End Successful Season

The Heppner high school Mustangs climaxed a successful gridiron season last Thursday when they battled the biting Bulldogs of Hermiston to a sensational 6 to 6 tie.

Coach Knox started the season with a squad composed of many inexperienced lads; however the boys showed much promise in the first game when they outfought the Blue Devils from Condon and won 13-0 on the home field. In the return game with the Condon eleven, the galloping Mustang squad, piloted by Van Marter, again tasted the fruits of victory by way of a 19-6 trouncing. The squad continued to gain momentum and overpowered the Touchet boys from the Evergreen state for the third straight win, 25-6.

Following this game the team members experienced a severe mental letdown and fell before the baffling aerial stylists of Arlington to the tune of 18-0. One week later the team journeyed to Fossil and barely managed to pull out a tie game. In the final and biggest game the Heppner boys made a grand comeback and showed true football form by completely outplaying the heavily-favored Bulldog squad of Hermiston. This contest brought the curtain down on a very successful season of three victories, one defeat, and two ties.

"It Can Be Done"

Congratulations, Heppner High. Such support and enthusiasm as evidenced at last Thursday's game and events leading up to it can be a deciding factor in the team's success.

With the odds greatly against them the team proved to the satisfaction of everyone that it can be done. Though the score may have been a tie, a victory might be chalked up to the credit of the student body in its observance of the ideals of sportsmanship. It should always be the object of the students to give the opponents a square deal at all times, never allowing the desire for victory to overcome good sportsmanship. This was continually considered during the course of the game. Though there were one or two trying circumstances, the enemy was always regarded as equal.

May we thank all those who have helped to make this football season a success for good old Heppner High, and let's help make the coming basketball season as successful.

Rally Held

Despite the stormy weather, one of the most successful rallies of the year was held last Wednesday evening. Students met in front of the postoffice and serpentine to the bank corner; here group yelling was held for about ten minutes. Following this, everyone went to the Star theater where the coach and team were introduced and where community singing of college football songs was held.

PINTO POINTS

With the tenth annual Armistice day football game between Heppner and Hermiston, the 1937 football season became a thing of the past. It is now merely memories, perhaps soon to be forgotten, and then again, revived and remembered as incidents that recall this unforgettable season of outstanding gridiron contests. Last Thursday's battle with the Bulldogs from Hermiston will probably remain fresh in the minds of local sportsters for many seasons to come. Hermiston, the team with the impressive record against such stiff competition as Pasco, Kennewick, and Arlington, the squad that held the Blue Mountain league co-leader, Pendleton, to a single touchdown, the eleven that defeated Arlington who later trounced Heppner 18 points, the team rated as a definite favorite to knock over Heppner—the team that played Heppner to a 6 to 6 tie.

Curfew chatter . . . During the summer months before entering the teaching field, William Bennett, veteran football time-keeper and local Smith-Hughes instructor, was an ice cream manufacturer; and when winter time slackened that business considerably, he worked in a factory which produced an article used daily by all of us, a product generally considered essential to our good health, commonly known as a mattress. Professor "Pigskin" Peavy, recently discovered wizard of predicting scores of future games and competitor of the Williamson system, with the exception of one item, made a direct hit on the results of the Hermiston game . . . he predicted a tie game, but his generosity with the touchdowns exceeded the true results by seven points, figuring the game to be a thirteen-all proposition. Larry McKenzie, energetic grade school physical education instructor, is daily tutoring his enthusiastic proteges on the fundamentals of basketball . . . during the course of the daily practices the workout given and received by himself is much tougher than that taken by his pupils. This writer and several students of the same school are wondering as to the why and wherefore of that little beard adorning the upper lip of several members of the Fossil team . . . some radicals term each a mustache, but as these spoken-of bristles were barely discernible in the board daylight, localities are at a loss for a proper term to attach to these slightly hair-covered sections covering the top story of the mouth . . . the Condon boys have adopted an idea similar to that of the Fossil group, but have developed it on a larger scale, covering their entire face, and calling it a beard . . . however, they have a definite reason . . . the cultivation of said beards was started over a month before their Armistice Day game with Arlington, and, to quote the Arlington Bulletin, "will never shave them off until they step on Arlington's neck" . . . Condon, by the way, lost that game, 20 to 6, and another year will have elapsed before the two teams again meet on the gridiron . . . a beard 365 days old will become terribly monotonous and bothersome, in more ways than one. Next week . . . reviving remnants of recent roving over gridiron realms!

Cranium Breaker
 If a dog started after a rabbit when he was 50 feet behind the animal, and covered half the distance to the rabbit every leap after the first leap, how long would it be before he caught the habbit? Answer to last week's Cranium Breaker: The employer read "sewed" and thus knew the crop would be weeds.

Doings in General
 Carol Coblantz, a student here for the past three years, left for Pendleton this week where she will attend the Pendleton high school.

