Morrow Added to Open Elk Country; Season on Tuesday

Hunters Required to Check in; Extra $3 Fee Asked in Rules

The northeastern Oregon elk season this fall will extend from next Tuesday, Nov. 8, to and including November 20, being two days longer than last year. The open territory has been enlarged by addition of all of Morrow county and the balance of Grant county. The complete list of open counties is as follows: all of Morrow and Grant counties; all of Union and Umatilla counties except the Mt. Emily game refuge; that portion of Wallowa county lying north and west of the Grande Ronde river; and that portion of Baker county lying west of the La Grande-Baker, Baker-Unity and Unity-Vale highways.

Hunters will be required to check in and out of the open area at any one of the following stations: Seneca, Heppner, Milton, Pendleton, Pilot Rock, Ukiah, Dale Ranger Station, Long Creek, Blue Mountain Ranger Station, Sumpter, Baker, North Powder, La Grande, Troy, Unity and John Day. Hunters will have to be adequately equipped for taking care of any elk killed, which means they must have sufficient ropes, preferably block and tackle, skinning knives, hatchet or ax, shovel and a vehicle of proper capacity to transport elk. No guns will be allowed that are smaller than 30 caliber except when using cartridges with bullets of not less than 1400 foot pounds energy at 100 yards distance or weighing not less than 150 grains. Each hunter is required to check out of area after he finishes hunting regardless of whether or not he kills an elk.

The bag limit is one bull elk having horns. Resident elk tags cost $3 each and are required in addition to the regular hunting licenses. Non-residents are charged $25 for their elk tags and $15 for the hunting licenses. Those hunters who purchased elk tags for the Clatsop county elk season and were not successful in bagging an elk, can use the same tag for the eastern Oregon area.

Klamath county will again have a three-day open season for elk from November 8 to 10, inclusive.

TAKE FLUROSCOPE TESTS

A large delegation of Heppner people went to The Dalles Saturday where a number of students who reacted positively to recent tuberculin tests were given flurosopie examination. Most of those examined reacted negatively to the latter test. Among those making the trip were Alden Blankenship with a load of school children, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Drake and children, Mrs. Frank Wilkinson and daughter; Mrs. J. G. Barratt and Billy; Mrs. Joe Hughes and son, Mrs. Henry Taylor and son, Mr. and Mrs. William Instone and daughter, Cornett Green, Mrs. Edith Thorpe, Miss Rachel Forsythe, Miss Ruth Green, Mr. and Mrs. John Kenny and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Frederickson and son, Mrs. W. E. Francis and sons, Isabel Fortner, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Crawford, John and Calvin. Several of those going returned early enough to take in the football game at Condon in the afternoon.

EXAMINER HERE 10TH

C. M. Bentley, examiner of operators and chauffeurs from the office of Earl Snell, secretary of state, will be at the city hall in Heppner Thursday, Nov. 10, between the hours of 1 and 4 p. m. All those desiring permits or licenses to drive cars should get in touch with Mr. Bentley at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Slocum spent the week end here from their home in the Ritter section, visiting Mr. Slocum's mother, Mrs. Clara Slocum.

Mustangs Emerge Conference Champs

Before one of the largest crowds of football fans assembled on the local field this season, the Heppner high school Mustangs thrashed out a 25 to 0 victory from the Arlington Honkers Monday afternoon. Resolutions formed by the Heppner lads, following a 6-0 beating handed them by the Honkers earlier in the season, played no small part in the victory.

The first minute of play, Heppner receiving the kick-off, left a very bewildered squad of Honkers—Drake Heppner end, with an open field before him, received a long pass from Morgan in the third play of the quarter. Result, 6 points for Heppner. Try for conversion failed. A second period series of power plays was topped off by a 25-yard end run by Moore, swift-footed reserve—6 more points for the Mustangs. The kick for conversion was blocked.

In the third period of play, Pettyjohn, by means of three consecutive line plunges, pushed the pigskin over for Heppner's third touchdown of the game. A short pass to Merrill completed the conversion. Soon after, Hayes broke loose for a brilliant 60-yard run, only to be stopped on the Arlington 20-yard line. The fourth quarter was marked by a 30-yard run by Gilman, which placed the ball on Arlington's 3-yard line. Line plunges failing to score, Moore again pulled one of his end sweeps to bring the score to the final 25-0. Arlington was always a scoring threat due to its brilliant aerial attack, but failed to advance beyond the Heppner 10-yard line.

This concludes the home game schedule; an Armistice Day game remains at Hermiston.

By virtue of having but one defeat on its record for the season, Heppner has captured the championship of the Upper Columbia Athletic league.

Hotel Dining Room Changes Management

Mrs. Lillian Lowman left the management of Hotel Heppner dining room this week after more than a year of service, expecting to return to her former home at Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Woodfin took charge. Mr. and Mrs. Woodfin arrived here recently from Portland and Mr. Woodfin has been clerking at the hotel.

