

County Property To Pay $10,000 More for Taxes

Assessor's Statement for 1939 Lists Slight Increase

Total amount of taxes to be collected in Morrow county in 1939 exceeds by $10,000 the amount set up for collection at the beginning of 1938, according to the completed statement of taxes just issued by Assessor Thomas J. Wells. This year's total is $281,489.99 as against $271,545.98.

Represented in the increase is but .2 mill more in the general state and county levy, set at 16.1 mills this year as against 15.9 mills last year. This levy, which all property in the county must pay, includes general county 3.5 mills, state (elementary school) 1.6296, general school 1.2704, general roads 4.4, market roads 1., bond sinking fund 3.1, school interest fund 1.2.

Total county valuation shows a slight increase from $9,015,426, last years figure, to $9,044,762 for this year.

The assessor's statement this year has been modified from previous years to give the total levy by school districts, and segregating the amount to be paid inside and outside of towns in any school district. For instance this year's total levy for school district No. 1 outside of Heppner is 40.2 mills, while the total levy on property within the city of Heppner is 55.1 mills. The complete statement for all districts in the county will be given next week.

Total amounts to be collected by tax levying subdivisions are:

State, county, general school	$ 57,886.48
General roads	39,796.95

Additional Pomona Grange News Given

By MARY LUNDELL
With this issue, we continue the report of the Morrow County Pomona meeting held in Irrigon, Saturday, January 7.

Pomona Master Minnie McFarland spoke on Bonneville power during the lecturer's program. Mrs. McFarland recently attended a meeting of the Bonneville Federation of Oregon, also visited the Vancouver power set-up, so was prepared with a fine report, one which is of interest to all users of electricity and to those who hope to be users in the future.

The Oregon State grange, through its executive committee, is sponsoring a resolution to the effect that each subordinate grange in the state is to pass a resolution favoring the adoption of a revenue certificate bill which will provide for financing power districts with revenue certificates which are not a lien against the property, and which are an obligation only against the revenues of the power systems.

Mrs. McFarland, Umatilla, has spent a great deal of time in studying the Bonneville power question and otherwise educating herself on timely questions, and will gladly answer questions of interested persons.

Each grange in Morrow county is urged to appoint a power committee, this committee to be informed and make regular reports to its grange. On the power committee for Morrow County Pomona are named Burton Peck, O. L. Lundell and Orrin Wright, and will be assisted by the Pomona master, Mrs. McFarland.

Next week, we plan to submit to county readers, the resolution on power revenue certificates adopted by Morrow County Pomona grange.

PAST NOBLES MEET

Past Noble Grand club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Bertha Johnson. Those present included Mrs. Loyal Parker, Mrs. Sylvia Devlin, Mrs. Lester Doolittle, Mrs. A. J. Chaffee, Mrs. Letha Smith, Mrs. Etta Howell, Mrs. Flora Dimick, Mrs. Florence Hughes, Mrs. Verna Hayes, Mrs. Sadie Sigsbee and Mrs. Emma Jones, besides the hostess.

Pedestrian deaths formed about 70 per cent of all urban traffic fatalities in Oregon last year, but less than a quarter of rural fatalities, according to figures from the office of the secretary of state. Collisions between two cars represented by far the greatest number of accidents reported from within the limits of Oregon cities, yet they caused only 11 out of more than 100 urban fatal accidents.

Second Report on Specialty Crops Lists 1937 Data

Oregon farmers marketed from 1937 production approximately eight million dollars worth of specialty crops and products not listed in the regular bureau of agricultural economics estimates of principal crops, according to a report on "Production and Income Statistics for Certain Specialty Farm Products" just published by the Oregon State college extension service.

This is the second of two reports of this nature published within the past few months using data gathered under the terms of a special legislative appropriation for this purpose. The two reports now published, one covering 1936 and the other one 1937, constitute the only comprehensive county by county listing of production figures for such important Oregon products as vetch and field pea seed, various grass seeds, ladino clover seed, flax seed, fiber flax, filberts, peppermint, turkeys and some other crop and animal products. State and county data are given for some 50 sources of agricultural income.

The bureau of agricultural economics tentatively estimated Oregon's cash farm income for 1937 at $123,392,000, exclusive of $2,502,000 of government payments. To this total is now added $7,994,000 in income from specialty crops and products as a result of this comprehensive survey made in all 36 counties of the state. Information for the estimates contained in the report was obtained through personal contact with hundreds of informed persons such as growers, shippers, dealers, manufacturers, federal statisticians, county agents and other agricultural leaders.

In all the listings of crops, the data include area harvested, farm production in pounds, average farm price, cash farm income—all by counties and districts. It also shows in some instances the number of growers engaged in particular type of production.

The report is issued as Extension Circular No. 319, written by M. D. Thomas, L. R. Breithaupt and C. J. Borum.

OSC Student to Spend Year in Univ. of Chile

Oregon State College—Bound for the University of Chile, where he will spend a year on an exchange scholarship, Mason DeNeffe of Portland, senior in secretarial science here, will leave Seattle the last week in January on a combined freight and passenger boat.

The trip to Santiago will require nearly two months, during which time stops will be made at principal ports in all Central and South American countries.

The student exchange was arranged and financed at this end by

Phi Kappa Phi, the national all-college scholastic honor society. Paul Parada is the Chilean student now spending a year at Oregon State under the arrangement. The college year at the University of Chile starts April 1.
