow County, Oregon, up to and including Warrant No. 350, will be paid on presentation to First National Bank of Portland, Heppner Branch. Interest on said warrants not already called ceases May 28, 1937.

WILLOWS GRANGE, CLUB NEWS

Mary Lundell, Reporter.

The Home Economics club of Willows grange met at the O. L. Lundell home on lower Willow creek last Friday with Mrs. Mary Lundell and Mrs. Leola Brinkman as hostesses. Members and guests enjoying the potluck dinner were Mesdames Ledbetter, president; Peterson, Ball, Heliker, Lindsay, Fletcher, O'Meara, Padberg, Yarnell and Bryson, and Miss Dorothy Brady of Ione; Mesdames Krebs and Kopp of Cecil, Curtis and Leudtke of Willows and Mrs. Buschke of Morgan, and the hostesses. Mrs. Bryson, honor guest, was surprised with a miscellaneous shower, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. Many beautiful remembrances were received.

The club recently finished an attractive and colorful quilt which will be sold at a near future date.

The Home Economics club will present a program during the lecture hour at the next regular grange meeting. Skits, a one-act play, readings, papers and music promise a full hour of information and entertainment. On the same date a kitchen shower will be given for the grange kitchen. Members, men and women, are invited to contribute, and any visitors who wish.

The next regular meeting of the club will be June 16 at the farm home of James Lindsay, with Mrs. Lindsay and Miss Helen as hostesses.

Beginning June 27 Willows grange will hold its regular meetings on Sunday, continuing through the summer months. Meetings will be called at 11 o'clock. There will be a potluck dinner at noon. Grangers, join us in a pleasant day. Home economics program open to public.

At the regular meeting last Saturday evening, Mrs. Ida Kopp was elected to fill the vacancy as chaplain. The committee on grange hall location made a short report. Visitors present were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Troedson of Lexington grange.

Mary Lindsay was elected alternate delegate to the state grange convention to be held at The Dalles the week beginning June 7. Interesting talks on the recent trip to Waterville and Coulee dam were made by J. O. Kincaid and E. C. Heliker, both of whom made the trip.

The following program in honor of Mothers' and Fathers' day was given: Origin of Mothers' Day, read by Vida Heliker; recitation, "Why Mothers Day," Carleen Krebs; acrostics, words "Mother-Father," by six children; recitation, "A Little Girl's Hopes," Estelle Ledbetter; paper, "Ask Dad, He Knows," Mary Lundell; recitation, "Frowning," Amanda Brinkman; article, "How to Preserve a Husband," Clara Kincaid.

J. A. Troedson spent several hours in the city Monday on business from the farm in the Morgan section. While his wheat was looking pretty good, he was hoping for a good rain soon.
