NATIONAL SECRETARY HERE

He told of various studies now under way, including that of stiff lambs, on which it is hoped to have definite information another year. A technical discussion of stiff lambs showed various causes of the affliction, explaining, Dr. Shaw said, why his department has not so far been able to prescribe treatment for every grower who simply stated that he had stiff lambs. He emphasized the importance of having grower cooperation, and a little forbearance, in carrying on the present work.
Outside attendants at the dinner included Virgil MacWhorter, large grower who operates in the Horse-heaven section, and K. G. Warner of Pilot Rock. Ralph Thompson, president of the county woolmen's association, presided.

ROBBERS CAPTURED

shot in the foot. The car in which the robbers went on, a 1927 Chevrolet coupe, was commandeered a few minutes later from a Mr. and Mrs. Carruthers.

The robbers had a good hour head start before Holverson recovered to turn in the alarm.

Sheriff C. J. D. Bauman, Deputy Elbert Cox and State Policeman W. K. Francis joined in the search immediately the alarm was received here late Monday night, and assisted in patrolling the Heppner-Spray road which could have been taken by the robbers from the John Day highway.

A report turned into the LaGrande state police dispatching office early Tuesday morning, that the bandit car had been abandoned near here, proved to be false.

It's most embarrassing, comments Ray Conway secretary of the Oregon State Motor association, to find yourself under someone's car just as you start on a little jay-walk across the street.

Skidding on dry roads, especially at curves, has precipitated 166 serious automobile accidents in the state this year, Oregon State Motor association figures show.
