

Model T Derby Makes Debut in Heppner

A large crowd enjoyed Heppner's first Model T derby at Rodeo grounds Sunday afternoon, which, though devoid of spills, contained many thrills as six drivers vied for supremacy of the track. Some outside entries who had been signed failed to come due to Saturday evening rains in their sections and threatening rain here that opened postponement of the event.

It was a sunshiny day and the track was in good condition except at the curve in front of the bandstand where the cars dug out a big rut and gave drivers plenty of difficulty in negotiating the curve.

Jim Lyons of John Day, driving for Ferguson Motor company, took the main racing event. As No. 2 he early passed Jim Shoun, local boy, driving No. 1, then picked up No. 6 to maintain the lead throughout. Shoun stayed in second place until near the final lap when he had to pull out for repairs, letting Jim Benefield of Walla Walla, Braden-Bell driver, take second, and Les Parsons, Lewiston, Idaho, in third finish place. Two balloon races and presentation of the new Ford V-8 were other features. Herb Martin of Walla Walla promoted the event under sponsorship of Heppner post, American Legion.

Auxiliary Plans Drive; Names Workers

The American Legion Auxiliary met Oct. 9 at the home of Helen Cohn. It was decided to conduct a clothes drive now. Anyone having used clothes for adults or children may phone 1172 and the articles will be called for. For the purpose of raising money, a dime plate party was planned. The party will be in late spring. Millie Evans, hospital chairman for last year, received the prize offered by the president for the best grade given at state convention on the local units' questionnaire about the year's work.

Committee chairmen for the year as follows: Americanism, Lera Crawford; child welfare, Sylvia Stone; constitution and by-laws, Sylva Wells Fidac; Martha Dick; hospital, Etta Parker; legislation, Lucy Rodgers; membership, Millie Evans; music, Coramae Ferguson; national defense, Leona Instone; poppy sale, Mae Gilliam; poppy poster, Ruth Tamblin; publicity, Fay Ferguson; radio, Alta Brown.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be an afternoon sewing meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 24, at the home of Lera Crawford.

160 Applications In for Crop Insurance

Federal crop insurance is receiving considerable attention this fall by Morrow county wheat farmers, according to word received by the local AAA office.

Already more than 160 applications have been received and it is expected that more than 50% of Morrow county's wheat acreage will be covered by federal crop insurance before the final closing date of October 31st.

It was pointed out that all farmers who intend seeding winter wheat and are considering crop insurance should make application at the Morrow County Agricultural conservation office not later than October 31 even though they do not intend seeding before that date.

NATIVE SON WEDS

A marriage of interest to many Heppner friends of the family was that of Dr. Joseph Roberts, who took as his bride Miss Cathryn Collins at Saturday nuptials in Portland. Dr. Roberts was born in Heppner and spent several years of his childhood here, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roberts. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lansing E. Kempton at Trinity Episcopal church. Mrs. Roberts is the daughter of Mrs. Alexander W. Collins and Henry W. Collins, formerly of Pendleton. After a wedding trip, Dr. and Mrs. Roberts will be at home in Portland where the young doctor practices.

Harry Proudfoot, president, has announced widespread interest. Committees are at work winding up findings in the league's several fields of research to bring news of latest developments in the industry and recommendations for future policy of growers.

GUARANTORS TAKE OVER

Directors had signed personally, and a hauling bill of $60 to Russell Wright for bringing poles for the corral out of the Ellis ranger station district.

After hearing the financial report, and shouldering the deficit which was termed "easy enough in view of the run-in with Turtles and general conditions," all present voted unanimously that the show go ahead for another year.

When it was revealed, however, that President Aiken considered seven years long enough service for one man, and several directors expressed desire to retire from service, it was thought best to delay next year's organization for two weeks. The meeting to elect directors and perfect organization for next year was announced by President Aiken to be held Monday evening, October 23, at the Elks club.

Sentiment of those present was that everyone interested in Rodeo, and Heppner business men in particular, must attend the 23rd meeting if a show is to be held next year. Probability of having to start with new officers makes careful planning necessary, it was believed.

In expressing his desire to retire from service, President Aiken said it had been a pleasure to serve, and that he had no ill-will toward any one. He said that he could not carry on without personal sacrifice, however, and thought he had done his share. In retiring from leadership, he did not intend to quit Rodeo. "I will do everything in my power to aid my successor," he said.
