

CRADICK-CARSON NUPTIALS ATTRACT

Portland Ceremony Attended by 2000; Former Heppner Girl
Charming in Bride's Gown.

More than 2000 friends attended Portland's "most talked of marriage" at the White Temple in that city Saturday night when Mayor Joseph K. Carson took as his bride Miss Myrtle Cradick, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Belle Furlong of this city, according to the daily press. After an informal reception at the church Mayor and Mrs. Carson left for a wedding trip to the coast, their destination remaining undisclosed.

Rev. William G. Everson performed the ceremony. A trio, Abe Berco-vitz, Glenn Shelley and Michael Ar-stein, played traditional wedding music.

The bride, who was reared in this county and attended high school in Heppner, was given in marriage by Will A. Knight. She wore a hand-some dress of white satin, material for which had been brought for her from the orient. Princess style with cowl neck and long train, it was augmented by full length white tulle veil, caught about her head in a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Ethel Cradick, and Mayor Carson's sister, Mrs. Elwyn Van De Walker, were her honor attendants. Brides-maids were Misses Kathleen Fur-long, Mavis Melvin and Ruth Morris.

James Carson, the mayor's brother, was best man, and ushers included Larry Smyth, Lester W. Humphreys, Louis Manciet, Wallace S. Wharton, Harold Davidson, Alexander G. Brown, Philip Chapman, C. Laird McKenna, Jr., Samuel H. Martin, F. M. Sarcombe, Elwyn Van De Water and William Graeper.

For traveling the bride wore navy blue silk dress with cape edged with white pique, blue accessories and corsage of lavender orchids.

Mayor and Mrs. Carson will be at home after July 1 at the Portland hotel until they find a house.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Furlong, and sister, Miss Kathleen Furlong, went from here to attend the ceremony. The Portland Oregonian featured the event in its Sunday edition with a quarter-page picture on the front page showing the couple and Rev. Everson as the ceremony was being performed.

Edward F. Martin was treated at a local doctor's office this week for injuries received when he was thrown from a horse at the ranch of Mrs. Tom O'Brien on Butter creek.

Brother Will Sing In National Audition

Mrs. Joe Hughes this week received word that her brother, G. Willard Bassett, had won a contest among 300 contestants at his home in Santa Ana, Cal., to sing in a famous national radio program to be broadcast from New York City on July 22. Bassett, hailed by a Santa Ana paper as "the man with the bell chimes," has been heard in Heppner several times. He was selected for the audition by ballot from listeners at the local broadcast.

On the way east he will appear with the Elks double quartet at the national Elks convention meeting in Denver next month. With Mrs. Bassett he will leave Santa Ana July 1 for San Francisco, boarding the Elks special train for Denver.

Known in his home town as Bill, the local woman's brother received this tribute from the local paper: "Bill is the fellow who can make a village choir sound like a metropolitan chorus. He makes the Elks double quartet appear to have about 40 angel tenors, which is saying something for the—however, that's something else. Bill also can stand up by himself and sing like nothing you ever heard before."

SEES HISTORIC PLANE

While in Portland the end of the week, Charles Barlow, county clerk, went over to Vancouver and viewed the plane of the Russian aviators that had just completed its flight from Moscow to that point. Spectators were roped back 150 feet from the ship, photographers and the soldier guards only being permitted up close, Mr. Barlow said. The ship appeared immense, indeed, beside the other smaller planes at Pearson field, he said. Mrs. Barlow and Lucille and Mary Emma Curran accompanied Mr. Barlow home. They had visited in the city for two weeks.

HOTTMAN MILL SOLD

Bliss Hottman this week disposed of his interest in the lumbering operations on Rhea creek to Walter Blackburn. The deal was consummated in Heppner the first of the week. Blackburn has been assisting at the mill for several weeks, after having recently disposed of his interest in the Ford agency in Heppner.

TED McMURDO IMPROVES

Ted McMurdy, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. D. McMurdy, who has been suffering this week from a severe illness which had his family and friends worried, was reported as much improved this mornig.

SEE CORNERSTONE LAYING

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Turner returned home Friday from Portland and Salem. At Portland they took in Eastern Star and Masonic grand lodges and at Salem witnessed the laying of the cornerstone of the new capitol building—that is, as much of it as they could see from 150 feet distance, as close as they could get. Mr. Turner reported the ceremonies as very impressive, with interesting historical information given in addresses by the leading speakers, Governor Martin and Judge Lawrence T. Harris of Eugene. Mr. Turner also took in a big Masonic meeting in Salem.
