Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Clark returned home Sunday from a fortnight's visit at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Riggs, at Cottage Grove. While below Mr. Clark was privileged to see the "Tall Firs" of Oregon ride over California in the coast championship basketball games. He is an ardent booster for university athletes, since both his sons-in-law, Mr. Riggs, and Gordon Ridings, now with Columbia U. coaching staff in New York, are former wearers of university team uniforms, Mr. Riggs in football, and Mr. Ridings in basketball. Mr. Clark said this year's national basketball champions are undoubtedly one of the greatest casaba tossing aggregations of all time.

Mrs. Edwin P. Hoyt, sons Edwin, Jr., and Dick, sister, Miss Loye DeVore and Bob Sherwood of Portland are spending Easter vacation with relatives and friends in this county, being guests at the J. G. Barratt home. Mrs. Hoyt is the wife of the manager of the Portland Oregonian, and Miss Loye teaches in the Portland schools. Both attended grade and high school in Heppner, being graduated in 1919. Sherwood sustained a painful injury Monday when an accidental shot from a .22 went through the end of his right index finger, while hunting squirrels. He was treated at a local physician's office.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Wehmeyer received word this week from their son, Stephen, who had been given a guard station at the world's fair in San Francisco while stationed there with Uncle Sam's army, that illness had caused him to be transferred to Fort Lewis, Wash. He was just recovering from an attack of flu, and orders were that he must spend three months in the open.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burnside were in town Tuesday from the farm near Hardman. They reported that their son, Ted, and family had just moved to the lower ranch, and Mr. Burnside was having some difficulty holding up his end of the chores due to slow recovery of a hand that was recently smashed up when a heavy pump fell on it.

W. H. French, in the city yesterday from the farm south of Hardman, reported the mercury dropped to 8 below freezing Tuesday night. Snow is rapidly disappearing, remaining only in banks mainly on the north slopes, and the terrain is drying out quite fast, he said.

Mrs. Crockett Sprouls and Janet came over from Bend the end of the week for a visit with relatives and friends. Mr. Sprouls was recently transferred from The Dalles to Bend in his work with Standard Service stations.

Mrs. Charles Valentine was a business visitor in the city Tuesday from the farm near Lexington.

John W. Kelly and Vernon Williams, veteran newspaper reporters who have seen much service in the nation's capital, were visitors in the city Monday. They are setting up an Oregon news bureau at Washington and while here signed up the Gazette Times to give the service to its readers.

W. L. Blakely returned this week from Portland where he spent a month and a half assisting with the heavy movement of wheat at the river terminals. He said the wheat loading was exceptionally heavy during this period with many foreign ships taking on cargo.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cason were visiting in the city Friday from their home at Salem, calling on Mr. Cason's mother, Mrs. Ada Cason, and sisters, Peggy and Patricia. Mr. Cason travels out of the capital city for a wholesale coffee house.

Homer Hughes, son of Mrs. Grace Hughes, is home from the hospital in Portland where he underwent treatment for an affected foot. Orthopedic surgery was used to help correct the member. He is now getting about with crutches.

Allcott Lundell, Ivar Nelson and Clarence Warren were among farmers of the Gooseberry section appearing before the county court yesterday to oppose a proposed change in routing the Ione-Gooseberry road.

Mrs. Lena M. White and daughter, Mrs. Dean Cheek, of Caldwell, Idaho, are visiting with daughter and sister here, Miss Mary White. Mrs. Cheek was formerly Miss Frances White, and is Miss White's twin sister.

The Christian Womens Missionary society of the Christian church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lee Scrivner with a large attendance and a fine program.

Mrs. Casha Shaw plans to leave Sunday for Vancouver, B. C., to visit a sister she has not seen for many years.

LEAVE FOR TEXAS

Mr. and Mrs. Vawter Parker and Mrs. Parker's mother, Mrs. Julia Barry, left by car this morning for Ontario from where Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Barry expected to take the train for Texas to visit for two months at Dallas and vicinity. Among other relatives there, they expected to visit aunt and uncle of Mr. and Mrs. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Crawford. Mr. Parker expected to attend to business in connection with his office of secretary of national farm loan associations while away.

Bicyclists who make sudden turns without signaling, who cling to moving vehicles or who ride two abreast on the highway also become involved in many mishaps.

Motor vehicle registration for the first two months of this year indicates that there will be more passenger cars, light deliveries, trucks and motorcycles registered in Oregon this year than last, according to Secretary of State Earl Snell. Buses are the only general classification of vehicles to show a slight decline in registration.
