4 Local Students Graduated from OSC

Oregon State College—The seventieth and largest annual commencement here Monday, May 29, sent 691 men and women out to "commence" their life work. Most of them had permanent positions already arranged, a recent survey showed, others have summer work lined up, some of the women will go directly into homemaking or other non-commercial field, while not a few graduates will continue in advanced study.

Included in this largest of all OSC graduating classes were the following from Morrow county, Nancy Jane Cox and William Claire Phelan, Heppner; Edward L. Burchell and Lawrence Philip Doherty, Lexington.

Degrees conferred this year included 5 honorary degrees, 3 doctors of philosophy, the highest earned, 4 professional degrees, 8 masters of arts, 66 masters of science, 3 masters of education, 2 masters of forestry, 26 bachelors of arts and 574 bachelors of science.

The school of agriculture led in numbers of graduates with 130. Engineering, which led last year, was second with 106, followed by home economics, 96; forestry, 71; science, 64; education, 58; secretarial science, 55; pharmacy, 16 and nursing education, 4.

Geographically the graduates this year came from every Oregon county, 13 other states and five foreign countries. California claimed the most out-of-state graduates with 42, while China led the foreign countries with 3.

Average age of those finishing the regular four-year courses was 23.73, girls averaging 23.27 and men 23.92. Elizabeth Cornelia Parsons of Burlingame, Calif., was the youngest graduate, having become 20, years old only last January. Arlie Laurence Hatfield, Corvallis, was the youngest man, born 20 years ago last November.

Logie Richardson returned yesterday from a visit to Portland over the week end and Memorial day holiday.
