Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Pinckney and son returned Sunday from a trip which took them to Nebraska, Mr. Pinckney's former home. Conditions were somewhat better in the middle west than he expected to find them, Pinckney stated. There has been more rainfall in Nebraska the past spring than in recent years and crops were fairly good. They found conditions in western Montana somewhat improved also, due to increased rainfall. It was Mr. Pinckney's first visit to Nebraska in 11 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Marquardt and stepson and grandchildren motored to Boise last week, visiting with their youngest daughter, Mrs. Jean Clark, and family. Returning home Saturday they were accompanied by Mrs. Clark's children, and were joined here by Celestia Jordan, George Lambirth and Harry Marquardt, making quite a family reunion.

Mrs. Lillian Gray McCormick, envoy of the Salvation Army, Portland district, was a caller in Heppner Monday. Mrs. McCormick reported a cordial reception by local people in her canvass for funds and believes business conditions must be better, if her reception this year as compared with recent years is to be taken as a criterion.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Zahl of Portland passed through Heppner Sunday on their way home from Flint, Mich., after driving a new car from the factory. Mrs. Zahl was formerly Miss Thelma Selling and in 1919 was a member of the Heppner grade school teaching staff.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Harvey Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Loyal R. Parker left this morning for Klamath Falls where they will attend the annual convention of the State Elks association this week end. Mr. Miller is exalted ruler and Mr. Parker secretary of Heppner lodge 358.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Huston were visitors at the Blackburn mill on Rhea creek Sunday afternoon.

Visitors in Heppner this morning were J. C. Schleppegrell and son, J. C. Jr., of Los Angeles. The senior Schleppegrell is a newspaperman of many years standing and couldn't resist the temptation to browse around the GT office and inhale some printer's ink. The visitors were enroute to Montana, their former home.

Good fishing is reported from the lower Twelve Mile district, states District Ranger F. F. Wehmeyer. Many fine catches have been reported recently. It is expected that the state game commission will plant fish in Skookum, Alder, Wall and Johnson creeks in the Heppner forest area.

Collins Faces First Degree Murder Count

Lee Collins, alleged slayer of State Policeman Willard Tubbs, will face a first degree murder charge in the Gilliam county circuit court, according to a statement made by District Attorney D. R. Parker. Collins is in a hospital at The Dalles where he is reported to be on the road to recovery from a bullet wound inflicted by Marshal Webb Turner of Arlington.

Funeral services for the slain officer were held at Arlington Friday and the body was shipped to Portland for cremation. Several Heppner people attended the services at Arlington.

GEORGE CASS

Funeral services for George Cass, 76, who died at the Bucknum rooming house Wednesday, June 28, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the chapel of Phelps Funeral home. Cass had been a resident of the county for many years, herding sheep and doing other ranch work in the country before coming to Heppner to reside. He was a native of New York.

Makes First Visit In 35 Years

In the states on a business and pleasure trip, Bruce Haines paid Heppner a visit the past week end. He has made his home in Valdez, Alaska, for a number of years and his visit here was cut short as he had to be in Seattle early this week to catch his boat for the return journey.

When the present century was young, Haines engaged in the furniture business in Heppner. He sold out about 1904 and left this section. His visit here was primarily to see Mrs. Frank Anderson, his sister-in-law, and while here sought out some of his acquaintances of other days. He is a brother of Beach Haines, former Heppner and Ione hotel operator.

Fire Dispatcher Wed at Pullman

The marriage of George P. Clasky, dispatcher at the Tupper ranger station, and Miss Mildred Ensley was an event of Saturday evening at Pullman, Wash. The couple returned to Tupper and were given a reception Tuesday evening at which some 40 were present. They were presented with a set of silverware by fellow employees in the forest service.
