

HARDMAN NEWSHardman Respects Paid John Adams

By HARDMAN HIGH SCHOOL

Most of the people in the community either went to John Adams' funeral in Heppner or to the burial in the Hardman cemetery. Mr. Adams had lived here for years and, though he had not been here much during the past few years, he will be missed by all, as he was always highly respected. For years he had been a member of the high school board. Pall bearers at the funeral were Jim Hams, Geo. Hayden, Chas. McDaniel, George Bleakman, Glen Hadley and Louis Bisbee.

The time for Prayer Meeting this year is at 7:30 on Friday at the church.

Misses Rita and Ann McIntyre are again enrolled in the St. Joseph's academy at Pendleton. Miss Molly McIntyre will remain home this year.

Mrs. Neal Knighten and children and Miss Pat Bleakman moved to Alpine Monday, where Mrs. Knighten is teaching. They will live in the teacherage. Later on Monday Mr. Knighten took over a truck load of furniture. They will be back to Hardman for week ends.

Elmer E. Pype, grand warden for Oddfellows for Oregon, in charge of the eastern Oregon district, who had been visiting all the lodges in the county, had to cancel his visit here when he received word of the destruction of his home by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey Hastings and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Sam McDaniel were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oren McDaniel Sunday. In the afternoon they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hayden.

The only new primary pupil this year is little Joan Adams. Other new pupils in the upper grade room are Lee McRoberts in the sixth and Alvin Byer in the fifth.

Mrs. Bertha Rice and father, John Bellenbrock, moved into the Walter Farrens house last week.

Glen Hadley came over from his home at Boardman to attend Mr. Adams' funeral.

Leon Benefield and Robert Graham of The Dalles are visitors at the home of Ad Inskeep. Mr. Benefield returned to The Dalles Monday. Mr. Graham will remain in Hardman for an indefinite visit.

The high school board met Tuesday evening at the high school. The main business of the evening was the awarding of the wood contract, which went to B. H. Bleakman.

Owen Leathers and Jim Stevens came home from their lookout stations Friday night. They remained over the week end, and returned Sunday evening. Owen will be in charge of the Mattison Butte lookout.

Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald and Lewis moved into Mrs. Corda Saling's house last week. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald have been living in the mountains during the summer. On Tuesday they, with Mrs. Roy Robinson and Creston, went to Boardman for a load of furniture which they had stored there.

Misses Vern McDaniel and Mildred Clary went to Salem Wednesday to give a 4-H demonstration which they had given in Heppner at rodeo time. They returned Monday, reporting a grand time.

The reorganization of the Sunday school took place Sunday afternoon. The new officers are: Superintendent, Mrs. Neal Knighten, assistant superintendent, Joe Stephens; secretary, Jean Leathers; treasurer, Mrs. Stanley Robinson; song leader, Mrs. Neal Knighten; janitors, Nona Inskeep and Juanita Byer, and pianist, Edna Stephens.

Shoppers and visitors in Heppner Saturday were: Mr. and Mrs. Carey Hastings and daughters, Mrs. Ethel McDaniel, Mrs. Carl Leathers, Mrs. Owen Leathers, Misses Lurline Sparks, Oleta Raimey, Maxine McDaniel and Jean Leathers.

The weather at this writing is cloudy with very good indications of rain. There was a slight rainfall Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Salter of Salter Hatcheries, Ione, were Monday business visitors. They reported turning off a nice bunch of chicks this year from their incubators.

CONSUMERS

of Heppner and Morrow County

Spectacular rise in prices of a few commodities has taken place despite assurances from high governmental authority that no scarcity in food stuffs exists. Increased prices reflect only the rise in wholesale costs over which we have no control.

These Independent Merchants of Heppner have not and will not change their policy of reasonable profit margins.

As pointed out by Secretary Wallace, there is an abundance of all kinds of food in this country. Consumers can assist by avoiding uncalled for increase in commodity prices by keeping their purchases on a normal scale. Abnormal buying and hoarding will exhaust retail and wholesale stocks, thus creating an artificial scarcity which will result in abnormally high prices and without compensating benefits to producers.

Adequate governmental machinery exists for stabilizing prices and supplies, and may be called upon if it should be necessary to protect consumers against violent price fluctuations.

We pledge our co-operation with governmental agencies and producers in all efforts to stabilize prices, discourage profiteering, and maintain facilities for orderly food distribution.
