Juniors Take Flunk Day

The junior class left at 6:30 Wednesday morning of last week for Walla Walla, arriving there in the early forenoon. The morning was spent in swimming at the Y. M. C. A. and in visiting the Walla Walla meat packing plant.

At eleven o'clock the class reported at Whitman college, where they were shown about the campus by Professor Humphreys, dean of men. During the noon hour they visited KUI broadcasting station, where they witnessed the broadcasting of the Braden-Bell program.

After half an hour of driving, the class finally located Pioneer park and there ate their dinner.

Most of the class left Walla Walla in the early afternoon for Pendleton where they went to a show that night.

TODAY'S QUOTE

"Much has been said about the need of developing new leaders in the colleges to help the world out of its difficulties. I think what is even more necessary is the development of wise, tolerant 'middle men' who can choose wise leaders instead of following plausible speaking demagogues."—Mrs. Beatrice Walton Sackett, member of the State Board of Higher Education, in an address to students at Oregon State college.
