Hardman Graders Get Diplomas

By HARDMAN HIGH SCHOOL

The grade school graduating program at 2 o'clock on Friday afternoon was a pretty affair. Mrs. Muriel McCutcheon played the march as the three graduates entered, Nona Inskeep, Jean Leathers and Vera McDaniel. The program was as follows: "The Welcome into High School," Vern McDaniel; chorus by lower grades; commencement poem, Mildred Clary; solo, Mrs. Neal Knighten; duet, Juanita Leathers and Cecil McDaniel; class will, Nona Inskeep; class prophecy, Vera McDaniel; class history, Jean Leathers; address and presentation of diplomas, Mrs. Lucy Rodgers, introduced by Mrs. Marvin Brannon.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Musgrave and Miss Loes Stevens of Fox Valley and Monument came over Friday. The Musgraves went on to visit at the Dobyns ranch, and Loes stayed here with her sister, Mrs. Frank McDaniel. Loes was graduated last week with the class at Monument, where she has been attending school during the past year. She reports that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stevens and her brother Arlton now have their farm near Hamilton in readiness for a good garden and other crops. They all like that country very much.

On Wednesday of last week Mrs. Tom McIntyre went to Pendleton for shopping and also a brief visit with her daughter here. Announcements are out for commencement exercises at the academy and Miss Molly McIntyre is in the graduating class, whose exercises will be held May 26.

The latter part of the week J. E. Craber went over to Hermiston to see how Gordon is improving under the doctor's care there. Mrs. Craber and Gordon will remain at Hermiston at least until the end of the month.

Elmer Knighten and family of Condon have been visiting briefly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Knighten.

Several of the club members have left town but nevertheless the Birthday club was well represented when they met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. B. Adams to honor her birthday. She received many attractive gifts, and the refreshments were delicious.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey Hastings and daughters spent Thursday at the mill, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Claud Buschke and others. On Thursday evening Carey left for Lonerock to join the Happold shearing crew.

Owen Leathers who is doing maintenance work for the forest service, reports that Tuesday night of last week he and Bert Bleakman fought a bad little fire out near Ditch creek. They were both in Heppner Wednesday and again later in the week. On Saturday Owen came home for the week end but left late Sunday for Ditch creek.

At the end of the week B. H. Bleakman, Ed McDaniel, Earl Redding, Fan Miller, Buster Bleakman and Mr. Lundell came in from the mine in the John Day country for supplies and repairs. Prospects are at least good enough to take most of the men back the early part of this week. Mr. Bleakman is ill and will not return at this time.

Larry Lovgren, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lovgren, had his tonsils and adenoids removed Saturday. He also had an ulcerated tooth pulled at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leathers and daughter Jean, Ivan Leathers, Mrs. Frank McDaniel and Miss Loes Stevens drove over to Monument Sunday. All but Loes returned Monday.

Mrs. Maud Robison is cooking at Greener's place in the mountains during the time that Mrs. Greener is absent in California, visiting the fair.

Mrs. Bud Fisk and daughter Marlene left Saturday for Arlington after a visit of ten days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McDaniel. Marlene was here for over a month for she loves to visit her grandparents here.

Chris Hamilton came over from Monument Saturday afternoon on business to see Ivan Leathers who is visiting friends and relatives here.

Marvin Brannon, who has just finished papering the Fred Kruger house, is starting this week on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McDaniel.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Redding and daughter Erlene visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Redding at Eight Mile.

Miss Pat Bleakman, who has been cooking at the Cannon ranch, is now home. Since school is now closed, Mrs. Cannon and daughters have returned from Ione.

Ralph Reed stopped a short time in Hardman Monday from his home near Spray. He reported a nice rain in that country.

Mrs. Raymond Reid came down Monday from the mill and spent the day in town. Her sister, Miss Pat Bleakman, returned with her for a few days' visit.

Last Sunday the rain storm between here and Heppner was so severe that Rev. Young was not able to get out here for church services, although he started and came as far as he could. He will be here for Sunday school and church next Sunday, however, and the time is 3 o'clock for Sunday school with church following. On the following Sunday Mr. Clark of the Christian church will be here and on each Sunday thereafter some one will be out to hold services here.

The weather has been varied enough for any writer's taste, but we did not get the rainfall that most of the neighboring places, even Heppner, enjoyed. There have been clouds all week but each day there has also been sunshine part of the time. Even the electric storms so far have never been frightening.

OSC 4-H Session Promises Record Again This Year

Another record-breaking 4-H club summer session is in prospect at Oregon State college June 5 to 16, when a total of about 2000 boys and girls and local leaders will be on the campus for an intensive two-weeks program of studies and activities.

H. C. Seymour, state club leader, says that despite the increased enrollment and the fact that some 1500 state grange convention delegates will be in Corvallis during the second week of the 4-H session, adequate facilities will be available to handle the group.

Oregon conducts what is generally recognized as the largest two-weeks 4-H club summer session in the United States.

Ten original radio plays written by Oregon 4-H club members will be broadcast over KOAC during the 4-H club summer session June 5 to 16 with members of the club delegations serving as radio actors and actresses, announces James Morris, KOAC announcer, who is in charge of this fifth annual contest sponsored by the state station.

