Mrs. B. F. Swaggart had as guests at her Swaggart Buttes farm home Sunday her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. Basil Ellis and daughter of Pendleton, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Christiansen of Indiana. Mr. Christiansen, famous horse trainer, recently purchased several of the Swaggart creamlines for use in the circus ring.

Charles Klinger, in the city today from the north Lexington farm, reported that he is turning off a fine bunch of turkeys. He recently marketed about two tons and still has three more tons to turn off. He has received as high as 27½ cents for hens. Out of the two tons already sold, only two birds were marked under grade A.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Patterson called on Mrs. Milton Spurlock at Pendleton last Sunday and found her considerably improved in the severe illness which has kept her confined in the hospital for several months. She had just left the hospital to spend a period of convalescence at a private home.

Wm. Kummerland was transacting business in the city yesterday from the Heppner flat farm. He was skeptical of crop prospects due to lack of moisture. Good rains in the spring may bring the new wheat through okeh, he said, but a good heavy snow would be the best insurance.

T. Babb returned to Heppner Tuesday evening after spending a week in Portland, and has resumed construction on the Burkenbine residence at North Center and Court streets which was held up for a few days awaiting inspection of foundation forms by a FHA inspector.

Mrs. Anna Bayless sustained a painful injury last Friday evening. As she was opening the front gate to her home she caught her hand in the latch and tore the skin on the back of the hand. Five stitches were required to close the wound.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Phelan returned from Portland the end of the week, having visited there with their sons, Paul and Clair, and daughter, Mrs. Helen McClaskey. The latter came up from San Francisco where she is employed.

M. J. Devin, in the city this morning from the Sand Hollow farm, wasn't feeling so blue over the weather. He said he remembered this kind of winter weather fifty years ago and the country came out all right.

Chester Darbee returned to his position as depot agent the end of last week after spending the holidays with his daughter, Mrs. Ray Rogers, and family at Redmond, and with other relatives at Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Becket report good progress on the new home they are constructing on the Eight Mile farm. They were able to set up housekeeping in the basement this week.

Ed Chinn accompanied his son Daniel as far as Portland the end of the week as the latter returned to his studies at Mt. Angel college following the holiday season.

Harold Chriswell, assistant in the local forest ranger's office, has been transferred to Pendleton for two months' service in the district supervisor's office.

Mrs. Lucy E. Rodgers was hostess to American Legion auxiliary at her home in the Jones apartment Monday evening. Eleven members were present.

Mrs. Stephen Irwin, son Billy and daughter Barbara spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Irwin's sister, Mrs. J. F. Vaughn.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wood of Portland were week-end guests at the home of Mrs. Wood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rea.

Mustangs Lose, Win Over Week End

Heppner high school hoop squad's week-end games reveal a league game lost to the Arlington Honkers by a score of 37 to 20 on Saturday and Monday's non-league game with Lexington won by a score of 35 to 23.

Though the Mustangs trailed the Honkers by a score of 15 to 13 at the half, they failed to check Arlington's last half scoring spree led by Bowman, high point man for the game with twenty points.

The Mustang B squad overcame an early lead of the Arlington B squad to win 26 to 21.

Monday's game with Lexington, which for a while promised to be a nip-and-tuck affair with Heppner leading only by a 17-15 score at the half, was turned into a decided Mustang victory when a rally beginning in the third quarter lasted throughout the fourth to make the score 35 to 23. Drake, Heppner center, led the scoring with 10 points.

Two County Boys Get Pacific Letters

Pacific University, Forest Grove—Two Heppner high graduates were listed in the twenty Pacific university grid letter awards by Coach Roger Folgate here recently.

Len Gilman, ace triple-threat halfback, was listed for his second grid award. Gilman was a unanimous choice for an all-Northwest conference berth and was given honorable mention on the little All-American team.

Elwayne Lieuallen, who injured his shoulder in the Pacific-San Jose game and was out for the rest of the season, was given his second award for his duties as reserve halfback. Until his injury, Elwayne was one of the steadiest backfield performers.

The Pacific university team won the co-championship of the Northwest conference this season.
