

School Children To Aid in 'Saving Battleship Oregon'

$80,000 Sought Over State to Make Shrine of 'War Dog'

A county-wide campaign through the schools was launched this week for a permanent home for the Battleship Oregon at Portland. The state campaign, February 7 to 17, is being headed by the Battleship Oregon commission at Portland with Governor Martin as honorary president.

M. L. Case, local business man who saw service in the Philippines in the Spanish-American war and who boarded the Old Oregon when she was docked in Manila bay at that time, has been slated for an address in the local schools. Mr. Case revealed his memorable visit to fellow members of the Lions club Monday noon when a discussion of the campaign was had, and he and Alden Blankenship, city school superintendent, as a club committee, assisted Mrs. Lucy E. Rodgers, county school superintendent, in working out plans for the campaign in this county.

The Battleship Oregon commission is attempting to raise $80,000 as the sum needed to permanently berth the old battleship, once known as the "War Dog" of Uncle Sam's navy and who served as flagship in the memorable war that did much to gain respect for this country's power on the high seas.

Admiral Dewey and the Battleship Oregon are inseparable names that will be emphasized before the school children of the county this week as they learn the glorified history of the war dog and the plan to make her secure as a monument to future generations of those principles for which she so nobly served.

Oregon has a debt toward saving the Battleship Oregon, say campaign sponsors, for when Uncle Sam decided to junk the old ship people of this state raised such a hue and cry that she was turned over to this state instead. This was in July, 1925. Since that time she has been insecurely berthed in the river at Portland, at present at the end of the Broadway bridge, where her position jeopardizes river traffic and the docks where she lies.

The plan is to raise her to dry land, imbed her in concrete and keep her open as a shrine to all who may wish to visit her.

School children will be told of this, and they in turn will tell their parents, that all who wish may contribute toward the fund. No high pressure campaign is intended, but those subscribing a dollar or more will have their names inscribed on an honor roll and will receive a post card size reproduction of the "Oregon." Those giving five dollars or more will receive a larger reproduction of the etching suitable for framing. The campaign is endorsed generally by the state's high officials, civic and patriotic organizations.

Miss Briggs Reports Unique Phone Meeting

An unusual meeting of intense interest was attended last week end by Miss Opal Briggs, manager of the local Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. The meeting, of telephone company employees, was held in the Neighbors of Woodcraft building in Portland in connection with the institution of conference calls by the company in Oregon.

Highlight of the event was the connection of 17 larger Oregon cities at one time and the carrying on of a conference conversation. Loudspeakers in the room at Portland and in each of the connected offices permitted all present at any point to hear everything that was said. The regular commercial service now available to the public will permit as high as seven phones in as many different cities being connected at one time, said Miss Briggs.

Three skits or playlets were also presented by employees of the com-

H. G. Wells said: "Religion is the first thing and the last thing, and until a man has found God and been found by God, he begins at no beginning and works to no end."

We do not know exactly what Wells meant by religion, but we do know that this is true of the religion of Jesus Christ.

Meet Salem Tomorrow Busy Ione Hoopsters

Ione, Morrow county's basketball capital for the season, will entertain its biggest game of the season tomorrow (Friday) evening when John Steelhammer's Salem Financiers invade the neighboring city's maple court. With Fred Hoskins, Jr., quite probably out of the line-up because of an infected finger, Manager Fred, Sr., was pleased to report some compensation by La Verne Van Marter of Heppner again on the squad.

Fred, Jr., in Heppner with his dad yesterday evening to see a doctor, was kept from playing in a game scheduled at Hermiston last night.

Fred, Sr., was in Walla Walla Tuesday evening and saw Whitman edge out its old rival, Willamette, 34-29, with Paul Webb, Heppner boy, making the tying shot which sent the game into overtime. Webb's playing contributed greatly to his team's victory, Fred said.

Ione took it on the chin at Condon last Friday night, 34-30, but a different story might have been told had Ransier been present. Ransier, high scoring center, was in the game at Ione against the Pendleton Indians, Saturday night, and scored 25 points to help his team win, 60-42. Players with scores were Mason 2, Ransier 24, A. Pettyjohn 4, Hoskins 11, E. Pettyjohn 11, L. Pettyjohn 7, H. Eubanks, Bristow; for the Indians, F. Webb 3, Wild Bill 9, Van Pelt 17, Shippentower, C. Webb 13, James, Shoeship.

Next week the Ione boys will take

New Truck, Plow Clear Roads Quickly

First occasion for use of the county's big new truck with snow plow attachment came last Friday and Saturday when wild drifted snow on roads in some sections. The machine waded through six- and seven-foot drifts without a grunt, reports Harry Tamblin, engineer.

Had this equipment been on hand a year ago, the bad condition of the roads due to drifts at that time could have been handled much better, he believed. To date no bad road tie-ups have happened, that of last week end being the worst, but it was cleared up quickly by use of the new machinery.
