Let's Make the Best of It

How many of you have been confronted with the statement: "Your high school days will be the happiest days of your life"? Looking back a probable twenty years, when your parents were looking forward to what we now call a hard-earned diploma, we are inclined to believe that times were much happier then than they are now. If you will but take time to look through various memory books of your parents, you can easily find remnants and reminders of happy days gone by. Should we be inclined to question the above statement, these collections of memories should serve as sufficient evidence to prove that to them high school was the happiest part of their lives. No doubt they had burdens such as ours, but still they also exercised the partly neglected social life that should be included in a high school education. This might be a solution to the popular phrase, "I wish school was out." They probably realized that the largest part of their youth would be spent in school and undertook to make the best of it.

Are we making the best of our youth and taking advantage of every opportunity that might offer in school and social life? Are we going to have a memory book filled with a collection of reminders that will bring back in our old age the night of "the Junior Prom," etc.? Probably not.

Why then, can't we organize and abide by some program that will tend to prepare us for a not too distant future in which the drudgeries will greatly overshadow the drudgeries that supposedly make up our school life.

Band Benefit Success

The minstrel and Elks' dance given last Saturday night for the purpose of raising funds to finance the fifty-piece school band to the state contest at Eugene proved to be a remarkable success.

The five-hundred-mile trip to Eugene has proved to be a very costly one in former years, and this year, because of the increased size of the band, it was necessary to raise some three hundred dollars to pay for transportation to the university city.

The people of Heppner and surrounding communities showed a tremendous amount of enthusiasm in their effort to aid the band. This was evidenced by their attendance at the Elks' performance and at the dance.

Band Plays at Benefit Dance

Last Saturday night at the Elks hall the Heppner school band made a public appearance, playing their numbers for the state band contest held at Eugene this Friday and Saturday. A baritone solo was played by Hugh Crawford, who is competing as a soloist Friday.

The school wishes you, the members of the band, the best of luck and hope you bring home the high honor again this year.

Grade School News

The fifth grade has elected the following officers: President, Raymond French; vice-president, Glen McMurtry; secretary, Leora Ewing; treasurer, Mary Lou Ferguson; sergeant at arms, Patricia Kenny; reporter, Jean Turner.

The fifth grade pupils have drawn a large map, six by eight feet.

Baseball Team Loses Practice Game

With a few nights' practice under their belts, the Heppner baseball team looks like a different aggregation. They were so much improved that a combination of ex-H. H. S. stars, town team players, and a couple of high school students were able to beat them only in a last inning rally, 7 to 5.

Floyd Williams started the game with a home run over the center fielder's head off Van Marter, pitcher for the opponents. Coxen also got a four-bagger in the third. As yet the pitching staff is rather weak but is getting stronger all along with Worden developing some control for his speed ball. Douglas Drake is coming along nicely, with not so much speed but plenty of control and a nice curve.

At present Heppner is much stronger offensively than defensively, but before the season is over this situation will probably be reversed, due to the natural fielding ability of the infielders, all of whom but one are out for the first time.

The first game of the season will be against the veteran Arlington Honkers on the fifteenth of this month at Arlington. By that time the Mustangs should be functioning smoothly and should give a good account of themselves.

Years Ago

Ten Years Ago . . . A typing contest was held Thursday for the purpose of testing the ability of the students for typing in front of an audience. Nine typewriters were placed on the stage, and each of the two classes typed for 15 minutes. The junior class will give its play in front of the assembly on April 12.

Five Years Ago . . . A band concert under the direction of Harold Buhman was held in the auditorium last Friday night. The receipts will be used to pay the band's debts.

One Year Ago . . . The junior play cast assembled Wednesday, March 31, at the Hager residence to celebrate the recent success of their play. A table lamp was presented by the cast to Mr. Peavy for his fine work in directing the play.

Here and There

Mr. Henry Tetz and family of Adams were week-end house guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Blankenship. Mr. Tetz was former Heppner coach. Clyde Hollenbeck of La Grande, who had been visiting with Paul McCarty for two days, left Tuesday afternoon for The Dalles. Paul accompanied him that far and then went on to Portland.

Frances McCarty and Arlene Morton accompanied Paul McCarty to The Dalles. From there they took the train to Newberg. Frances remained in Newberg until Thursday. Dick Benton of Pendleton attended the band dance Saturday.

Harold Armstrong motored to Portland Thursday to visit his mother, who is ill.

Gossip
 Jack Merrill isn't worried any more until college is out. Maybe not then; he has a Howell on the string now.

Believe It or Not! Florence and Paul are still going together. The CCC boys are leaving, but don't worry, Jeanette! Some more are coming. You too, Juanita.

We don't like to be passing on any rumors, but we hear Norma Prock went home with Norval Osborn. It's your turn to laugh now, Lowell.

First there and first served for Pat Dooley.

We hear that a certain little freshman boy and a red-haired sophomore do quite well in Gen. Math. Their initials are D. A. and C. S. We also hear Dub wants a date.

Bethal finally got her date Friday, when Bob set it for 10:00 Saturday night.

Maxine said she liked football players best after returning from Portland last week. Sorry, Donny. Jackson Gilliam doesn't seem to have what it takes. He is out in the cold again.

The biggest splash of the year was the time when Evelyn Kirk and Alice McGrew fell in the creek.

Can You Imagine—

Humor

"I've just read an article about electricity, Henry," his wife said, "and it says that before long we shall get everything we want by just touching a button."

"It won't do us any good," replied her husband sadly.

"Why not, Henry?"

"Because nothing would ever make you touch a button. Look at my shirt."
 Laura Warfield: "I can do anything with my violin that you can do with your harmonica."
 Alex Thompson: "Well, for heaven's sake, then, put it in your pocket."

Sybil: "Kiss me like that again, and I'm yours for life."

John C.: "Gee, I'm sure glad you warned me."

Miss Nordstrom: "What is a sit-down strike?"

Art McAtee: "A spanking."

Bragging Cowpuncher: "I broke another horse this morning."

City Girl: "Goodness, how careless of you."

Easterner: "Out in your country I suppose you have lots more trouble with outlaws."

Westerner: "Not nearly as much as we have with in-laws."
