Mustangs Edge Out Fossil in Hard Game

Heppner's Mustangs pulled what looked to be a hopeless game out of the fire in the last few seconds of play at Rodeo field, Friday afternoon, and defeated the more experienced lads from Fossil, 13-12. Richard Hayes, fullback, crashed over for the winning touchdown just 35 seconds before the final gun.

Fossil made her two touchdowns in the first eight minutes of play, via a series of spectacular running and pass plays. It took that long for the greener Mustangs to get their cleats set for the determined defensive that kept the visitors away from pay dirt the remainder of the game. It was not until the final quarter, however, that the Mustangs found their own offensive powers, and repeatedly worked a pass play in which Douglas Drake was on the receiving end, to get into scoring territory. Jack Merrill, right half, packed the pigskin across the line for the first touchdown and Hayes bucked across for the additional point. Try after the second touchdown was forfeited by too much time out. Most of Heppner's reserves saw action.

Next Saturday the Mustangs journey to Pendleton to play the Bucks' second team.

Salvation Army Lass May Have Been Fraud

That the Salvation Army lass who collected funds here during Rodeo may have been a fraud is indicated in the statement of Envoy Lillian Gray McCormick, who says she is the only accredited army solicitor in eastern Oregon. Mrs. McCormick said when here the first of the week that she had no idea who the Rodeo collector may have been.

"You can tell the people that if an extra call is made in Morrow county each year, I will make it. There is no other accredited representative of the army in this district."
