Dates Set for Annual Reclamation Meet

The twenty-seventh annual session of the Oregon Reclamation congress has been scheduled for Portland, October 21 and 22, announces W. L. Powers, secretary of the congress and head of the soils department at O. S. C. Dates and tentative plans for the meeting were decided upon recently by a meeting of the directors.

The selection of Portland as the next meeting place will permit a consideration of Willamette and Lower Columbia reclamation interests with those of the rest of the state, and will provide an opportunity to visit the nearly completed Bonneville dam.

President Robert W. Sawyer of Bend has named Kenneth Miller and Marshall N. Dana of Portland and the secretary on a committee of local arrangements, and Olen Ansbiger of Grants Pass, George T.

Cochran, La Grande, and the secretary on a committee to prepare the program.

A congressional sub-committee will be in Portland September 6, at which time the representatives of Oregon reclamation projects will have opportunity to be heard concerning their needs, the officers of the Reclamation congress have been informed.
