

Pacific U. Boys Help, But Indians Prove Too Hot

Locals Lose League Game, 13-7; Pendleton Trounces Ione

TEAM STANDINGS:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Echo	4	1	.800
Pendleton	5	2	.713
Indians	3	2	.600
Heppner	4	2	.571
Ione	1	6	.148

Last Sunday's Results:

Heppner 7 at Mission (Indians) 13, Pendleton 10 at Ione 1.

Next Sunday's Games:

Ione at Heppner, Indians at Echo.

Four Pacific U. boys gave strength to Heppner's Blue Mountain league aggregation which met the Indians at Mission last Sunday, but Walter Johnson himself would have had difficulty subduing the heavy bats of the redmen which netted them a 13-7 victory. At the same time Pendleton dropped Ione neatly 10-1 on the Ionian's lot to again crowd Echo at the league top. Echo was quiet for the day.

Gilman and Olaen, regular Pacific battery, Lieuallen on short and third, and McCurdy at second base were the Pacific youngsters who found the native Americans equal in ball playing ability to any college opponents of the year. Wahsise took the heart out of Rod Thomson who started Heppner's chucking, when that Indian first sacker banged out a home run with two on in the first inning. The Indians had a walk, two hits and two runs off Thomson in the second inning when Gilman took over the pitching. He got by with one more run in that inning, passed the third scoreless, gave out two hits, a walk and two runs in the fourth, blanked the redmen in the fifth and sixth, then retired in the seventh after Van Pelt's three-bagger had been followed by Shuiship's circuit clout. Then Ray Massey took over but was unable to quell the Indian rally until three more redmen had crossed the platter. Massey faced only three batsmen in the eighth, but the damage had been done.

Heppner's twelve hits and seven runs would have been sufficient to win an ordinary ball game, featured by Ray Massey's home run, brother Al's triple and two-bagers by Lieuallen and Rodman. Bt the warm afternoon seemed to be just what the redmen needed to melt away any momentary advantage held by the locals.

Plans are for a play-off series among the four high teams, in which Heppner is assured a berth regardless of outcome of future games. The locals should have a good chance of taking Ione, however, when the neighboring town's team comes next Sunday.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

ALVIN KLEINFELDT, Pastor

The original Church of Christ which began on the day of Pentecost after Christ's ascension was, naturally undenominational. It followed the teachings of Christ and His apostles. It is our pattern today. The New Testament Scriptures contain God's will for us today. These we are continually searching that we might grow unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ.

James N. Luper, 88, Early Oregon Pioneer

James N. Luper, 88, Oregon pioneer who crossed the plains when three years old and who for many years farmed on Heppner flat, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leta Babb, at 1 o'clock Monday morning. Bedfast for the last five years as the result of breaking his hip in a fall, Mr. Luper contracted influenza a little more than a week before his passing, the ravages of which his weakened condition was unable to withstand.

Funeral services were held from Masonic temple yesterday morning followed by interment in Masonic cemetery. Heppner lodge 69, A. F.

& A. Masons, with which Mr. Luper had been affiliated since 1900, officiated assisted by Alvin Kleinfeldt, Christian minister. Honorary pallbearers, all long time friends and business associates, were L. E. Bisbee, W. E. Pruyne, M. D. Clark, Hanson Hughes, David Hynd and Ray McAlister. Active pallbearers were John and Robert Wightman, C. J. D. Bauman, H. D. McCurdy, Vawter Parker and Walter Luckman. Mrs. J. O. Turner was at the piano and a quartet, Miss Marie Barlow, Miss Kathryn Parker, John Anglin and J. O. Turner, sang. The service paid fitting tribute to the sterling character of the deceased.

James Norton Luper was born in Illinois, March 28, 1850, to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Luper. Crossing the plains in 1853 when Mr. Luper was three years old, the family was among the first settlers near Albany, giving name to a railroad station at the old farm site. Growing to manhood among pioneer conditions, Mr. Luper when a young man took a farm of his own near Eugene and it was while located there that he met Miss Frances Rhea and, on February 11, 1882, he married her at Junction

City. He became affiliated with the Masonic order the same year. With his family, Mr. Luper came to Morrow county in 1900 and took up the farm on Heppner flat which he operated until retirement in 1925. Mr. Luper resided at Portland for several years after leaving the farm, and it was there that he fell five years ago, receiving the broken hip that had since kept him bedfast. He returned to Heppner with his daughter, Mrs. Babb, three years ago and had been here since that time.

Besides the daughter, he is survived by a son, Rhea Luper of Portland; sister, Mrs. Hattie Dawson of Los Angeles; two brothers, Grant of Vallejo, Cal., and George of Spokane, Wash.; six grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Patience, honesty and fortitude marked the career of James N. Luper. Possessed of strong physique builded by a rigorous life in the out-of-doors, he found companionship with, and recompense from, the soil. Through vicissitudes of lean years he retained courage to carry on to harvests of better years, maintaining clear visage and a well balanced relationship with his fellow man the while. In earlier years he thought nothing of lifting one end of a header box on to the wagon while several men lifted the other end, and in his later years of bedfastness an equal strength was shown in accepting uncomplainingly and cheerfully the adversity that was his lot. Kind and generous where needed, he evidenced a deep gentleness with as little ostentation as that with which his muscular power was applied when it was needed. His many years of arduous toil were reflected in a character that commanded the respect and admiration of all who knew him.