Mr. Woodfin, who has had previous cooking experience with Heathman hotel in Portland and with Union Pacific railway, will take charge of the cooking. G. R. Peyton of Portland has taken the position of night clerk at the hotel with George Gibson going on to the day desk.

TO BE HUNTING GUESTS

Frank B. Wire, head of the state game commission, his assistant, Chas. Lockwood, and E. R. Fatland, state representative, will be elk hunting guests of Logie Richardson next week. The party will have their headquarters at Tupper ranger station through courtesy of the forest service.

CORRECTION

This paper mistakenly reported last week that Mr. and Mrs. Ted Stone had left Heppner to make their home in Walla Walla. Though Mr. Stone has left the service of the Central market, as reported, he says that he and Mrs. Stone have no intention of leaving Heppner.

CANDY SALE SET

The Junior Girls Pep club will sell candy Saturday afternoon to raise money for Thanksgiving baskets for the needy.

104 Fathers, Sons At Dinner Launching Boy Scout Year

Judge Sweek, Toastmaster; Rev. Young Gives Inspiring Talk

One hundred and four plates were served at the father-son banquet in the basement of the Christian church Friday evening when much impetus was given to the new Boy Scout year. Judge C. L. Sweek in the role of toastmaster was warmly received by old-time friends who recalled his several former successes in this capacity locally. Robert Hughes, executive of the Blue Mountain council from Walla Walla, was honor guest; B. C. Pinckney, local executive committee chairman, was master of ceremonies; Dr. A. D. McMurdo introduced his old-time friend, the visiting toastmaster, and Rev. R. C. Young gave the address of the evening.

Tom Wells, scoutmaster, assisted Scouter Hughes with the investiture ceremony for a group of tenderfoot scouts. Ladd Sherman, Lexington scoutmaster, headed a group of visitors from Lexington. F. W. Turner led group singing, assisted by Miss Marjorie Parker at the piano. Philip Cohn gave a talk on, "Why I am a Scout," Teddy Ferguson and Howard Gilliam played a cornet duet, and Bob Crockett was awarded a prize for selling the most tickets. A delicious dinner was prepared and served by ladies of the church.

Attendance at the dinner so far exceeded expectations that considerable strain was put on the kitchen force, reports Mr. Pinckney. However, all were served, thanks to the ladies, and the added attendance only gave more pleasure to the occasion.

Mr. Young took the scout oath as his text in delivering a highly inspirational address, declaring that the ideals of scouting, to keep oneself "physically strong, mentally alert and morally straight," are ideals which everyone might well seek, and the attainment of which would make a nation of citizens of highest caliber.

Mr. Hughes gave an historic account of the Boy Scout movement, which was brought to America from England. He presided at the investiture ceremony and assisted in awarding merit badges which had been earned by several scouts present.

District Meeting Church of God, On

A special fellowship meeting of Churches of God in eastern Oregon is convening at the local tabernacle today. Ministers are present from Irrigon, Pendleton, Hermiston, Milton-Freewater, Enterprise, Union, La Grande and Baker, reports E. D. Greely, local minister.

Rev. Lester Carlson of La Grande, district presbyter, will be the leading speaker at this evening's service. The public is invited.

GOES TO HOME

Martin Stewart, county pioneer, departed Tuesday morning for Portland where he expected to enter the I. O. O. F. home. Mr. Stewart has followed the cooking profession for many years, establishing a good reputation in restaurants and on farms of the county. Recent ill health has caused his retirement.

Mrs. Milton Spurlock, daughter of Mrs. Ada Cason of this city, has returned to her home at Ukiah from St. Anthony's hospital at Pendleton where she was confined for several months with a severe illness. Her condition is reported as much improved.

Battleships Become Obsolete the Same As Automobiles

That Uncle Sam's large battleships become obsolete almost as fast as automobiles is the assertion of W. G. Luper, brother of the late James N. Luper of this city, who as machine maker and draftsman at the Mare Island navy yard for 41 years is in a position to know. Mr. Luper, now retired and residing at Vallejo, Cal., visited here this week with his niece, Mrs. Leta Babb, leaving Tuesday morning to visit other relatives in Washington. He expected to spend three weeks at Grand Coulee, viewing engineering marvels of the big dam.

Substantiating his statement about the battleships, Mr. Luper said he assisted in construction of the Montana, one of the large super battleships Uncle Sam had projected and which was abandoned in 1925 following international peace treaties. About $3,000,000 worth of armor plate and a number of behemoth 16-inch guns that were to have gone into this greyhound now lie at Mare Island as a sore thumb, entirely worthless because of later improvements. The armor plate and guns were shipped to Mare Island from the east, and were unloaded there by the largest unloading crane west of the big eastern steel works, Mr. Luper said.