Jack and Arlene Morton went to Ontario with their parents Armistice day, returning Sunday.
 Many Hermiston students attended the game and visited their friends in Heppner. The Hermiston people comprised the largest part of the spectators.
 Last Friday, through Sunday, a meeting of the Young Peoples Fellowship was held in The Dalles. Representatives from Hood River, Heppner, Pendleton and The Dalles attended. Bethal Blake, Kemp Dick, Shirley Wilson, Scott McMurdo, Jackson Gilliam, Carolyn Vaughn, Cora Scott and Juanita Phelps were those from Heppner making the trip. Many alumni and students celebrated the school's moral victory over Hermiston at the dance last Thursday evening at the Elks temple.

Home Ec. Club Meets
 The Home Economics club met Monday in order to further plans for the football banquet to be given Saturday, Nov. 20. The president, Harriet Hager, appointed the following committees: Buying, Betty Happold and Pat Cason; waitresses and table, Arlene Morton, Betty Robison, Pat Cason and Betty Happold; cooking, Hazel Adkins, Evelyn Kirk, Irena McFerrin and Edna Stephens; cocktail and salad, Margaret Doolittle, Carolyn Vaughn, Jeanette Blakely; decoration, Ruth Green, Shirley Wilson, Florence Becket. After the banquet a dance will be given at the Parish house.

Basketball Practice Begins
 Basketball practice began Tuesday night with a large turn-out. Returning veterans were scarce with only LaVerne Van Marer back. However, boys who were on the squad as reserves last year include Emery Coxen, Joe Aiken, John Crawford, Floyd Williams, Daniel Chinn, Milton Morgan and Bill Barratt. The first game of the season is scheduled Nov. 30 with Ione, here.

H Club Plans Smoker
 The H club met Monday night. Plans were discussed for the smoker to be held December 2 at Hermiston. It was agreed that the H club should sponsor a dance to be held shortly before the Christmas vacation.

HUMOR
 "Laff when you are tickled, and laff once in a while anyway."
 Browning: "I remember the time when I could have bought the whole state of Texas for a pair of boots."
 McAttee: "Why didn't you buy it?"
 Browning: "Because I was barefooted."

New Student: "I am here for work; I want a course with lots of papers to compose, and enough work to keep me busy at nights."
 Senior: "See Mr. Peavy at once."

Wouldn't it be funny to see—
 Van flunk?
 Miss Smith without Miss Nordstrom?
 Jean Hays without a smile?
 Austin studying?
 T. Gonty with a girl?
 Ruth not talking to Marvin?
 Jack Merrill get somewhere on time?
 Alvina forgetting to use her southern accent in Public Speaking?

Scott: "I will examine you for ten dollars."
 Paul: "Go ahead. If you find it I will give you half."

Marvin C.: "Will you marry me, dear?"
 Joan W.: "No, but I will always admire your good taste."
 Art Mc.: "I hear that Bethal Blake has a very difficult part in the junior play."
 Guy Moore: "I don't see anything hard about it. She doesn't say a word."
 Art Mc.: "Well, what could be harder than that?"

F. Bailey (talking to D. Sprinkle): "Say, Dean, I'll never make the train at the speed you are shaving me. You hold the razor still, and I'll waggle my face."

First Mosquito: "Why are you making such a fuss?"
 Second Mosquito: "Whee, I just passed the screen test."

A certain teacher called for sentences using the word "beans."
 "My father grows beans," said a bright boy of the class.
 "My mother cooks beans," said another smart pupil.
 Then a third popped up: "We are all human beans."

Laura W.: "The players are all covered with mud. How will they ever get clean?"
 Allen G.: "What do you think the scrub team is for?"

Don F.: "I didn't like to tackle Knowles—his legs are too short."
 Art Vance: "Too short! Why, they touched the ground, didn't they?"

Shirley Wilson: "That boy I saw you out with the other night looked like a flat tire to me."
 Jeanette B.: "He is. I think I will use him for a spare now that the football season is over with."

GUESS WHO?
 She has nice clothes:
 She's also rather short:
 But Jack Morton thinks
 She's a chubby little trick.
 We usually call her Pat,
 What do you gain by that?
 With eyes of blue, a cute pugged nose,
 And personality too. We leave these facts up to you, to "guess who".

DID YOU KNOW THAT?
 The first ice skates were made of bone (about 1100 A. D.)?
 Sir Walter Scott wrote the greater part of his "Waverly Novel" while riding horseback?
 Highest football score on record when Eldon College beat King by a score of 245 to 0?
 It took the supreme court of the United States to decide that the tomato is a vegetable and not a fruit? The decision was made in 1893.
 In spite of its numerous skyscrapers the average height of a building in New York City is but 5 stories?

 A United States congressman gets five times as much pay as a member of the British Parliament?

LENA GRANGE ELECTS
 Officers of Lena grange for the ensuing year were elected at a meeting Sunday, Nov. 7. Named were Marion Finch, master; Edwin Hughes, overseer; Rose Francis, lecturer; Jerry Brosnan, steward; Harold Mason, assistant steward; Marian Brosnan, chaplain; Pansy Seehofer, treasurer; Faye Finch, secretary; Francis McCabe, gate keeper; Helen Currin, Ceres; Susan French, Pomona; Zetta Brosnan, Flora; Pauline Hughes, lady assistant steward; John Brosnan, J. D. French and Charley Hirl, executive committee; Kathleen Hisler, home economics chairman.

CALL FOR WARRANTS
