

Episcopalian Folk Celebrate Final Debt Liquidation

Early History Recalled as Parish House Indebtedness Lifted

Final lifting of the parish house debt inspired a celebration at All Saints Episcopal church Monday evening when 120 members and friends ate supper together in the debt-free building and heard related much local church history. Assisting from the outside were Bishop and Mrs. W. P. Remington of Pendleton, Archdeacon Ralph V. Hinkle of Portland, Miss Catherine Peterson and Mrs. G. W. Phelps of Pendleton.

The note-burning ceremony was conducted by Mrs. L. E. Dick and Mrs. A. D. McMurdo. Mrs. Dick held the cancelled note on a tin plate while Mrs. McMurdo touched a match to it and the group cheered the proceedings.

Bishop Remington touched on local and national church work, telling of visiting the church in Alexandria, Va., where President Washington had a pew. He commended Rev. Mr. Hinkle for his good work in Heppner. The latter responded, and in turn commended Miss Peterson for her excellent work with the young people. Others giving talks were Miss Peterson, Mrs. Phelps, an early member of the local church; Mrs. Olive Frye, a teacher in Bethel chapel before All Saints church was organized; Mrs. Hanson Hughes and Mrs. M. R. Wightman of Arlington, presidents of the auxiliary, and Jackson Gilliam, president Young Peoples Fellowship both in eastern Oregon and the province including states west of the Mississippi river, Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippines.

Mrs. Ture Peterson—niece of Rev. W. Seymour Short of Grace church, Astoria, one of the rectors assisting in the dedication—read articles from the Heppner papers under date of April 10, 1904, covering the dedicatory rites. The present church, built to replace one washed away in the June 14, 1903 flood, cost $3000 and was all paid for at the time of the dedication. Of the event it was said:

"The dedicatory services were conducted by Rt. Rev. B. Wistar Morris, bishop of Oregon, Rev. W. E. Potwine, secretary of the diocese, the Rev. W. Seymour Short of Grace church, Astoria, and Rev. John Warren, missionary in charge. The design of the church was taken from old English architecture. The old church was washed away by flood June 14, 1903, and the new building was placed on higher ground. In building this church, outside contributors have been liberal, several donations coming from England. The Episcopal church was barely finished but it was desired that the dedication be held before the departure of Rev. Mr. Potwine for his new field in Honolulu as he had been identified with the Heppner church for more than 20 years. Collections that day were $50.07."

A telegram of congratulations was read from Rev. B. Stanley Moore and Mrs. Moore who were located here when the parish house was built.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all those who assisted us at the time of our bereavement and extend our appreciation for the many words and deeds of sympathy. We especially wish to thank Heppner Lodge 69, A. F. & A. M., for their consideration in giving use of hall and helpful assistance. Mrs. Charlotte Scherzinger, Mrs. Rachel Stearns.

those prominently identified with the lodge for more than a quarter century was paid by Bert Mason, exalted ruler. Resourcefulness of the founders in making a lodge possible in "the smallest city in the United States with an Elks lodge" was cited as acknowledgement of the size of their accomplishment. That Elksdom was founded on solid ground, said Mr. Mason, is evidenced by the fact that it has grown and prospered since its small beginning 71 years before, with 2500 lodges covering the United States and territories and a membership totaling half a million.

Elks ladies, who in the afternoon were entertained at cards in Masonic hall, joined lodge members in the evening for the annual ball where Bill Darby's 8-piece band from Portland was joyfully received by the many attending.

New Farm Act Built on Old Conservation Base

The new AAA farm act which became effective February 16, when President Roosevelt signed what is known as the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, continues and strengthens the provisions of the soil conservation and domestic allotment act under which the AAA has been operating since the spring of 1936, according to N. E. Dodd of Haines, chairman of the State AAA committee.

Plans previously made for putting into operation the 1938 agricultural conservation program will be carried out as originally intended. The new bill adds to the present program such features as establishment of marketing quotas when necessary as an additional means of stabilizing market supplies of cotton, tobacco, rice, wheat and corn, and provides for crop loans, crop insurance and other additional features.

The state college extension service, working with the State AAA committee, will get out detailed information to the farmers concerning the new act just as rapidly as possible, says F. L. Ballard, vice-director of extension. As in the past, the policy of the extension service is to inform the people fully regarding agricultural programs provided by congress and help them reap all the advantage possible from the application of such laws.

One of the most important new features of the new bill provides for the establishment of marketing quotas to be used in years of large surpluses, although only with the approval, by a two-thirds vote, of the farmers affected. In years when the total supply of any of the five commodities reaches a level considerably above the normal requirements for domestic and export markets, farmers who produce the crop commercially will vote whether to use marketing quotas. If the vote is favorable, quotas are put into effect for all commercial producers of the crop.

Those who sponsored the bill say that the marketing quotas should give the nation adequate supplies of the five crops with an ample reserve in each case. Wheat is the only quota crop grown in Oregon, and it is believed unlikely that it will be affected in 1938.

CARD OF THANKS

My sincerest thanks and appreciation are extended for the kindly help and sympathy of the many Morrow county friends, and especially to the Elks for their assistance. Mrs. Etta Haines.