Mr. Luper is especially interested in Californias large redwood trees. And just to prove a long-standing interest he exhibits a picture of himself and wife in the first automobile ever to visit the Giant forest in 1904, a Stanley steamer resembling many of the first horseless carriages. He has just written a log of this trip for publication in the Redwood National Park journal.

Condon Nosed Out By Score of 7 to 0

In a hard fought football battle climaxed by a forty-yard run to the 2-yard line by Morgan in the closing minutes of the game, the Heppner Mustangs defeated the Condon Blue Devils by the score of 7 to 0 on the Condon field Saturday afternoon.

Heppner received the opening kick-off on their own twenty and by six successive first downs advanced the ball to the Condon ten-yard stripe, where their offense bogged down, and the ball, inches short of a first down, went to Condon. They immediately kicked out of danger and then held Heppner on downs. Condon soon recovered the ball on a blocked kick on Heppner 30 and marched down to the 10-yard line where a desperate goal line defense gave Heppner the ball. Neither team threatened again that half.

In the third quarter Condon again threatened by recovering a fumble on the Heppner 10-yard line, but failed to have quite enough punch to score.

For the rest of the game Heppner kept threatening but was unable to score until Morgan raced forty yards on one of the two reverses tried. Two plays later Morgan crossed the goal standing up on the other reverse Heppner pulled. The extra point was made on a pass from Morgan to Barratt.

The final whistle blew 3 minutes later with Condon frantically trying to make its passes click.

IS TRANSFERRED

LeGrand Guild, agronomist with the soil conservation service here for the last three years, has been transferred to similar work at Snohomish, Wash., and with Mrs. Guild left Sunday for his new location. Mrs. Guild expected to return to Heppner to spend some time before joining Mr. Guild at Snohomish.

POSTOFFICE SCORES 98

Irrigon postoffice was rated 98 by the inspector who visited there October 31, reports Lillie B. Warner, postmistress.

Voters Go to Polls Tuesday to Fill Important Offices

Fate of 12 Measures to be Determined; City Offices Also Up

A considerable number of absentee ballots cast by those expecting to go elk hunting evidences a strong local interest in the general election next Tuesday. As the campaign comes to a close, men and issues have been presented to the public fairly, with little mud-slinging from the various camps and it is expected that the minds of the electorate are made up on the leading contests for offices and the twelve measures upon which they will decide.

Word from the sheriff's office gives but two changes in the regular voting places. A change of polls has been made in both Heppner precincts. South Heppner voters will cast ballots at the Dick building, corner of May and Main streets, and North Heppner voters will vote in the Roberts building on Willow street just west of the Gazette Times office.

To be voted upon in Morrow county will be a governor, United States senators (for long and short terms), congressman, three supreme court justices, labor commissioner, superintendent of public instruction, secretary of state, one state senator, two state representatives, county assessor, county treasurer, and various precinct offices.

In addition to the general election, Heppner, Ione and Lexington city elections will be held to select officers for the ensuing year.

Outstanding contests appearing are those between Sprague and Hess for governor, Holman and Mahoney for U. S. senator, and Pierce and Balentine for congressman. All of these candidates have appeared in Morrow county in the course of the campaign and presented their cases to the voters. For county offices only one contest appears, that between Wtlls and Chaffee for assessor.

Heppner voters will decide between J. O. Turner and G. A. Bleakman for mayor, and will select three councilmen from a list of five appearing on the ballot. For councilmen are E. A. Bennett, R. B. Ferguson and P. W. Mahoney, now serving, and Alex Green and John Anglin.

The time has now elapsed for casting absentee ballots, and on election day only those whose registration appears in order will have the privilege of voting.

TO VISIT SON IN EAST

Mrs. Della Corson of Ione expects to leave shortly for Chicago where she will visit for a time with her son, Eldred Corson, and family. Mrs. Corson was recently relieved from her position as operator at the Ione telephone exchange by installation there of automatic equipment. She had filled the position for some quarter of a century.

TO SERVE DINNER

Ladies of Bunchgrass Rebekah lodge and Past Noble Grands club of Ione will serve dinner in the I. O. O. F. hall in Ione on election day, Tuesday, Nov. 8. There will be a choice of chicken or meat loaf on the menu and all other fixings required for a real good dinner. There will also be a display of fancy work made by members of the club.

TAKES BEAUTY SHOP

Margaret C. Constant of Chehalis, Wash., has taken charge of Lucille's Beauty shop, succeeding Adrain Woodfin, former operator, who has charge of the hotel dining room with her husband, Raleigh Woodfin.

Week-end guests of Mrs. Josie Jones were her sisttr, Mrs. Ellor Brock of Pendleton, and brother, Curtis Rhea of Stanfield.
