SALEM—With the deadline for filing less than two months away the political pot is beginning to percolate.

Sam Brown, the Gervais farmer, upon his return to Oregon last week from an extended trip into Mexico confirmed reports that he intended to enter the republican primaries as a candidate for governor. Sam said that he would tour the state in the same old Ford that served him in his campaign four years ago and a friend had agreed to finance his campaign to the extent of $40.

Reports from Milwaukie have it that M. S. Shrock of that city will also be a candidate for the republican nomination for governor.

On the democratic side of the fence Henry Olen this week plunked down $100 in cold cash to get his name on the primary ballot as a candidate for governor. Olen has turned a deaf ear to all suggestions that he withdraw from the race and his action this week only confirms his repeated statements that he is in the race to stay.

With J. F. Hosch of Bend already an avowed candidate and Howard Latourette expected to announce his candidacy any day now it begins to look like a mad scramble among the New Deal elements of the Jacksonian party that will insure the nomination of Governor Martin without much difficulty.

So far Justice Henry J. Bean is the only one of the three retiring supreme court members to announce himself as a candidate for another term. Justice J. O. Bailey is expected to seek re-election but there is some question as to the intentions of Justice Hall S. Lusk, democrat, who was appointed to the bench by Governor Martin last July following the death of Justice J. U. Campbell. Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for supreme court honors so far has refused to either confirm or deny the rumor.

A survey just completed in Lane county revealed 1800 boys and girls between the ages of 16 and 22 years who are not in school, according to O. D. Adams, state director for vocational education. A majority of these boys and girls have never had a job and 82 per cent of the number have never had any training to fit them for a job, Adams said. In the opinion of Adams the answer to this problem of out-of-school youth is a continuation school of vocational education offering courses in vocational agriculture, trades and industries and domestic science.

In many respects the April election will be the first real test of strength of public power advocates in this state.

The "Circuit Rider" statue which occupied a prominent place on the state house lawn before the destruction of the old capitol by fire two years ago, may be moved to a new location in Willson park after the new capitol is completed. This was revealed during a visit of the Capitol Reconstruction commission to Salem this week. Originally it had been planned to locate the statue to the south of the new building.

It would require 300 days under present conditions to mobilize the Pacific coast for defense against an invading foe, according to Major General George A. White, commander of the 41st division of the National Guard. General White said that the west coast is entirely unprepared for defense.

Miss Harriet Long, state librarian, left Friday night by airplane for Washington, D. C., to attend a session of the extension board of the American Library association of which she is a member.

The new state library building will have a marble exterior to harmonize with the new capitol. Contract for construction of the building was awarded by the Capitol commission Friday to the L. H. Hoffman Construction company of Portland on a low bid of $712,941. Construction work on the building is expected to get under way about March 1.

John E. Cooter, placement officer with the state employment commission, is being prominently mentioned as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the first Oregon district. Cooter who presided as Speaker of the House of Representatives at the 1935 session of the state legislature was formerly county agent of Lincoln county. State Senator E. L. Ross of Washington county is also flirting with the notion of entering the Democratic primaries for the Congressional post as also is Clarence F. WORKS IN 2 WAYS ON DISCOMFORT OF COLDS

1. Take 2 BAYER ASPIRIN tablets and drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

2. If throat is sore from the cold, crush and mix 3 BAYER ASPIRIN tablets in 1/2 glass of water. Gargle twice. This eases throat rawness and soreness almost instantly.

All it usually costs to relieve the misery of a cold today—is 3¢ to 5¢ — relief for the period of your cold 15¢ to 25¢. Hence no family need neglect even minor head colds.

Here is what to do: Take two BAYER tablets when you feel a cold coming on — with a full glass of water. Then repeat, if necessary, according to directions in each package. Relief comes rapidly.

The Bayer method of relieving colds is the way many doctors approve. You take Bayer Aspirin for relief — then if you are not improved promptly, you call the family doctor.
