Official Paper for Morrow County

For a Bigger Parade

BUSINESS and professional men of Heppner contributed nicely this week to the parade prize fund, assuring liberal cash awards for many types of entries in the big feature of Rodeo on Saturday, the 27th.

Those sponsoring the solicitation of funds had in mind raising an amount sufficient to fairly well repay those from outside the city for their efforts in putting entries into the parade, and especially to give the kiddies compensation for their part. That this spirit is being carried out is evidenced by announcement that every child with an entry in the parade will receive some cash compensation.

But the action of business men is only a starter toward making this enjoyable Rodeo event one in which the entire county will take pride. It remains for the people of the county to do their part. There is opportunity for everyone to participate.

It is hoped to make a large showing of horses and such relics of the Old West as may be available. Horse-drawn vehicles of ancient vintage are desired. Outmoded farm machinery may well play a part. Costumes and household relics reminiscent of pioneer days will add color and background. Pets of all kinds should be shown, and those who have fancy livestock will find this an exceptional opportunity to present it to public view. Again, the floats provide opportunity for aesthetic appeal, for encouraging the spirit of progress, so realistically enacted by pioneer forebears. Very little trouble and expense is involved in adorning automobiles.

Those early day pioneers, too, are encouraged to ride in the parade that the succeeding generations may see the people themselves who laid the foundation for the substantial civilization which we now enjoy.

Tax Exemption Must Be Filed Before Sept. 1

War veterans who are entitled to tax exemption have been notified by Thos. J. Wells, assessor, that renewed application for exemption must be made before September 1. Chapter 391, Oregon Laws for 1935, makes renewed application for veteran's tax exemption necessary each year, says Mr. Wells, who quotes from it as follows:

"Each veteran or widow qualifying for the exemption herein provided shall file with the county assessor a claim therefor in writing, verified by oath or affirmation, setting out the basis of such claim and designating the property or properties to which such exemption may apply. Forms for such claims and designations or properties shall be supplied by the county assessor. . . . Each such claim for the exemption and designation of property shall be filed with the assessor on or before the first day of September of the year in which the exemption is claimed, and if not so filed the exemption shall not be allowed to such veteran or widow on the assessment roll of that year."

Mrs. Otto Metschan and sister, Juanita Matlock, of Portland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Patterson last week.

Canadian, Mexican Pictures Shown Lions

technicolor slides made from negative slides made from negatives of natural color photos which she took on trips into Canada and Mexico was presented by Miss Rose Liebbrand before the Monday Lions luncheon. Miss Leta Humphreys, companion of Miss Liebbrand's on both trips, was also a guest at the luncheon.

The Canadian trip on which Mrs. Lucy E. Rodgers and Mrs. Agnes Wilcox were also present was taken this summer, and reports of members of the party had before been made to Lions with promise that the pictures would be shown later. The Mexican trip was made by Miss Humphreys and Miss Liebbrand a year ago, but Miss Liebbrand only recently completed the projector slides.

Miss Liebbrand gave a short description of the history of each picture as it was shown, and where variation of exposure caused color to be untrue she admitted to amateur experimentation. Wonderfully true color reproductions were obtained in many instances, however, and some of the prized pictures shown were of gardens, lakes, cloud and mountain scenes in the Canadian national park about Lake Louise. Some clear scenes were taken through dense smoke clouds by use of infra-red films, while others taken under like conditions were untrue due to under-exposure.

Most of the Mexican scenes depicted the ancient Maya ruins on the Yucatan peninsula, showing pyramids and other structures that are being rebuilt in original form by Carnegie foundation. In many of the pictures members of the home party were included "just to prove that I had really been there," as Miss Liebbrand put it.