Eunice Timm of Dayton won first place in the general radio play-writing contest, while Alice Adams of Portland won first place in the traffic safety contest sponsored by the secretary of state's office. Both were awarded summer session scholarships as prizes. Second place in the safety contest was won by Jacqueline Morton of Cottage Grove.

The two safety plays will be broadcast during the noon farm hour June 7 to 14. The eight winning plays in the general contest will be broadcast at 7:30 o'clock daily except Sunday, starting Wednesday, June 7.

Writers of the plays in the order in which they will be broadcast are Mary Helen Alexander, Parkdale; Patty Van der Helen, Medford; Jean Burnett, Klamath Falls; Alice Adams, Portland; Eunice Timm, Dayton; John Watkins, Laurel; Jacqueline Morton, Cottage Grove, and Josephine Danna, Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knox and baby daughter left Saturday afternoon for Eugene where they will be located for the summer. Mr. Knox, high school principal and coach, has signed to play baseball with Eugene in the Cascade league during vacation, expecting either to catch or play third base.

Irrigon Graduates Six at Exercises

By MRS. W. C. ISOM

Commencement exercises were held at the high school auditorium Friday evening. A large crowd attended. Dr. Elmo Stevenson from La Grande gave a very interesting address. The graduates are June Stevens, Mary Acock, Robb Brace, Clarence Frederickson, Elvin Whipple and John Swearingen.

Mrs. George Kendler, Jr., and two children from Mason City, Wn., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Isom, over the week end.

Miss Dusenberry left Friday for her home at Weiser, Idaho. Mr. and Mrs. Eddy motored to Sandpoint the same day and that evening Miss Clark went to her home at Eugene. Miss Mary Crooks accompanied her father to Boise Saturday. Miss Clark and Miss Bowling will not return another year, both having obtained positions nearer home. Miss Culp of La Grande will take Miss Bowling's place and Miss Dorothy Colton will fill Miss Clark's position.

Prof. and Mrs. Ralph Jones left Monday for Walla Walla for a short stay. They will attend the world's fair at San Francisco and also attend the University of California at Berkeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Caldwell visited Mr. Caldwell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Caldwell, Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Williamson, sister of Mrs. Tom Caldwell, returned with them to Portland, being enroute to her home at Junction City.

Mrs. Don Kenny and two sons, who had been visiting relatives in Portland the last ten days, returned Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster of Hermiston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rand Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Warner were dinner guests of their daughter, Mrs. Batie Rand and family, Sunday.

R. V. Jones is having a well drilled on his west place. Mr. Lewis is doing the work.

Alvin Strader, son of Mrs. Bessie Strader, died suddenly some time Monday night while irrigating. He was found early Tuesday morning on the ditch bank. It is thought his death was due to a heart attack.

Mrs. Roy Minnick and son Leroy were struck by an automobile while driving their car in Hermiston Saturday evening. Neither were seriously injured though they were bruised considerably.

Mrs. Brownell and daughter, Mrs. Ruth Stevens, from Portland visited Mrs. Brownell's mother, Mrs. J. A. Grabel, last week.

Mrs. Ruker who has been visiting relatives in Wallowa returned home Thursday.

Five Noted Men to Get Honor Degrees at OSC

Oregon State College—Graduation exercises here May 29 will see five distinguished men in science, education and applied arts awarded honorary degrees by this institution.

Two of the five are alumni of Oregon State and the others have had active professional careers here in Oregon. Following are the five men to be honored:

Dr. John C. Merriam, recently retired as president of the Carnegie Institution, who as a paleontologist brought national attention to the John Day fossil beds in north central Oregon. He will receive a doctor of science degree. Dr. Paul H. Emmett, professor of chemistry and gas engineering at Johns Hopkins university and an OSC graduate in 1922, doctor of science. Glen Lukens, head of the department of ceramics at the University of Southern California in 1920, doctor of ceramics. A. D. Molohon, chief of range improvement in the division of grazing, department of interior, Washington, D. C., who has been active in establishing the Taylor grazing act and related work in Oregon and other western states, master of agriculture. J. A. Churchill, president of the Oregon College of Education and director of elementary teacher training in Oregon, doctor of laws.

Cities' Ordinance Books Streamlined

University of Oregon, Eugene, May 23—New books containing all live city ordinances, carefully indexed and classified, have been completed for three Oregon cities, Pendleton, Hillsboro and Sutherlin, it was announced by Herman Kehrli, director of the University of Oregon bureau of municipal research.

The work, which brought the ordinance books up-to-date and eliminated all obsolete civic legislation, was done as a part of a state-wide WPA project under the supervision of the bureau and the League of Oregon Cities.

The book, "Looking Backward" is not a treatise on accident prevention, but there might well be such a book with that title, believes Earl Snell, secretary of state. During the first three months of 1939, 568 Oregon drivers backed themselves into accidents, 16 of them resulting in injuries. Examiners for the motor vehicle operators' division frequently find applicants who have difficulty learning to back properly, Snell said.
