The person on foot was at fault in 55 percent of pedestrian fatalities reported from five states, Leslie J. Sorenson, Chicago traffic engineer, states. Secretary of State Earl Snell says some of the most dangerous pedestrian practices are walking in the main-traveled portion of the street or highway, entering the street from behind parked vehicles, and looking up or away from traffic while crossing the street.

Enthusiastic response everywhere has greeted the safety driving schools being sponsored in several Oregon communities by Secretary of State Earl Snell. The schools will be started elsewhere as soon as plans can be completed. They are being held currently in Albany, Corvallis, Dallas, Grants Pass, McMinnville, Medford, Independence, Newberg, Oregon City, Prineville, Redmond and West Linn.

Roger W. Babson says: "The security of a nation consists in keeping its people physically, intellectually, economically and spiritually in balance."

Are you spiritually developed enough to be balanced? It is certain that America is out of balance because of too little concern for spiritual things. Take inventory of your spiritual assets now and resolve to balance the neglected area of your life.
