Lex Sustains Wind Damage Monday

By MARGARET SCOTT
Several trees were uprooted, tele- phones and other electric appliances were temporarily out of commis- sion, a water main was broken, windmills were ruined, and the car owned by George York was badly damaged by the storm that hit town Monday.

Guests of Vernon Scott and fam- ily and Laura Scott Sunday were Ed Warner and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dickinson and family of Pine Grove.

Local people enjoyed the Fourth of July visiting with friends in town, going to the mountains, or taking short trips to visit relatives in other localities.

Jerry Scott spent the week end at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sprinkel, in Heppner.

Glover Peck took his daughter Dorothy to Portland this week for further medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scott returned home from Grants Pass where they motored to get their daughters who visited there with relatives for the past three weeks.

Juanita Padberg returned to her home from a week's visit at the Wardwell home on Rhea creek. She was accompanied by Gloria and Janelle Wardwell who will be guests at the Archie Padberg home for a while.

Marie Steagall and Vera Whillock were Sunday dinner guests of Helen Breshears.

Grant Henderson has returned to his home in Stanfield after assisting his brother, Lonnie, in the local ga- rage for the past several months.

Vernon Johnston of Tacoma is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Clarence Carmichael and her mother, Mrs. Belle Leathers, are visiting their brother and son, Ivan, at Monument.

Mrs. Maud Pomeroy and daugh- ters, Wanda and Joyce, and Ben Sturgis of Washington are guests at the Ted McMillan home this week.

Mrs. J. E. Crabtree of Salem is a guest at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ar- chie Munkers.

O. M. Clark of Hermiston was a business visitor in town Thursday.

R. B. Rice, E. H. Miller and Merle Miller attended a wheat meeting in Pendleton Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Calvin left Tuesday for their home in Yakima after visiting at the Calvin home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Henderson and son Larry returned Tuesday from Hidaway springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cutler returned Tuesday from Athena.

Luella Owens of Salem is visiting her cousins, Lorine and June Van Winkle.

E. Harvey Miller departed Friday for St. Louis where he planned to attend the national Elks convention. Mr. Miller had the distinction of being elected third vice-president for the state of Oregon at the re- cent state convention held in Klam- ath Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eskelson of Lone Rock were guests at the Bob Cutler home Wednesday.

Mrs. Roy Johnson and son Duane of Burns were visitors here for the Fourth and Duane remained to work at the Chris Brown ranch.

A. M. Edwards and Orville Haigh were business visitors in Portland Thursday.

Modern Ordinances To be Prepared

University of Oregon, Eugene, July 12—Modern, "streamlined" or- dinances, which with slight varia- tions are designed to fit situations in cities throughout the state, will be prepared under a model ordi- nance program undertaken jointly by the League of Oregon Cities and the Bureau of Municipal Research of the University of Oregon as an out- growth of the WPA codification ser- vice sponsored by these agencies. Under a program agreed on at the last League convention, a tentative draft of each proposed ordinance will be submitted to city officials of Heppner and a number of other cities for review and criticism. The final model draft will be made avail- able to city councils where situations necessitating legislation arise.

It is not intended that the model ordinances be suitable for mechan- ical copying, but rather to serve as a starting point for working out regu- lations for individual cities, accord- ing to Herman Kehrl, Bureau di- rector. The advantage of uniformity achieved in this way is that the model ordinance will be based on a broader experience than is available in any one city, and if the same gen- eral principles are followed by a number of cities court interpretation of one ordinance will apply in all cities.

A comprehensive police ordinance and an ordinance for the regulation of junk dealers have already been mailed for review to J. J. Nys, city attorney; E. R. Huston, municipal judge; and Albert Schunk, police chief.

Model ordinances designed to pro- vide city traffic regulations, and to cover municipal regulation of food handlers, curb cuts, pavements cuts, and others will be included in the program.

The Bureau also has on file, avail- able to city officials, model ordi- nances drawn by various national and state organizations.

Oregon Shakespeareans Entertain Fair Crowds

A prevue to Oregon's famed annual Shakespearean Festival was given World Fair crowds in San Francisco when Angus Bowmer and his Oregon Shakespearean Festival Players presented a guest performance of the "Taming of the Shrew" in the Federal Theatre Playhouse at the Federal Building on Treasure Island, this week. The fifth annual Festival will be held in Ashland, Ore- gon August 4-13. Pictured above are Angus Bowmer, director, Dorothy Pruitt, popular member of the Shakespearean group and William Cottrell, former Hollywood motion picture and radio personality.
