IN NEW QUARTERS.

The Noble saddlery and shoe repair shop recently moved into its newly renovated quarters in the former Smith building next door to the Heppner Blacksmith and Machinery company. Mr. Noble recently purchased the property from the Smith estate, and renovated it to make modern and attractive quarters for this half-century-old saddle making establishment.

Drs. L. D. Tibbles and R. C. Lawrence made an attack upon the finnies in Potamus and Ellis creeks Sunday, landing a fair catch. Dr. Tibbles said he wasn't sure whether Dr. Lawrence's foot slipped or whether he had a complex like the horse who couldn't resist sitting on a fish whenever he crossed a stream. Anyway, the 200-pound dentist made quite a splash when he sat down all of a sudden in a pool of water a couple of feet deep.
