Miss Grace Burchell Weds in Corvallis

Of interest to many Morrow county friends is the recent marriage of Miss Grace Bruchell, daughter of Mrs. Paul Nichols of Corvallis and former Lexington girl who was graduated from Lexington high school in 1933. Her marriage to Mr. John Graham of Corvallis was an event of April 30 at the Corvallis Episcopal church. Rev. Gray officiated, reading the beautiful ring ceremony.

Mr. Paul Nichols gave the bride in marriage. She wore white lace with aluminum veil and carried calla lilies. Her sister, Mrs. Doris Sandy, matron of honor, wore pink lace with blue hat and muff. Mrs. Kay Burchell, her sister-in-law, and Mrs. Ethel Raw, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids wore blue lace and pink hats and muffs. Little Misses Lee and Lou Raw, twin chil-

Lions Observe Mothers' Day

Martin B. Clark, Christian minister, brought a Mothers' Day message to Lions assembled for the Monday luncheon at Hotel Heppner, and songs for the occasion were sung by Mrs. Ture Peterson, accompanied by Mrs. A. H. Blankenship. Discussion of swimming pool finances and the Boy Scout troop occupied the time of the service group during the business session.

Glenn Cecil Killed In Car Accident

Glenn Cecil, brother of Mrs. J. O. Rasmus of this city, was instantly killed in an automobile accident near Dayton, Wash., Saturday afternoon, and Mrs. Cecil received serious injuries including amputation of her nose by broken glass. The car was in a head-on collision with another car driven by two Walla Walla men. Funeral services were held at Dayton Monday, in charge of I. O. O. F. lodge of that city, with interment following in Dayton cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cecil of Spray were in attendance.

Glenn William Cecil was born on Willow creek just across the Gilliam county line, January 24, 1895, to Wilford and Elsie (Zachary) Cecil, pioneer residents. His grandfather founded the town of Cecil in this county. He attended school in Heppner in 1904-5-6, going to Dayton as a boy with an uncle, and had resided there for the last 33 years. He married Miss Mabel Rockhill, daughter of a former Washington congressman, at that place and for many years had followed farming. Surviving besides the widow, the sister here, and the brother Ralph of Spray, are three children, John, Lenore and Nadine.

Wightman Bros. Start New Milk House

Ground was broken this week as construction was started on a new milk house at the lower Wightman brothers farm to complete facilities to replace those razed by fire on the upper farm last year. Recent approval of the barn facilities at the lower place was obtained from the state so that a complete new plant, for a time contemplated, was not needed for Heppner's leading dairy supply.

Mr. Hill, head draftsman for Copeland Lumber yards of Portland, who assisted in drawing the plans, came up from Portland last week with T. Babb, contractor, and received the final ok of the owners. The structure is expected to be pushed as rapidly as possible.
